—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

CLEMENCEAU is buried beside his father near the ocean. Cannon boomed in Paris, all over France, and in all French colonies, in his honor. He could not hear. The crowd as he desired was kept from his funeral.

He wanted "neither tears nor women" at his deathbed, and no crowd at his funeral. He had been sufficiently bothered by incompetent and ungrateful men during his life.

PRESIDENT HOOVER calls Clemenceau "an advocate of peace." He was that, but it had to be HIS KIND OF PEACE.

In the horror of war, when men were being killed by the million and pacifism appealed to him his reply was "Je Fais La Guerre" "I am making war."

And when he started making war he kept at it until he got the peace that France needed.

IT was because of his constant demand that France be prepared, with a big army, compulsory military service, and the latest weapon always, that France was ready when the time came.

But for Clemenceau, his constant warnings that Germany would attack again, and his demand that France be kept ready, France would have been conquered easily.

AFTER years of steady fighting, many doubting and wavering, there was never a doubt in Clemenceau's mind. He said "if France is invaded, we will retreat to the Pyrenees. And we will fight to the last quarter of an hour, and that quarter of an hour will be ours."

IT was his, he won, and made the peace that suited him, a savage and severe peace. But he had lived through 1870.

POINCARE, former president of France who made Clemenceau prime minister, hearing in a hospital, where he lay dangerously ill, of Clemenceau's death, wrote on a piece of paper Il a sauve la France, "He Saved France." That puts it in three words.

The French called Clemenceau "Father of Victory." The Germans, recognizing facts, call him "The Father of Our Defeat." But for Clemenceau they would have won the war.

CLEMENCEAU'S last book will soon be read all over the world. In it he speaks of those "eternal puzzles." When asked "what of the hereafter?" he had replied "What of the before?"

THE eternal puzzles include three. How did we come here? Why are we here? Whither do we go?

Clemenceau answered the second question with "We are here to fight for our country and for justice," and ignored the others.

A HORRIBLE story of torture and murder comes from Arkansas. A young man of twenty, on the way to be married with a girl 16 years of age, was seized by five young men, tortured, then burned to death, the woman horribly treated.

THOSE accused of the crime include two described as "members of well-known prominent families."

All of them, it appears, are Americans, born here. It is well to mention that, since you hear so much about "foreign crime."

ALL the really important millionaires are planning to continue prosperity. The nation probably will build roads, railroads will order steel, all big business will do what they can. But prosperity depends on the people themselves, and, largely, on their mental condition.

IF they spend their money and buy they will provide work for others.

If they are cheerful, the nation will be cheerful.

All the millionaires, all the great industrialists, all the congresses and legislators cannot do for the people that which they must do for themselves.—WORK AND KEEP THEIR COURAGE.

"THE Women's Patriotic Publishing Company" criticize the State Department for permitting Count Karolyi, distinguished Hungarian, to enter the United States.

The ladies suspect that "Karolyi harbors revolutionary ideas."

HE does indeed, and so did Washington, Jefferson, Franklin and some others.

Those men all harbored revolutionary ideas, and did more. They started a real revolution, carried it through successfully, took the country away from those that were according to law "its rightful owners" and shot many of them.

Patriotic ladies should try not to be silly.

Revolutionary ideas that were needed in the United States in 1776 are needed in Hungary and elsewhere in Europe now.

THE experts of our Army and Navy who call the flying machine "an auxiliary weapon in war" ought to be sent to Manchuria, to see what Rus-

STATE, CITY UNITE FOR CAMPAIGN

One-Week Drive on Motorists Without Inspection Tags Or Proper Cards Started

Seventy-five state highway patrolmen invaded Pittsburgh today for a roundup of motorists without inspection certificates and proper driver or car credentials.

One hundred motorists were afoul the police drive at 2:30 p. m. Many of the violafors were arrested, while others were given tags. In some instances, informations were preferred against them before Alderman Thomas D. Jones, Smithfield and Carson streets.

The state officers, each on a motorcycle, with a city policeman in his side-car, scoured every district seeking those who have ignored the Governor's proclamation to have their automobiles inspected and approved.

Failure to have an inspection sticker entails a fine of $10. City Traffic Inspector Benjamin R. Marshall and Capt. D. E. Miller, of the State Highway Patrol, Greensburg, helped direct the drive. It will continue one week.

$13,200 STOLEN PAY RECOVERED

Of the $15,000 payroll stolen from the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company last Friday by a clerk, Milton Carren, 45, $13,200 was recovered today and four persons were under arrest.

Carren himself was in the hands of Chicago police, awaiting extradition. In Pittsburgh, charges were filed before Alderman Thomas A. Flanigan against Carren's sister-in-law, Mrs. Pauline Weiss, her husband, Sam Weiss, a peddler, and their son-in-law, Henry Joseph, all of Rankin.

The three were charged with receiving stolen goods and perform-

MRS. VERA SCHULKINS

DRUGGIST SHOT IN HOLDUP

A police dragnet was spread today for bandits who last night held up two drug stores, one in which an attendant was shot.

J. A. Schulkins, 29, was in Pittsburgh Hospital as a result of being shot in the mouth by one of two bandits in the pharmacy of his father-in-law, Frank W. Smith, at 7501 Hamilton avenue. The bullet knocked out four of Schulkins' teeth and cut his tongue.

Schulkins and his wife, Mrs. Vera Schulkins, who live over the drug store, were looking after the business during the absence of the Smiths when the robbers entered. Mrs. Schulkins, standing near the cash register, was ordered to remain quiet by one of the men while his accomplice walked into the prescription room in the rear and confronted her husband with a revolver.

The robber, apparently frightened, fired, the bullet striking Schulkins in the mouth. On his way out the assailant grabbed a rifle which lay nearby and with his confederate fled from the store without touching the register.

GET CASH, TOKENS

While their accomplice waited outside, two armed bandits late last night walked into the Oakland Pharmacy, at 3400 Fifth avenue, and after holding three clerks at bay escaped with $206 in cash and $275 worth of street car tokens.

The clerks, Frank Silverheart,

Ex-Italian Air Head's Marriage Annulled

ROME, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—The marriage of Genere Pere Ruggero Piccio, former head of the Italian air service, to Loranda Batchelder, of New Orleans, which occurred in New York in 1920, was annulled by the Rome Court of Appeals today. The court held that the marriage agreement was not spontaneous, and that an element of constraint entered into it at the time.

Gen. Piccio married Miss Batchelder when she was but 18, a student at the Spence School, New York, and he was 35.

Good Christmas Buying Season Forecast

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Foreshadowing an excellent Christmas buying season, the Commerce Department today declared that the autumn expansion of business was well under way.

Despite the crash of the stock market, October business and industry remained at satisfactory levels. Money rates were lower, commodity prices exceptionally steady, employment and wages at high points, inventories low and distributive trades were showing normal expansion, officials asserted.

Department and chain stores reported that retail trade was running well ahead of last year during October and early November. For nine months ending September 30 there was a 2.9 per cent gain reported by 529 department stores in leading cities, over the same period last year.

Chain stores showed gains of 18.3 per cent for September, as compared with the same month last year, while for nine months there was a 25 per cent increase. Wholesale trade for nine months was nearly three per cent greater than last year, about the normal expansion in view of the increase in population and productivity.

Preliminary reports for department store sales in October indicated a gain of three per cent over the same month last year.

Guest Is Seriously Burned As Leaking Gas Ignites; Crowd Rushes to Scene

A gas explosion that rocked McKees Rocks today blew out the third floor wall of the Fidelity Hotel, George and Munson avenues, and seriously burned William Pobol, 50, a guest.

Pobol was taken to the Ohio Valley Hospital. His condition is reported as serious.

The blast, believed to have been started from leaking gas, shattered windows in the neighborhood and rocked nearby buildings.

The debris from the hole in the three-story structure was scattered over the street. No one else in the rooming house was injured, firemen stated.

Firemen extinguished an incipient blaze and aided the injured man to the hospital. Pobol, who had been ill, was found sitting at the side of his bed with a cigarette in his hand, according to Tom Sabinski, proprietor of the hotel.

Ambulances from the nearby hospital, police and thousands of residents of the district flocked to the spot.

CHILD RETURNS FROM SHRINE

Six-year-old Lois Teets, crippled since birth, returned to her home at 3639 Liberty avenue today from the "miracle grave" of Father Power in Malden, Mass., feeling "much improved."

Lois' left foot has been crippled. She has been able to walk only on the ball of the foot. Now she reports that this condition is partly remedied.

Her father, Police Sergeant James Teets, said that he would take Lois back to the grave when a proposed shrine is built there, hoping for further improvement.

Blind Michael DeRosa, East End Republican leader, returned from the grave after making three visits, but reported no improvement in his condition.

WALSH REPLIES TO DRY CRITIC

Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh, today answered the criticism of Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington, who charged last week that city police refused to co-operate and in several instances obstructed prohibition raids.

Walsh's answer was to invite Pennington to the trial board hearing of December 4, and as well order three police inspectors to investigate the charges and report to him.

Among the accusations the federal director made were:

That when hoodlums shot up a federal car in front of the Plaza Building, police twirled their night clubs and failed to interfere.

That Pittsburgh police on the whole refused to co-operate in the enforcing of the dry laws.

The complete investigation which Walsh ordered today was assigned to Police Inspectors James N. Hoey, downtown, Joseph Elsner, "Strip," and Charles Faulkner, North Side.

"I expect to get a complete and thorough report," Walsh said, "and if Director Pennington's charges are proven the officers, whether patrolmen or executives, will be suspended and ordered to appear before the trial board.

"Pittsburgh police have instruction to co-operate and their failure will merit drastic punishment."

Supt. Walsh returned to his office today after a 10-day absence, due to illness. He was in Mercy Hospital and Cambridge Springs, suffering from a severe cold.

The offerings were sent the President by admirers.

GIRL REFUELING FLIERS FAIL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—(INS.)—Failure to complete a midair refueling early today ended the attempt of Bobby Trout and Elinor Smith to lower the world's endurance flight record.

The girl fliers brought their biplane to a safe landing after being aloft 18 hours 28 minutes.

Poor lights on the "nurse" ship, they explained, made it impossible to effect a refueling contact in the early morning darkness. They announced their intention of making another attempt shortly.

They took off yesterday at 8:29 a. m.

VARE ACTS TO STALL WILSON

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Francis Shunk Brown, counsel for Senator-elect William S. Vare, said today that Vare had made a demand on the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections that it withhold its report on the contest started by William S. Wilson, Democratic contender for the seat, until a recount has been made of the vote cast in 31 counties of the state in which Vare alleges Wilson benefited from fraud and irregularities.

Should the request be granted, Brown said, it would have the effect of delaying the report indefinitely.

Vare's demand for a recount was made directly to Senator Charles M. Waterman, chairman of the sub-committee of the Committee on Elections and Privileges, who had written to Vare asking if he desired such a recount.

Senator Waterman's letter to Vare indicated, it was said, that all other phases of the sub-committee's work are nearly completed.

RESTITUTION BY DEC. 1, HOPE OF COURT

New Chance to Make 'Big Deal,' Pay Prosecutors Given Former Coal Man

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 26.—J. V. Thompson, one-time millionaire coal baron, captured on a train at Altoona last night after a hunt of nearly two years, escaped commitment to jail here today through leniency of the court.

Judge J. W. Dawson, in Orphans Court, paroled Thompson on two contempt of court charges, in custody of his attorney, J. K. Spurgeon, with liberty to proceed to New York, where, the court was informed, he was trying to complete a coal-land deal of magnitude.

He must appear December 21 for further disposition of the contempt charges.

FREED ON BOND

On a charge of embezzlement, the aged former banker retained freedom by posting $20,000 bond.

The contempt charges resulted from Thompson's failure to make payment of $125,000 to heirs of the Emma Messmore estate on the plea of "poverty."

The embezzlement charges grew out of Thompson's alleged misuse of $200,000 of the funds of the late John Niccolls, of Uniontown, father of Lyda Niccolls, Princess of Thurn and Taxis, and a niece of the one-time millionaire. He was indicted last June.

CREDITORS MERCIFUL

"Undoubtedly the Messmore and Niccolls families are more interested in securing the amounts due them than in seeing Mr. Thompson incarcerated," said Judge Dawson, when Thompson was brought before him.

"I hope," continued the court, addressing Thompson, "that by December 21 we can put everything behind us in these cases and everything will be settled satisfactorily."

Counsel for the Messmore and Niccolls families made no objection to Thompson's release.

DELAY MYSTERY DISPELLED

Thompson arrived at the Fayette County courthouse at 9:30 o'clock this morning in custody of County Detective A. A. Downing, dispelling mystery that had veiled his whereabouts.

The former coal magnate had been turned over to Downing at Mt. Pleasant by Constable George Zemo and Deputy Sheriff Ernest Lape, who arrested Thompson on a Pennsylvania train at Altoona.

Zemo, Lape and Frank Riley, former Pittsburgh newspaperman, a traveling companion of Thompson, arrived here early today, but Downing and Thompson failed to arrive until many hours after they were expected.

Thompson was in Waynesburg over Sunday, it was learned today. He left Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon on a Pennsylvania Railroad day coach for New York in connection, his friends here say, with a 32,000-acre coal deal in Greene County involving $6,000,000.

CAUGHT ON TIP

Congressman Stephen G. Porter, co-counsel for the Princess of Thurn and Taxis in Washington, is said to have received a tip from Pittsburgh by telephone that Thompson was en route east on the train. He called his associate here, Attorney Charles A. Tuit, who notified District Attorney Adams.

Constable Zemo was assigned to arrest the fugitive former capitalist. He and Deputy Sheriff Lape had about given up their

Rockefeller Autographing His Gift Dimes Now

This became known today when Wilbur Campbell, bellboy at the Walt Whitman Hotel, exhibited a new dime given him yesterday by the oil magnate. Rockefeller and his son were at the hotel for a short time, remaining for luncheon.

Rockefeller's hand touched Campbell's when the latter opened the door. The bellboy found a shiny dime in his palm, but was amazed when he saw that a bit of blue ribbon was attached to it and bearing the autograph of John D. Rockefeller. So far as could be learned no other employe received a dime so marked. Campbell is looking for a small frame that will provide a fitting setting for the gift.

TWO PITTSBURGH WOMEN PERILED BY TRAIN WRECKER

BANDIT ROBS ONE, OTHER FLEES

Lone Gunman Eludes Posses After Holdup of Derailed Train in Old-West Style

International News Service.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 26.—Posses today were searching the countryside for a youthful bandit who last night wrecked and robbed a crack Union Pacific passenger train three miles east of Cheyenne.

Sixty passengers were slightly shaken up by the bumping of cars over the tracks which had spread as a result of spikes being removed by the bandit. Among the robber's victims was Mrs. W. B. Viets, of Pittsburgh, who lost $80. Another Pittsburgh woman, Mrs. Dora Witt, left the train during the holdup and saved her valuables.

RAIL LOOSENED

The train was a Pacific coast through train from Chicago. It was due to reach Cheyenne at 8:45, and would have picked up a Denver Pullman there. The locomotive passed over a rail loosened by the robber without mishap, dragging a plunging train behind it. The seven day coaches and Pullman cars left the rails and bumped along the ties, coming to a stop and leaning against an embankment along the right side of the right-of-way.

Members of the train crew raced both ways down the track, flagging trains which threatened to plow into the derailed cars.

Working alone in the manner of an old-West movie-thriller bandit, the young desperado went rapidly through the train, took what was at hand and disappeared before most of the passengers realized what had happened.

His loot was estimated at $500 by R. E. Brooks, general superintendent of the railroad. The highest single loss reported was $100.

Climbing aboard the observation, the young holdup man passed up the aisle, commanding all who were awake to "come on, dish it out and shake it up. I'm busy." He spoke in a deep, rough voice, passengers said.

He appeared nervous and in a hurry and disappeared in a few moments.

"I've got a wife and two kids at home and the railroad won't give me work," some of the women passengers quoted him as saying.

MANHUNT BEGINS

Sheriff G. H. Romsa and all peace officers in Southern Wyoming, Northern Colorado and Western Kansas joined in a widespread manhunt.

Railroad officials pointed out that the bandit's method of wrecking the train and his words that "The railroad won't give me work," indicated that the lone gunman was a former railroad employe.

In wrecking the train he removed the spikes and coupling plates, but left the rail in place, in this way failing to disturb the block signal which would have warned the train and crew of trouble.

Mrs. Viets, 2333 Columbia avenue, Swissvale, is the widow of Willis Viets, chemist for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. He was killed recently in an automobile accident. Mrs. Viets was on the way to Portland, Ore., to meet relatives, with whom she expects to spend the winter in Southern California.

Telephone Company Officials to Meet

A two-day conference of the heads of the commercial department of the Bell Telephone Company in the western part of Pennsylvania is scheduled to open today in the Hotel Schenley. The conference was called by C. R. Freehafer, general commercial manager of the company. The accomplishments of this year will be reviewed and the plans for next year's activities discussed.

JAPAN BANKS ON SUBMARINES

TOKIO, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Several Japanese newspapers today published details generally considered to represent the government's desire for the London naval conference in January.

Three chief principles of the Japanese program are said to be actual reduction instead of limitation of armaments, a 10-10-7 ratio for auxiliary ships, and opposition to the abolition of, or drastic reduction in, submarine strength.

SEEK EQUALITY IN SUBS

Other points include a demand for parity in submarines with Great Britain and the United States on the basis of 80,000 tons, with a maximum unit of 2,000. Submarines under 600 tons would be exempt from limitation.

Japan would like to have 70 per cent of the American strength in eight-inch gun cruisers, to limit capital ships to 25,000 tons displacement and 14-inch guns, to restrict aircraft carriers to 20,000 tons.

ITALY STUMBLING BLOCK

PARIS, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Premier Tardieu met with ministerial colleagues today to seek a solution for the question of Italy's demand for absolute parity with France at the forthcoming London naval conference.

$31,000 Estate Left To Cousin, Nieces

The will of Lucy B. Rhodes, of Pittsburgh, filed today, distributes an estate of $31,000, of which $10,000 goes to a cousin, Mary R. Van Voorhis, with the remainder in life trust to Lucy M. sians are doing with flying machines there.

There is nothing "auxiliary" about the work that Russian flying machines do.

THE Chinese take refuge in a mine, and Russian flying machines kill all of them. Perhaps a little poison gas helped.

It is a question as to who owns a Manchurian railroad. The Russians settle that by blowing up both ends of the railroad, and its railroad stations. WITH FLYING MACHINES.

SOME day this nation will wake up and realize what the flying machine means. Let us hope that it will not be waked by flying machines from another country, operating overhead.

IN the old days, Russia, fighting Chinese, would have sent hundreds of thousands of men, more or less badly fed and clothed, to march, and be shot.

Now Russia sends 12 Soviet planes to bomb the Chinese headquarters at Khailar, and immediately the residents are ordered to leave and the city is on fire. THAT'S MODERN WAR.

of 1842 Center avenue; Ben Harris, of 730 Broughton street, and William Gettis, of 1030 Lilac street, were lined up behind one of the counters. While one of the robbers covered them with a revolver, his companion went to the register, looted it of $168, and then proceeded to another part of the store where he took the street car tokens valued at $275.

They then searched the clerks and stole $15 from Harris and Gettis and $8 from Silverhart.

SEEN BY SCORES

M. Cohen, proprietor of a grocery store at 2801 Wylie avenue, was robbed of $40 by two Negroes who entered his store with drawn revolvers. The cash was taken from the register.

Walking on the Twenty-second Street Bridge last night, Ethel Cherba, of 152 Hazelwood avenue, was accosted by a man who attempted to grab her purse. He was frightened away by a pedestrian.

THIRD DIVORCE ACTION FACES WALTER HILL

Former Follies Beauty Files Suit Against Youngest Son Of West Railroad Builder

LIVINGSTON, Mont., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Another divorce action, the third in the stormy marital career of Walter Hill, youngest son of the late James J. Hill, railroad magnate, was recorded in district court here today.

In the divorce suit Mrs. Hill sought to obtain $5,000 temporary alimony, $5,000 monthly permanent alimony, $35,000 attorneys' fees, and $750,000 set aside from the Hill estate for redress pending settlement of the suit.

WILL FIGHT SUIT

Although the papers in the case were immediately withdrawn from the court files and Mrs. Hill's attorneys refused to divulge their contents, James F. O'Conner, attorney for the Hill interests, declared they contained certain allegations that "would not pass unchallenged."

Among the grounds known to be named in the complaint was that Mr. Hill's "attitude toward liquor made life unbearable to the plaintiff."

With the filing of the divorce complaint it appeared the third romance of the son of James Hill, known for his works in the Northwest as "The Empire Builder," was ended. Walter Hill married Mildred Richardson, characterized by Florenz Ziegfeld, the theatrical producer, as "a perfect American beauty," just 10 minutes after he obtained a divorce from his second wife, Pauline Gillison Hill. That was on May 18, 1927.

Mrs. Hill's father is W. Earl Richardson, Saskatchewan financier.

FIRST SUIT DROPPED

Before the present divorce suit there was another breach in the romance of the Follies beauty and the wealthy westerner. In October, 1927, just five months after their marriage, Mrs. Hill filed suit in Butte asking separation. The complaint declared that while Hill had the manners of "a Park avenue boulevardier," since the wedding he had been "wild as the Montana scenery." The suit was dropped when a reconciliation was effected.

HASTINGS, Minn., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Guardian Angels Church, built originally 75 years ago with the aid of Sioux Indians, was the scene for the wedding today of Louis W. Hill, Jr., of St. Paul, and Miss Dorothy Virginia Millett, of Hastings.

Mr. Hill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hill, of St. Paul, and a grandson of the late James J. Hill, founder of the Great Northern Railway. He has been learning the railroad business working in various departments of the road. Miss Millett is the daughter of a pioneer Minnesota family.

CRIMES LAID TO NIGHT RIDERS

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Sheriff Sam Johnson, of Stone County, declared today that a "reign of terror" had been created in the St. James community in order to seal the lips of citizens regarding a series of crimes by a band of night riders that culminated in the torturing and burning alive of a young farm laborer.

"Every one who knew anything about the slaying of Connie Franklin and an attack on his sweetheart was terrorized by a band of men who threatened any one who gave information to us," he said.

Nine men are being held—five on first degree murder charges and four on morality charges.

The girl's account of the torturing, mutilation and then burning alive of her sweetheart was substantiated by a written statement of a deaf boy.

Both were quoted by Sheriff Johnson as saying a band of men accosted the girl and Franklin on a lonely mountain road the night of March 10. Franklin was beaten and then tortured, she said, and after he fainted from the pain the men, thinking him dead, built a fire of logs and placed his body on it.

hunt when they failed to find Thompson in the Pullman coaches. As a precaution they entered the day coaches and discovered him.

Thompson, 75, one-time banker and coal operator, failed about 15 years ago. He reported assets worth about $70,000,000.

CREDITORS GET LITTLE

Thompson said the contempt charge against him was "absolutely unfounded," the result of a "misunderstanding" and he was "confident it will be adjusted."

Litigation brought into being with Thompson's bankruptcy nearly 15 years ago is now near final solution, with but one payment to creditors remaining to liquidate his estate. Unsecured creditors have received 12 per cent of their claims, and it is said the balance left for distribution is about one-tenth of 1 per cent.

STATES GIVE SUPPORT TO HOOVER

Pennsylvania Leads Response With Improvement Plan To Cost $155,000,000

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—President Hoover took a breathing spell today from the business conferences which have occupied him almost exclusively for the past 10 days, as he sought ways and means to overcome the depressing effect of a giddy stock market, and to insure a winter of good business.

Figuratively, Mr. Hoover leaned back in his chair and surveyed these accomplishments.

1—Federal and state governments are co-operating in the greatest public buildings and public improvements program ever attempted—a program that will call for the expenditure of well over $1,000,000,000.

2—Railroads have been energized to proceed with a $1,000,000,000 program of expansion and equipment improvement.

UTILITIES EXPANSION

3—The utilities interests of the country have in the making expansion and improvement projects that will call for the expenditure of almost another $1,000,000,000 during the next year.

4—The menace of strikes and extensive layoffs has been removed by the promise of industrial leaders that there will be no wage-cutting and of labor leaders that there will be no wage agitation while the business situation is uncertain.

5—Agriculture, long a sore spot in the general business set-up, gives definite promise of getting more firmly on its feet than at any time since the post-war deflation period. The new farm legislation has had a vitaliizng and steadying effect, and grain prices are improving.

6—Money is easy and becoming easier, assuring ample credit facilities for business growth and expansion.

SHIPBUILDING PROGRAM

There have been other developments contributing to the main currents of renewed confidence, such as the government's slashing $160,000,000 from federal taxes, the government's embarkation upon a $250,000,000 shipbuilding program, Henry Ford's announcement that he is raising wages instead of retrenching, and others, but they have gone into the general mosaic that Mr. Hoover has attempted to exhibit to the country.

From now on, it is up to business itself to work out its own salvation, in the viewpoint of the administration. For nearly two weeks, every department of government, from the White House down, has been concerned with but this single problem of energizing business, and the governmental agencies have done about all they can consistently do. The government cannot manufacture the goods nor sell them; it can only point the way.

ONE MORE CONFERENCE

There is but one more conference of a major character in view. Next week, a few days after the new Congress assembles in regular session, several hundred outstanding leaders of industry and business are coming to Washington at the instance of the United States Chamber of Commerce to consider the establishment of a permanent "business Council," the purpose of which is to act as an advisory body in the carrying on of the policies initiated by the President. Julius Barnes is acting as Mr. Hoover's chief lieutenant in this undertaking, but the President himself will open the parley and outline his ideas of its future activity.

The depressing effect on American shipyards, caused by further disarmament moves, has been considerably nullified by assurance of greatly increased commercial ship building.

Stage, Screen Stars Join In Hitchcock Services

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 26.—(INS.)—Stage and film players assisted members of the Masquers Club today in arranging the last honors for Raymond Hitchcock, veteran star of the stage, who will be buried tomorrow morning.

The body of the famous musical comedy player will be cremated following the services at the Hollywood Cemetery chapel. According to present plans the ashes will be sent to Auburn, N. Y., the birthplace of Hitchcock.

De Wolf Hopper, close friend of Hitchcock, is expected to arrive here in time to give the eulogy, it was announced by Sam Hardy.

Pallbearers chosen for the ceremony include Richard Carle, Taylor Holmes, Robert Edeson, Raymond Hubbell, Ed Proddy, Wallace Beery, Sam Hardy and Jacques Pierre. All are stage friends of the dead actor.

Following a meeting of the Masquers late yesterday, it was announced that the Rev. M. Mangasrian, father of the widow, an Armenian clergyman, is to give a sermon at the services.

Death came to the famous actor Sunday night following a seven months' illness from heart disease and asthma. He was confined to a Chicago hospital for some time. Hitchcock had planned to appear on the stage here in the near future in a new musical comedy.

The noted comedian died in the arms of his wife, known on the stage as Flora Zabelle, as he started to leave their automobile at their Benedict Canyon home.

WOMAN'S BILL TO REOPEN CONGRESS PROHIBITION BATTLE

MRS. KAHN WILL PRESS FIGHT

Determined to Push Measure For Indemnification of 'Dry Bullet' Victims

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The first big gun in the annual congressional battle over prohibition will be fired upon the reconvening of Congress next week by a woman—Mrs. Florence Kahn, Republican Congresswoman from California—when she demands approval of a bill to indemnify families of innocent victims of dry bullets.

Mrs. Kahn will open her campaign for the legislation with a demand for hearings by the House Judiciary Committee and will carry the offensive to the House floor with an appeal for support.

WILL PUSH BILL

Having voiced her opinion that the government should pay damages to families of innocent victime of "dry bullets," following the killing of Henry Virkula, in Northern Minnesota by customs officers several months ago, Mrs. Kahn has returned for the new session more determined than ever to press her bill to enactment.

"My proposed bill would give $25,000 damages to the dependents of innocent victims of federal prohibition enforcement officers, who have already killed scores of people without the slightest excuse," said Mrs. Kahn.

"I am not seeking to protect the law-breaker or his family, however sorry I may be for the plight which families of law-breakers often must face. But I do think that a great government should expect its officers to exercise common sense in their duties, and the government should be ready to make amends to the families of persons who are made destitute by the failure of officers to conduct themselves as officers should.

CITES OTHER KILLINGS

"There have been killings since the adjournment of the regular session of Congress last summer, and the belief that the situation will continue in the future makes me more determined than ever to push my bill."

Mrs. Kahn divulged she has received many abusive letters since her proposal first became known. Many persons who have written her are under the erroneous impression that she seeks to protect law-breakers, she said, adding that her sole aim is the aid of the families of innocent victims. She has received many letters commending her for her proposal.

AGENTS NOT INCLUDED

Suggestions have been received, she said, that the bill also provide for indemnification of families of prohibition officers slain while enforcing the law. They have not been included, she said, because they suffer in the line of duty, and, like the law-breaker, know what chances they are taking when they accept government service.

Mrs. Kahn is expected to receive aid from others of the "feminine bloc" of the House. Three members of the bloc are strongly opposed to prohibition, three favor it, and the seventh member is non-commital. Mrs. Kahn, Mrs. Norton (Dem.), of New Jersey, and Mrs. Pratt (Rep.), of New York, are "wet." Mrs. Oldfield (Dem.), of Arkansas; Mrs. Owen (Dem.), of Florida, and Mrs. McCormick (Dem.), of Illinois, are regarded as "dry." Mrs. Rogers (Rep.), of Massachusetts, has contended herself with supporting law enforcement.

Pa. Plane Builders Get Navy Contract

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(INS.)—The Navy Department has contracted with the Keystone Aircraft Corporation, Bristol, Pa., to construct 18 "flying boats" of the "VP" type with landing gear at a total cost of $1,670,829.45.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of naval aeronautics, expects delivery within the next 30 and 240 days.

STEEL OFFICIAL TECH SPEAKER

Blaming mob psychology for the recent market crash, Myron C. Taylor addressed the undergraduates of Carnegie Institute of Technology at the celebration of Carnegie Day today.

Taylor, chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation, deplored the recent financial crisis. He likened the wave of speculation in the past year to a "locomotive, driven at full speed along a busy line, headed for certain disaster," and the resultant decline in values to a "retreat."

Taylor spoke at some length of Andrew Carnegie and the institute he founded in Pittsburgh, his adopted city.

On the program in Carnegie Music Hall were the awarding of scholarships and fellowships and elections to Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society, and Alpha Tau, honorary fraternity, announced by Dr. Baker.

Former Official Dies in His Home

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—George W. Johnson, 73, former West Brownsville street commissioner, died suddenly at his home yesterday following a five-day illness of pneumonia. He leaves his wife and daughter at home, and a son, Edgar F. Johnson, of Latrobe.

COLLEGE OUSTS DRINKERS

DETROIT, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—It was learned today that "several" students of the University of Detroit have been expelled as the result of disorders which occurred in East Lansing a week ago last Saturday following the annual football game between Michigan State College and the University of Detroit.

The Rev. John P. McNichols, president, declined to give the exact number expelled or their names, saying "the boys are disgraced enough now by being dismissed, and I think that is punishment enough."

Meanwhile reports from East Lansing quoted Joseph F. Cox, dean of the agriculture department of State College, and chairman of the Michigan State Athletic Council, as saying the liquor question remained the chief problem for the athletic boards of the two schools to consider in discussing whether athletic relations will be continued.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—With the 1929 gridiron season virtually a part of history, Commissioner Doran said today the Prohibition Bureau had left the question of enforcement at college football games entirely in the hands of local administrators and that headquarters here was without reports on the subject.

He asserted that it was not the policy of the bureau to advise agents to attend the football contests unless requested to do so by the college authorities.

Neither the commissioner nor other officials of the prohibition unit had any comment on press dispatches telling of drinking at the Detroit-Michigan State College game at East Lansing; the raid by 20 agents at Columbia, Mo., the site of the University of Missouri, nor on the remarks by Mayor Ralph S. Bauer, of Lynn, Mass., who said he saw much drinking at the Harvard-Yale contest.

HEATH CLEARED OF WIFE'S DEBT

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(INS.)—For the second time within a few weeks, Sir James Heath, multi-millionaire industrial magnate, today defeated efforts of tradespeople attempting to sue him for debts incurred by his wife, Lady Mary Heath, famous aviatrix.

The court returned a judgment in Sir James' favor in actions brought by two London dressmaking firms for $1,400, said to be due from Lady Heath for gowns made for her trip to America.

While holding Sir James was not liable, the court returned a judgment against Lady Heath for the entire amount claimed.

Queen of Belgium Stricken With Chill

BRUSSELS, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Queen Elizabeth of Belgium was confined to her room today suffering a chill. She was unable to attend the memorial service for the late Count and Countess of Flanders, at which King Albert and other members of the royal family were present.

CHINA BEGS LEAGUE TO HALT RUSS

Soviet Army Sweeping East Into Manchuria; Mongol Army Fleeing in Disorder

NANKING, China, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—The council of the Chinese government today addressed an appeal both to the League of Nations and to individual signatories of the Kellogg peace pact to take steps to halt and punish the Russian Soviet "invasion" of Chinese territory. The invasion was termed a deliberate violation of the anti-war pact.

The various appeals were in identical language and were sent Monday. They declared that while the Chinese government has always remained on the defensive, despite repeated attacks, the Soviet Union has without declaration of war invaded China, occupied Chinese cities, and "massacred innocent Chinese citizens in cold blood."

The note concludes expressing the hope the signatories to the anti-war pact will take appropriate steps to stop and punish this deliberate violation."

CHINESE ROUTED

PEKING, Nov. 26.—(INS.)—A powerful Red army is sweeping eastward into Manchuria driving the demoralized Chinese forces relentlessly before it.

American Consul Hanson today was informed that Russian airplanes have extended their operations as far into Manchuria as Bukhudhu, where the leaders of the retreating defenders are attempting to concentrate their forces.

TROOPS ADVANCE

The Russian infantry and artillery are now reported to have advanced within easy marching distance of the foothills of the Kinghan mountains.

It is feared here the Soviet advance will continue along the Chinese Eastern railway until Tsitsihar and Harbin have been taken.

Reports from Harbin tell of the arrival of thousands of refugees from the area already encompassed by the Soviet forces who brought with them sorrowful accounts of privation and suffering.

Widespread looting and plundering by marauding groups of the retreating Chinese Army were reported.

4 FLEE JAIL AT WAYNESBURG

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Nov. 26.—Between 4 and 5 a. m. today somebody telephoned Sheriff Arno McClellan and told him that four prisoners had escaped from the county jail here.

The sheriff, who had been sleeping in his home, which is part of the jail building, went to the cell floor and verified the report. Four men had escaped.

The prisoners selected a most propitious time to escape. Today, or tomorrow, the county grand jury is to inspect the 70-year-old jail to decide whether Greene County needs a new one. The county commissioners already have taken an option on a 400-acre farm on which to build a prison farm.

RIP UP FLOOR

The prisoners, two of whom were from Braddock, escaped by ripping up rotted boards in one end of the cell floor. They dropped into the basement, strolled to the furnace room and walked out.

The other 30 prisoners in the jail refused to join the escape.

The sheriff's informant refused to supply his name, but told McClellan that the prisoners had asked him to drive them out of town. He refused.

STATE POLICE IN HUNT

State and Waynesburg police are searching for the prisoners.

Overcrowded conditions were blamed for the escape. The jail was built to accommodate 10 prisoners in the Civil War period.

The escaped prisoners are Dominick Russi, 54, and Tom Aralla, 36, of Braddock, held on robbery charges; George Greenwood, 29, of Jefferson, Pa., charged with bigamy, and James A. Burroughs, of Buckhannon, W. Va., charged with false pretense.

MISSOURI RAIDS HIT 4 COUNTIES

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Six weeks of preparations ended last night when 20 prohibition agents descended on Central Missouri in an effort to dry up the supply of liquor in Columbia, seat of the State University, and Jefferson City, the state capital.

Thirty-six men were arrested and a quantity of alleged illicit liquors confiscated in the simultaneous raids staged in four counties. Included in the net was a local druggist, whose store is adjacent to the campus and a popular meeting point.

Rum Seized in Raid On N.Y. Banker Club

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—The New York Herald Tribune today says it has just been learned that the Block Hall Club, an exclusive luncheon club in the financial district, was raided on November 6 by city police who seized five quarts of liquor.

The club, housed in a seven-story building, was opened in 1928 and was said to have cost $500,000. Many prominent men of banking houses in the section are among its 300 members.

Bridge Branded Lowest Human Degradation

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—(INS.)—"Playing bridge is the lowest depth to which the human being can fall."

Bridge "hounds" learned with dismay today of this denunciation by Prof. Robert Emmons Rogers, who gained notoriety by a commencement address in which he advised college graduates to be "snobs" and to "marry the boss' daughter."

Launching an university extension course on books at the state house, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor urged his listeners to "tune into a book," like the tuning of a radio, and ridiculed those who say novel reading is a waste of time.

RESIGNATION REFUSED TO DR. M'EWAN

Third Presbyterian Church Votes to Retain Pastor By Unanimous Action

By a unanimous vote, the congregation of the Third Presbyterian Church has refused to accept the resignation of its pastor, the Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan.

As Dr. McEwan had requested the congregation to confer with him regarding the [illegible] ing the Pittsburgh Presbytery to dissolve the relationship, the refusal of the congregation to grant his request places future action up to the pastor who has served the church continuously for [illegible] years.

Dr. McEwan

The Rev. Dr. J. M. Gaston, general secretary of the Board of Missions For Freedmen of the Presbyterian Church, presided at the congregational meeting. Dr. Gaston said that Dr. McEwan's only reason for resigning was that he had reached the age of 70. His congregation, therefore, told him in so many words that he was not too old to preach and voted to keep him on the job.

Dr. McEwan was recently elected chairman of the combined board of Princeton Theological Seminary, to which board he had been elected a member before presenting his resignation to the members of his flock.

The Third Presbyterian Church, which is at Fifth and Negley avenues, has a membership of 2,600 and has spent more than $4,000,000 in church construction and benevolent work.

OUTSTANDING PASTOR

Dr. McEwan last June presented his resignation to the church, it coming as a great surprise. He believed he had reached the age where he should retire from active service in the ministry. Dr. McEwan who is one of the outstanding ministers of the Presbyterian Church is expected to present his views to the church board in the near future. The board had unanimously recommended to the members of the congregation that his resignation be rejected and this action was upheld without a dissenting voice.

SUITS ASKS FOR $1,290,000

The Pipe Thread Protector Company of Rochester, Pa., has filed suit in the United States District Court against the Colona Manufacturing Company of Monaca, the Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt Company, its successor, and R. T. Eastell, Benjamin Armsworthy, J. B. Tonkin, F. C. Masten and F. E. Haskins, as individuals and as officers, directors and stockholders of the Colona Manufacturing Company.

The Pipe Thread Protector Company asks $1,290,000 damages, saying the defendants ruined its business by telling its customers that if they bought its products they would become involved in suits for infringement of patent rights.

West View Grants Building Permits

Permits have been issued by C. A. McClain, borough clerk of West View to M. A. Small for a two-story brick veneer dwelling at 130 Bellevue avenue, to cost $7,500 and to L. J. Meinert for a two-story brick and tile dwelling, 163 Montclair avenue, to cost $7,500.

WORLD HIKER VISITS HERE

LEONARD V. PARKER, 20

Leonard V. Parker, 20, of New York City, tourist extraordinary, who says he has 17,585 walking and [illegible] miles to his credit since August 25, last, trekked into Pittsburgh Wednesday, paid his respects to the Golden Triangle and left for a Thanksgiving dinner which will be served him in Perth Amboy, N. J., Thursday. A sister, living there, will play hostess to her roving brother.

TO HIKE WITH BRIDE

After he spends the winter in Florida, Parker, who was born in Sweden, will turn westward to Little Rock, Ark., where he will meet his fiancee. Both will walk and ride back to New York City and then sail to Gustaf, Sweden, his home, to be married. On their honeymoon the pair will visit every country in Europe, Northern Africa and part of Asia. A short sojourn to South America and Cuba will complete the tour.

Since he was 7 years old Parker has been traveling over the globe. There are few countries he has not been in. Credentials prove his contention.

In a few years, Parker says, he will retire and write a book on his experiences if he can find a publisher.

CLAIMS RECORD TRAMP

He carries a 60-pound pack and despite the fact he has ridden thousands of miles in automobiles, is unable to drive one. He eats when he can and works at intervals to replenish his larder. Among his more or less picturesque jobs have been night club waiter, entertainer, dish washer, steel worker and handy man. In summer he sleeps in parks, along the road and in farmhouses. He lends his presence to police station cells and flop houses in winter.

Parker met his fiancee in Little Rock while passing through there. He claims a record for walking the longest distance to fill a date. Several times he has hiked from New York to see "the girl friend," as he describes her.

At present Parker is studying geography, the marvels of nature and the psychology of people.

TARIFF CHANCE DIM, REED SAYS

"I am confident there will be no tariff legislation this winter," United States Senator David A. Reed declared yesterday. He intends to leave Pittsburgh tonight to attend the funeral of Senator Warren, of Wyoming. The senator would not express an opinion on the chances of Senator-elect William S. Vare being seated.

Regarding the tariff he said that he was satisfied that the House never will accept most of the amendments made to the bill by the Senate and that the Senate hardly would recede from its position sufficiently to reach an agreement with the House.

DEALER SEEKS REFUND OF FEE

Attorney J. M. Wright has asked Council to order the return of $400 paid by his client, H. R. Hirshowitz, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., for a transient merchant's license during last July and August.

Hirshowitz obtained a temporary lease on property formerly occupied by the J. G. Bennett Company at 441-443 Wood street to dispose of the stock of that company after bankruptcy proceedings.

Wright explained that his client later decided to occupy the premises permanently and therefore should not be compelled to pay the license fee demanded of a transient merchant.

New Income Tax Petitions Meets Favor Here

The new form of petition for the downward revision of the federal tax on earned incomes is meeting with favor here since it embodies a resolution for a reduction of 50 per cent in the tax rate on earned incomes below the rate for unearned incomes.

Many persons are signing the petitions in the Sun-Telegraph and sending them to this office. They are forwarded immediately to the proper authorities in Washington.

The resolution:

To His Excellency, the President of the United States of America:

To His Excellency, the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America:

To the Honorable, the Congress of the United States of America:

Whereas, the earned income of an individual is derived from his labor and creative faculties, which are subject to rigid limitations, fluctuations and serious depreciation, while the income from property is a permanent and stable income, it seems inequitable to tax earned incomes on the same basis as incomes from property and invested capital without taking depreciation into consideration; and

Whereas, an earned income is the measure of value of services rendered by the worker to the community and an unearned income is the measure of value of the protection and other benefits received by an individual of the community; and

Whereas, to tax earned incomes heavily is to penalize thrift and industry and is a direct tax on labor and tends to retard enterprise and achievement, therefore

Be it resolved, that we, the undersigned, call these facts to the attention of the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and Congress, in order to secure a reduction of 50 per cent in the tax rate on earned incomes below the tax rate on unearned incomes.

Ruth Suckow's Latest Novel

"THE Kramer Girls," a story of three sisters, is an achievement in fiction. Ruth Suckow, one of America's ablest novelists, gives us a novel that will be widely discussed. With its searching analysis of feminine character, its vivid portrayal of small-town life, its keen understanding of girlhood, it is a story all women will want to read in—

KIN TO CONTEST BINDLEY WILL

A contest of the will of the late Mary M. Jane Bindley, of the Schenley Apartments, disposing of an estate worth $3,847,443.72, the bulk to charity, was initiated when the document was offered for probate late yesterday in the office of Register of Wills Joseph N. Mackrell.

Two caveats against probate were filed, one by Attorney G. Dixon Shrum on behalf of Attorney John H. Musgrave, and the other on behalf of Jennie and May Musgrave. The Musgraves are cousins of Mrs. Bindley. Mrs. Bindley was the widow of the late Edwin Bindley, an executive of the Pittsburgh Steel Company.

While the provisions of the will were not disclosed at the register's office, it is understood that more than $3,000,000 was left by Mrs. Bindley to charitable uses, including $50,000 to the University of Pittsburgh, and that Attorney Musgrave was given $750,000.

Testimony of United States Senator David A. Reed, a subscribing witness to the will, was taken before Register Mackrell after the offering of the will for probate. Senator Reed's attendance at the Naval Conference in London is expected to prevent his appearance at the hearing of the contest, a date for which has not been fixed. Attorney E. W. Smith, also a member of the firm of Reed, Smith, Shaw and McClay, was the other subscribing witness to the will, which was executed in 1919.

Mrs. Bindley was adjudged mentally incompetent to administer her affairs, after a hearing in August on application of Attorney Musgrave, and he and Attorney Roy G. Bostwick were appointed a committee for her.

SLEUTH, WOMAN FOUND DEAD

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Bottles which had contained liquor were clues today in attempts to solve the mysterious deaths of James J. Casey, superintendent of police detectives here, and Mrs. Dora Bingham, department store saleslady, whose bodies were found at Casey's camp at Northbrook Field yesterday.

Supt. Casey's unclothed body and the partly clad form of Mrs. Bingham were found on the floor of a bedroom of the camp by two of Casey's lieutenants, investigating his failure to return home Sunday.

Casey, who was 56 years old, his wife, and Mrs. Bingham, 40, were reported to have been friendly for several years. Mrs. Casey first learned of the tragedy by a radio report.

Weather Conditions.

Low barometric pressure is the dominating influence over the weather over much the greater portion of the United States and Canada. There is a marked center of disturbance between the Great Lakes and Hudson Bay. Lowest barometer reported, 29.36 inches, at White River. Another center appears over Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Lowest barometer reported, 29.34 inches, at Prince Albert. There is also a center over the Gulf of Mexico. High barometer lies off the Atlantic coast and over the Pacific Coast states. Cloudy weather prevails over most of the country, and it is raining over the Gulf states and Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina. Temperatures are considerably above normal over the West and Northwest.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling slowly. Stage at Franklin is 5.0 feet; Lock No. 7, 12.0; Pittsburgh, 12.4; Dam No. 2, 8.9; Dam No. 6, 9.5; Dam No. 9, 10.2, and Dam No. 12, 6.9. The dams are up.

KELLEY GIVEN 1 TO 10 YEARS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Leo ("Pat") Kelley, butcher boy, once sentenced to death for the murder a year ago of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus, Los Angeles society woman, was re-sentenced in Superior Court to one to 10 years in San Quentin prison on a manslaughter charge growing out of the case.

Kelley was in death row at San Quentin when the state Supreme Court overruled the lower court and remanded the case to Los Angeles for re-sentencing on a manslaughter charge, which, the higer tribunal held, was the severest sentence justifiable under the evidence.

Attorneys and relatives of the young man declare he is innocent and that "other persons" slew the 40-year-old married woman. She was found dead, lying unclad across a bed in her palatial home when her husband, prominent real estate man, returned from a yachting trip. Kelley was found hiding in a closet.

Mexico Arranging Calles Reception

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—The Mexican Senate decided yesterday to appoint a committee to go to the United States border and greet former President Calles when he returns from Europe in about mid-December. The chamber appointed a committee to organize a reception committee in Mexico City.

Cold 'Cure' Gets Man 6 Months' Term

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Nov. 26 (AP.)—Charles Nuss' cold brought him more trouble than colds as a rule do.

Nuss, pleading guilty before the Columbia County Court to driving an automobile while he was intoxicated, said he had taken whisky and quinine to relieve a cold.

Judge Evans sentenced him to six months in jail and $200 fine.

COAT CONVICTS SUSPECT

The first conviction by a jury during the present term of Federal Court, in which criminal cases are being tried, came today with the verdict returned against H. J. Miller, alias Baltimore Whitey.

Miller was convicted of breaking and entering the postoffice at Platea, Erie County, but was found not guilty of the theft of $1.40 in postal funds, for which he had also been indicted.

An overcoat, identified as that of the postmaster, which Miller was said to have had when arrested, resulted in his conviction on the breaking and entering charge.

United States Judge Nelson McVicar sentenced Miller to the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for two years.

MILLIONAIRE WEDS NURSE

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26.—(INS)—A romance between a millionaire and a hospital nurse that started three months ago in the former's sickroom, has culminated in the marriage of Van Dulzer Burton, millionaire sportsman, formerly of Newburgh, N. Y., and Miss Charlotte Rhodes, this city.

Fully recovered from his ailment, which kept him confined at Union Memorial Hospital for quite some time, Burton and Miss Rhodes motored Saturday to Ellicott City, near here, and were married by the Rev. Carl Mumford.

Burton entered the hospital in August, just about the time the interlocutory divorce granted his former wife last May became effective. Mrs. Amy F. Burton is the daughter of Sir T. Ashley Sparks, managing director for the Cunard Steamship Line in the United States. She left Maryland to live on her father's estate at Syosset, Long Island, N. Y., and now is believed to be in England.

Burton maintains an estate at My Lady's Manor, where he keeps a large stable of thoroughbreds.

Educator Sentenced To Prison by Friend

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 26.—(AP.) Dr. William V. Whitmore, former chancellor of the University of Arizona, awaited transportation to McNeil Island prison today, sentenced to a 15-month term there by a friend of a quarter of a century.

Federal Judge William W. Sawtelle wept yesterday as he pronounced the words that sent his long-time friend to the prison and decreed that he should pay a fine of $500. Dr. Whitmore was convicted last week of conspiracy to violate the federal narcotic laws.

MAWSON SCANS POLAR FIORD

By SIR DOUGLAS MAWSON,
Commander of the British, Australian and New Zealand Antarctic Research Expedition.
Radio via London.

KERGUELEN ISLAND, Nov. 26.—The arduous task of coaling the Discovery completed, we have been able to execute scientific investigations of one of the longest fiords on the island, named Blas de Bossiere.

The trip was made by motor launch and in two days we passed up the fiord from salt to fresh water. At the head of the inland waterway we located much potential water power, represented in several waterfalls.

(Sir Douglas Mawson's Antarctic expedition sailed to its base on Kerguelen Island aboard the S. S. Discovery. Antarctic exploration ship of Sir Robert Scott. At Kerguelen the members are making preparations to penetrate into the unknown regions of Antarctica in search of South Polar "El Dorado." Beside aiming to explore 2,000 miles of unknown coastline, Sir Douglas believes the world's "last resort of mineral riches may lie locked beneath tons of ice." Kerguelen Island is within the extreme limit of floating icebergs, about 2,780 miles from the South Pole in the direction of Africa.)

GLACIERS RECEDE

In many places on Kerguelen Island immense volumes of water cascade seaward. Everywhere on the route of the excursion there was evidence of comparatively recent recession of immense glaciers. The landscape is tabular, owing to beds of tuffa alternating with the lava flows. In the lower portions of the island there are isolated blocks of rock and labyrinth valleys, cut out by the glaciers that have since disappeared.

These waterways, the fiords, are studded with small islets, which are wonderfully verdant and richly covered with vegetation in utter contrast to the mainland, which has been devastated by rabbits.

No greater calamity could have befallen Kerguelen than the introduction of rabbits, here in legions, devouring every scrap of vegetation until scarcely anything but the bare earth remains.

Wild dogs, escaped from captivity, are a further calamity. They are now wolflike and are a real menace to all life on the island. Under the circumstances, it is remarkable that the sea-bird life still remains. On the isolated islets visited, there were all sorts of sea fowl, many of them nesting. An adequate number of these were captured and killed for scientific specimens. All night long, as we lay in our tents, we heard the chattering of petrels and prions, the two types of sea birds that are predominant.

BIRD LIFE

The females sit on their eggs at the end of burrows several feet underground. The male, who spends his day far at sea collecting food, visits them every night. On arriving at the burrow, the male makes a deep cooing sound, which is answered by his mate. After several exchanges of calls, the female comes to the mouth of the burrow to be fed.

All this goes on all night, and throughout the daytime there are no signs of the birds, although there are literally thousands of them underground.

Our ornithologist, by imitating the male call, elicited responses from the nestling females, thus determining whether the burrows were occupied. Then we shoveled out the bird and the eggs.

We are now anchored in the Royal Sound, awaiting favorable weather for our departure to Heard Island.

Banker Kills Self In Three Attempts

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Reed C. Peters, 39, executive vice president of the Peters Trust Company, which was declared insolvent yesterday, died today of injuries sustained in three suicide attempts yesterday. Poison, of which he had "gulped a handful," before he threw himself beneath the wheels of a truck, was said to have been the direct cause of death. He failed in his first attempt to get under the wheels of a truck.

Obituary

Dugan Funeral.

Funeral services for Peter Dugan, 77, who died Sunday at his home, 6120 Monitor street, Squirrel Hill, will be held in the St. Philomena Church tomorrow morning. He was a director of the Hazelwood Savings and Trust Company and a member of St. Philomena Church. He leaves four sons, Andrew, Stephen, James and John Dugan; two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth Dugan; a sister, and three brothers.

Miss Betty Means.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Miss Betty Means, 83, a native of Bedford County, Pa., died at the home of a niece, Mrs. J. J. Caulley, here yesterday. Another niece, Mrs. Cora Sponsler, Pittsburgh, is among the survivors.

Pilot of Engine Picks Up Pair In Wreck

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 26.—The cow-catcher of a Baltimore and Ohio passenger locomotive saved the lives of two Lost Creek men here today after the engine had demolished their automobile at a grade crossing.

The men, Wilson Swisher, 35, and Leslie Brown, 38, Lost Creek carpenters, were carried 150 feet by the cow-catcher and escaped virtually unhurt. Swisher suffered a few bruises.

HAYS ST. BILLS UP IN COUNCIL

Council has received ordinances vacating Hays street in the Eleventh Ward from North Beatty street to North Highland avenue and vacating Supreme way from Hays street to a point 105 feet north.

Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang has advised Council that Rodgers McCreery, solicitor of the Board of Public Education, has declared the 15,608 square feet of Hays street and the 2,085 square feet of Supreme way would be used as part of an athletic field for Peabody High School.

John Sharman, of 5815 Hays street, and others have protested to Council against the vacating of Hays street with the explanation that such action would deny residents an outlet to Highland avenue.

Council has indicated that a public hearing would be held on the proposal to which all interested persons would be invited.

15-STORY LEAP KILLS MAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Alfred Carrier, 60, leaped to death from the fifteenth floor of Mandel's Department Store today, his body hurtling into Madison street, 100 feet from State street, Chicago's busiest corner. Hundreds of shoppers saw the death leap.

Crowds of pedestrians were thrown into confusion, and traffic was blocked until police could remove the body.

Carrier was a silverware engraver at Mandel's, one of the principal downtown department stores. He had been in ill-health.

2 P. R. R. Employes Are Killed by Train

COATESVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Robert Cowan, of Atglen, and Philip Lawrence, of Lancaster, were killed when they were struck by an eastbound passenger train on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Both men, who were employed by the signal department of the railroad company, descended from a signal tower and stepped into the path of the train.

Leaves Coupe Three Minutes, It's Stolen

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Three minutes after Harry S. Furlong, of California, Pa., had entered a local confectionery store yesterday, his new coupe was stolen.

RAIDERS SEIZE TRUCK, STILL

Prohibition agents last night seized a truck and a 150-gallon still and made two arrests.

Frank Brut, 21, of 606 South Main street, was arrested as the driver of a truck carrying two cases of homebrew. The truck and brew were taken in Forbes street, near the Armstrong Tunnels.

In a raid on a two-story frame building at 841 Center street, Versailles, the seizure of a 150-gallon still and the destruction of 3,000 gallons of mash, was reported. Tony Pate, 26, arrested in the raid, was released on a $1,000 bond, according to the agents.

78 PIANOS LOANED FREE

Seventy-Eight Pianos (Grands, Players and Uprights, both new and used instruments), will be placed in homes of Pittsburgh and vicinity and they may be used until we need them—which will be an indefinite time. We have discontinued eight of our large branch stores, and are placing these instruments in our "Frederick's Annex," located at 915 Liberty Avenue. Instead of storing and holding these pianos for the regular price, we are going to slaughter the prices and take our loss now. If you have ever thought of buying a piano, now is the time. We do not wish to place our instruments in storage and all Pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we will receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.

Positively No Charge For Anything

No cartage, no rent or any expense whatever. You must call at the store to make your selection. There are no strings to this offer, which comes but once in a lifetime.

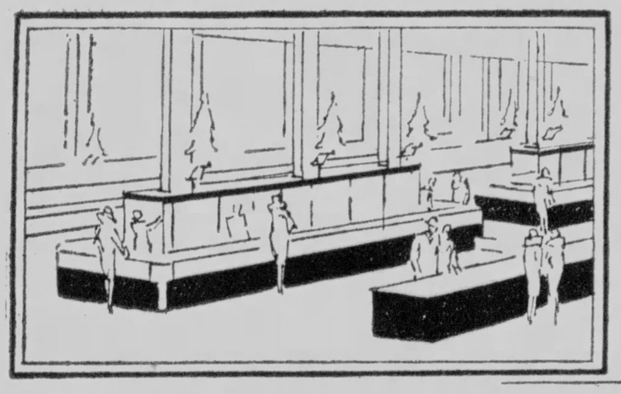
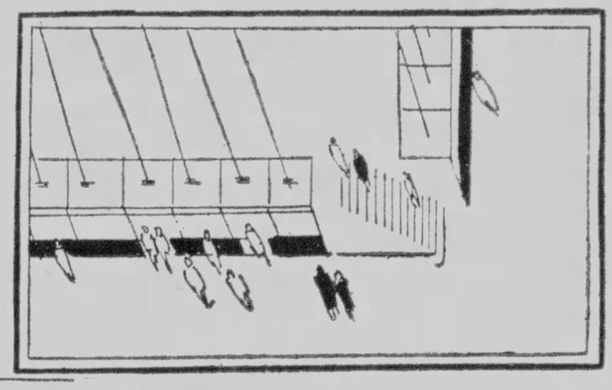
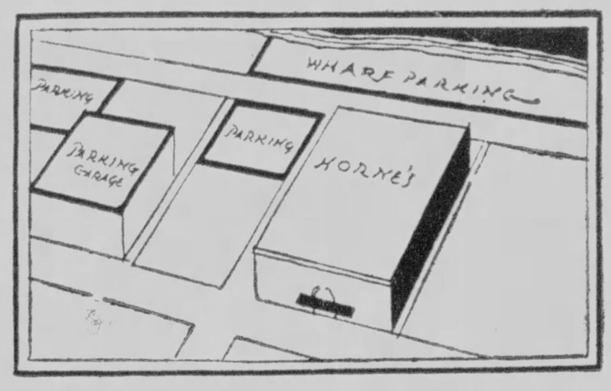
9 Reasons why CHRISTMAS SHOPPING will be easy at HORNE'S



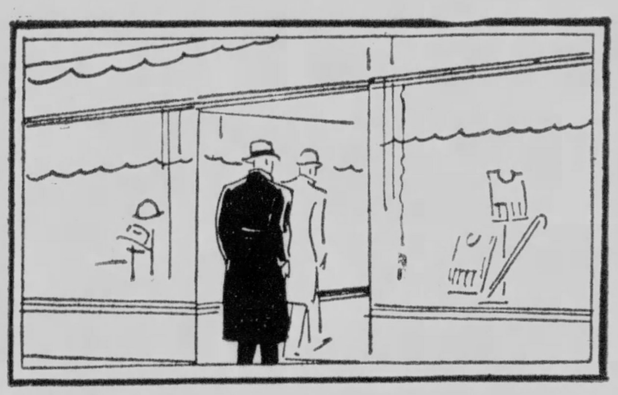
BROAD AISLES—To afford you the utmost comfort in shopping—the utmost convenience and safety—aisles throughout the store are generously wide. High ceilings make stuffiness impossible. Even on the busiest days of the Christmas season, you'll find Horne's the most pleasant place to shop.



ELEVATORS PLENTIFUL — Sixteen high speed, modern electric elevators, quiet-running and spacious, in charge of courteous, patient operators, are another evidence of our earnest effort to add to your comfort while our guest. Then, too, there are three broad, enclosed safety stairways between all floors.

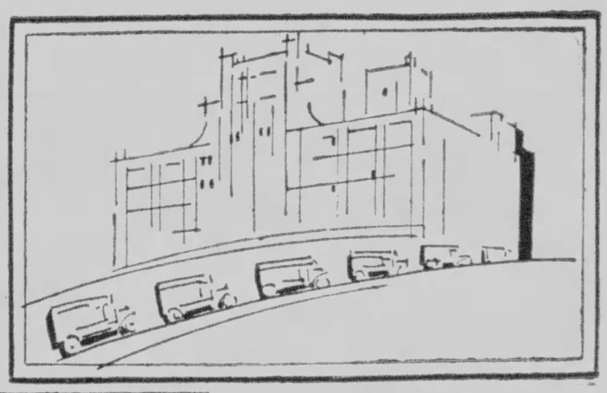


AUTOMOBILE PARKING — Within three minutes' walk there are parking accommodations for 1,000 cars. Pittsburgh Parking Garage on Penn Ave.—Penn Royal Service Station, directly opposite our Stanwix St. entrance —the Municipal Station, in rear of the store— Wabash Parking Station, Duquesne Way.

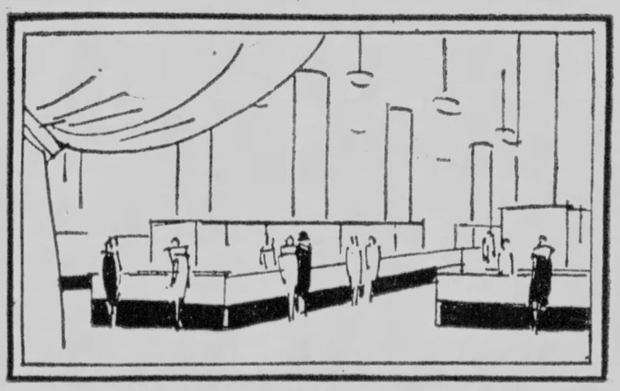


SEPARATE MEN'S STORE ENTRANCE — This entrance leads directly into the spacious Men's Furnishings, Men's Hat and Men's Gift Shops. These sections are highly departmentalized to make gift-shopping easy. An express elevator, just inside the entrance, will take you quickly to the Men's Clothing floor.

TOY STORE, BASEMENT—There is no need to take your children on crowded elevators or escalators, if you bring them to Horne's Toy Store. Just walk down a few wide steps and you'll find yourself in the most wonderful of toy stores imaginable—the only one of its kind in Pittsburgh.



QUICK DELIVERY—Our new Service Warehouse, from which we do all our shipping, is a great factor in promoting speedy, efficient delivery. Trucks are loaded under cover and dispatched North, South, East and West from this centrally located point. Two shipping platforms have accommodations for 92 trucks.



MAIN FLOOR REARRANGED — Another step we have taken to make gift-shopping easy for you is to assemble on the Main Floor those gift-things wanted by the greatest number. The most seasonable merchandise has been given prominent locations.

THE CHILDREN'S FLOOR—This is a well-known institution, complete in the scope of its service at all times. Everything for boys and girls of all ages up to 16 years has been concentrated here, with the most helpful correlation of merchandise.

THE TEA ROOM—You'll find the Tea Room, on the Main Floor, a delightful and convenient place to eat. The food is prepared with scrupulous care in our own kitchens by trained dieticians. The accompanying Hostess Buffet and Candy Shop have many gift suggestions.

ADVISE DIVORCE FOR M'CORMICKS

SANTA BARBARA, Col... 26.—(AP)—Ambassador ... witness for the defense that he had suggested a divorce as a possible step in the treatment of Stanley McCormick, incompetent multi-millionaire, acted at the ... today to the suit of the wealthy invalid's wife to oust his brother and sister as guardians on the charge that they are squandering his fortune.

Dr. William A. White of Washington, D. C., under questioning by Newton D. Baker, Mrs. Katherine McCormick's attorney, testified that he and Dr. Edward J. Kempf, of New York, McCormick's personal physician, discussed with Mrs. McCormick as recently as September the advisability of a divorce.

Mrs. McCormick has not lived with her husband since he was declared incompetent in 1906. He has been confined since then to his palatial home here under care of specialists. At that time Harold F. McCormick and Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine, brother and sister of Stanley McCormick, were appointed guardians of the invalid's person and his $50,000,000 estate.

On re-direct examination by Oscar Lawler, attorney for the defense, Dr. White, speaking again of the proposed divorce, repeated that Mrs. McCormick said she was prepared for that eventuality, if it should prove best for her husband."

DRUG STORES ALL OVER GREATER PITTSBURGH

Real Estate

A storeroom in the Schulte Building and the entire second floor, at 130 Fifth avenue, corner Market street, has been leased through C. C. McKallip & Company to the Manhattan Shoe Company for a long term. An adjoining store at 128 Fifth avenue has been leased to A. Abrams. The same brokers also leased a four-story building at Main street and Beeson avenue, Uniontown, Pa., to the Shearer Drug Stores for a long term. The lot is 40x50 feet.

Real estate brokers' license applications have been mailed to listed realty dealers in the Pittsburgh district. Robert W. Semenow, director of the license law, will be at Pittsburgh Real Estate Board headquarters, 335 Second avenue, on Friday from 1 to 4 p. m. and Saturday from 10 a. m. to 12 noon to advise brokers in making their applications.

A brick dwelling and garage in Pauline avenue, Mt. Lebanon, has been sold by Everett W. Stoker to Morgan Harris. The lot is 39x110 feet.

Five brick dwellings at 517-23 Collins avenue, East End, lot 75x128 feet, have been sold by Henry Averbach to Fannie Goldwasser, who deeded in return a house on 50x171 feet on the west side of North Negley avenue near Margaretta street, Easet End.

In Avalon, W. B. Dawson & Company sold for the Thomas McCalmon estate a frame dwelling on 35x110 feet at 205 South Harrison avenue. The purchaser takes the property for investment.

A house on the east side of Miami avenue, Mt. Lebanon, has been sold by W. W. Miller to Clark J. McKee.

C. H. Krahe has purchased 60x120 feet with a frame house in Norwich avenue, Brookline, and will build a four-room addition to the home.

A house on 20x100 feet in McCandless avenue, Tenth Ward, has been sold to Elmer H. Shirley by Albert R. Engle for $6,500.

Building permit applications included:

Eleventh Ward—J. R. Maddy, three brick dwellings and garages, 1422-30 Greystone drive, $28,500; J. H. McAnulty, three brick dwellings and garages, 1449-57 Greystone drive, $27,000.

Two Men Victims Of Armed Robbers

Two armed men late last night held up Walter Piatrowski, of 3015 Mary street, and Stanley Gomerski, of 2325 Edwards alley, in the 2600 block of Josephine street, according to a report to the Detective Bureau. They took $100 from Gomerski and $3 from his companion.

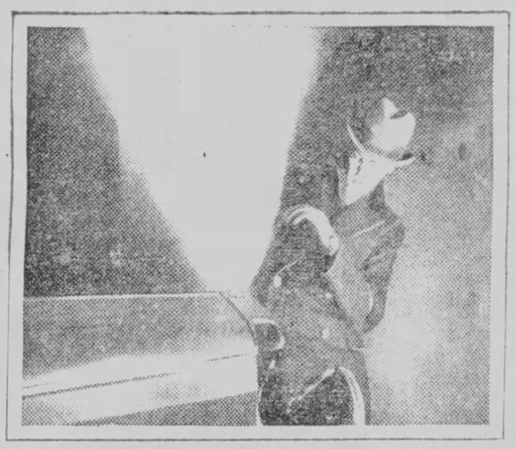
GPA RADIATOR GLYCERINE

freed 950,000 motorists from ANTI-FREEZE worries last winter

950,000 Users—Leave your car anywhere in any weather. You can always count on G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine's protection.



How was he to know his anti-freeze had evaporated?

"I guess it's safe" has cost motorists thousands of dollars. With G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine you always know your car is freeze-proof—because glycerine won't evaporate.

It's SAFE because it won't evaporate

They never had to worry about evaporation. They didn't have to add more anti-freeze every few days to keep the solution up to strength. They had none of the worry, fuss, and bother that the average motorist pays as the price of winter safety for his car.

Glycerine does not evaporate. That's the secret of its positive permanent protection. It won't steam off on the warm days. Its protection is always there when the cold snaps threaten.

It is safe, too. It won't harm the car finish. It won't attack the cooling system. It meets all of the U. S. Bureau of Standards requirements of a perfect anti-freeze. And it has no odor.

G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine is the only glycerine solution produced under the formula and specifications of the Glycerine Producers' Association. One filling lasts the entire winter. Get it today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—... American soldiers, ... Mrs. Miriam ... who died ... away from ... camps ... Railroad ... will come ... this week. ... round ... by steamer, and ... will end next Sunday in Detroit where 56 of the 75 caskets will be escorted to Cadillac ... in front of the City Hall. Wreaths ... on behalf of the State ... Murphy by Gov. Fred W. ...

Aboard the United States liner President Roosevelt the 75 bodies ... New York harbor to-... The United States destroyer Hale and the municipal ... Manhattan ... which committees ... New Yorkers have gone ... to meet thousands of returning American soldiers, will meet the liner Roosevelt at quarantine and will escort her to her pier in Hoboken.

There a military guard, furnished by Maj. Gen. Hanson E. Ely, commander of the Second Corps Area, will take charge of the 75 dead. The bodies will remain under guard on the passenger pier until Friday morning, when 56 of them will be placed aboard a special train on the Pennsylvania Railroad scheduled to leave New York for Detroit 24 hours later. The remaining bodies go by other trains to other points.

Mother Sues Sheriff For Arresting Son

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Ethel Widmeyer has filed suit in Circuit Court here against former Sheriff O. B. Rovermale, asking $2,000 for false imprisonment of her minor son, Edwin. The complaint alleges that the former sheriff, without a warrant, came to the Widmeyer home and used force to take the son in custody, later dismissing him without trial.

The affair grew out of the disappearance of Arthur Swope, of this city, some months ago. Swope later was located working in a mine near Frostburg, Md.

Boy Scout Troop Wins Roundup Prize

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Boy Scout Troop No. 15 of the First Christian Church won the fall roundup and conference held Friday night at the Carnegie auditorium. The troop took three first honors, one second place and one third place. The roundup was under the supervision of Scout Commissioner Ralph P. Davis, assisted by C. E. Lyle, J. H. Gwin, H. E. Greensburg Plans New Scout Troop

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 26.—Plans for the organization of a scout leader training school to be formed about January 1 and the general situation in Boy Scout circles in this section have been discussed here with the plans to form several new troops in this district.

Seven troops are now in existence here and this number is expected to be doubled soon.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. (This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

FRANCE TO PAY 'TIGER' HOMAGE

PARIS, Nov. 26.—(INS.)—Deprived of the privilege of honoring Georges Clemenceau in death with ostentatious funeral ceremonies befitting his great services to his country, France's citizens today sought other means of keeping his memory everlastingly sacred.

His last desires were complied with to the minutest detail. His body lies in the resting place he selected on a little wooded knoll in his beloved Vendee, marked only by an inscribed stone in keeping with the simplicity of the family funeral which was his final wish.

But on Sunday those veterans of the World War who called him "Father of Victory" and whom he called "his children" will have their opportunity to pay him homage directly.

They will file silently past the grave of the Unknown Soldier while President Doumergue, Premier Tardieu, and other officials eulogize the departed "Tiger" from the Arc de Triomphe.

On Friday, the municipal council will select a street which will be named for him just as the Avenue Du Bois de Boulogne was changed to Avenue Foch after the death of the great French "generalissimo" of the World War.

DRESS IGNITES, GIRL MAY DIE

MONACA, Pa., Nov. 26.—Her nightdress igniting either from an open gas stove or matches, while searching for candy, Mary Seery, 5, daughter of Mrs. Mary Seery, was burned over the body and is in a critical condition in the Rochester General Hospital.

With eight brothers and sisters, the child had been left in bed while the mother was attending early mass in St. John's Church. John Seery, 9, threw a blanket about the girl and was rolling her on the floor when help arrived.

The girl's father, Mark Seery, died two years ago from injuries sustained when he fell into an open pit at the Colonial Steel Works, Monaca.

Ask Electric Lights For Three Streets

Council has received a resolution authorizing the department of public works to substitute electricity for gas in the street lights on Quarry, St. Patrick and Gable streets.

The resolution ignores a report from Alex Gray, superintendent of lights, that the streets in question are in a gas light district and recommending against making any change.

Bethany Alumni Plan New Chapter

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Plans for the formation of a Bethany College Alumni Association in Fayette County have been taken up and a committee appointed. The committee is: The Rev. A. F. Hanes, South Brownsville; W. H. McKinney, Miss Helen Morse, Uniontown; H. Edward Mason, Lemont, and Mrs. Donald C. Ward, New Salem.

North Side Women Ask Traffic Signal

Harry A. Little has presented to Council a resolution sponsored by the Women's Community Association of the Twenty-seventh Ward that calls for an investigation of the traffic situation at Brighton road and Termon avenue, with the objective of having a "stop-and-go" light placed at the intersection.

Hit and Run Victim Dies at Hospital

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—William Reed, victim of a hit-and-run driver in the Waynesburg and Washington highway, is dead in the hospital at the county home. He claimed to have been a Spanish American war veteran. Nothing could be learned as to his relatives.

To "shake" a COLD—

You must "shake" constipation first!

Your blood needs all its strength, all its powers of resistance, to shake a cold. You can't expect to rid yourself of a cold, while you are suffering from the intestinal poisons of constipation.

So the first step toward "shaking" any cold is to free yourself from constipation.

Ex-Lax makes that easy—and makes it pleasant. For while Ex-Lax tastes like a bit of delicious chocolate, its laxative effect is dependable and prompt. Its laxative ingredient has the approval of the highest medical authorities.

Ex-Lax doesn't weaken, upset, nauseate. It's the ideal laxative. In 25c and 10c sizes at all good drug stores. Also in the trial size—10c.

The first step in treating a cold—

SUSPECT HELD IN SLAYING

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—A coroner's jury recommended that Melville Parnes, 33, be held to the grand jury on a charge of murder as a result of the slaying of his boyhood chum, Edward Tracy, early Sunday, in the culmination of a struggle for supremacy in a labor union.

Parnes and his brother, William, entered a cafe where Tracy was with a group of friends, walked to his table and Melville Parnes, police said, fired four shots into Tracy's head. He and his brother were captured after a block's chase by a policeman who had seen the shooting.

Hopwood Boy Hurt By Gasoline Flames

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Clyde Stewart, 18, of Hopwood, was seriously burned yesterday while assisting in the transfer of gasoline from a fuel truck to a truck of the Williamson Construction Company, which exploded. He was badly burned about the face, chest and hips.

TARDIEU URGES BIG BUDGET

PARIS, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Premier Andre Tardieu has introduced a bill in the French Parliament calling for the expenditure of 5,000,000,000 francs (about $200,000,000) for the improvement and perfecting of "national services."

The work will be distributed over a period of five years, with an appropriation of 1,500,000,000 francs for 1930. The bill provides 1,530,000,000 francs for agriculture during the five-year period, 1,450,000,000 francs for hygiene, social works and education, and 1,820,000,000 francs for industry and commerce.

In the last item a sum of 30,000,000 francs for tourist propaganda is included.

Woman Asks Refund On Sewer Repairs

Mrs. E. O'Kane, of 725 Oakwood street, Thirteenth Ward, has asked Council to order payment to her of $2,570.68 as a refund of expense paid in repairing a broken sewer on November 7, 1927.

Club Steward Fined and Jailed

BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 26.—Howard Graham, New Brighton, alleged steward of the Turnverein Club Rochester, pleaded in court to possession of liquor and was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and serve four months in the county jail.

WIFE CRUSHED UNDER CAR, DIES

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Michael Pages, 46, died in the Rochester Hospital from a fractured skull and internal injuries suffered when the automobile which her husband was driving left the road and upset in a ditch. Mrs. Pages was thrown through the door and the car crushed her.

Sewer Repair Fund Sought in Council

J. S. Kasper, proprietor of a grocery store at 812 Chartiers avenue, has asked Council to authorize payment to him of $775 as a refund toward the cost of repairing a sewer.

City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt reported to Council that after water had backed into Kasper's cellar causing damage to his stock, an inspection of the premises was made by the bureau of highways and sewers.

Pittsburgh Man Jailed as Gambler

BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 26.—Lee McGuifford, 1306 Wylie avenue, Pittsburgh, pleaded guilty to conducting a gambling house and was sentenced to one year in the county jail. McGuifford was arrested at Midland following an automobile accident. Police say they found tickets of the clearing house lottery in his automobile.

Scots Care for Body Of Friendless Man

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—Scot residents of Donora, have taken charge of the body of William Pringle, 46, whose death occurred in the Monongahela Memorial Hospital following an operation. Pringle was alone in this country, an employe of the Vang Construction Company.

"WHAT A WONDER MEDICINE THIS NEW KONJOLA IS"

Young Pittsburgh Man Pays Glowing Tribute to Powers of New and Different Medicine.

Strange, but true, Konjola, the new and different medicine, achieves many of its most remarkable victories over cases that have held on for years, defying every medicine and treatment tried until Konjola was given a chance to prove its merits.

MR. ARTHUR M. BRENNEM

Konjola is a powerful medicine, though it contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals. It is powerful in the obstinate cases of the aged, yet may be given to the infant. A striking example of Konjola's powers was recently told to the Konjola Man by Mr. Arthur M. Brennem, 116 Meridan Street, Pittsburgh, whose case is typical of countless thousands of other cases wherein Konjola has triumphed. Hear all about this remarkable medicine for the ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness, from the Konjola Man. There is a Konjola Man at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street. Read the interesting experience of Mr. Brennem, who said to the Konjola Man recently:

"What a Wonder Medicine this New Konjola is! I had no idea that any one medicine could do what this medicine did in my case. I had about reached the conclusion that nothing could ever relieve me of indigestion and nervousness that had made me miserable for a long time, for I tried everything recommended without getting any results. I was extremely careful of my diet, but even this did no good. Pains and misery followed every meal regardless of what I ate. I certainly was discouraged as I felt myself getting weaker and weaker, and my nerves kept me awake for hours night after night. I feared that I was going to be compelled to give up my work.

"A friend who had suffered practically the same as myself told me of the wonderful relief he gained through taking Konjola, and he spoke so highly of this new medicine that I decided to put it to the test. And how Konjola met that test! In all I only took four bottles—that was all I needed. How I wish I had taken Konjola in the first place; what suffering I could have spared myself. Konjola went right to the very source of my troubles, and in one month practically made a new man of me. Cheerfully I endorse the medicine that did this for me."

Does not this prove that Konjola is the medicine to take when results, quick and thorough, are wanted?

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting the public daily, and explaining the merits of this new compound.—Konjola is sold by all Dow Stores in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Society Affects Black And White Costumes At Guild's Play

YOU NOTICED, old folks and everybody went to the Theater Guild production of Karel Capek's imaginative play "R. U. R." last evening in the Nixon Theater. As one galnced over the audience one couldn't help realizing that society folks of Pittsburgh are surely supporting Guild plays.

And speaking of the number of all white costumes and all black ones, with black and white ones, of course, there were a few here and there but there's no doubt that black and white is as smart as ever.

Suzanne Lowe was there swathed in a coat of white fur with a black velvet fox collar. In striking contrast was her gown of black velvet, fashioned in princess style with a brief train.

And Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jones III were there, of course, with Mrs. Jones wearing a black crepe gown and white coat. Other members of the younger married set there were Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kelly III, with Mrs. Kelly in coral velvet; Mrs. J. Porter Gillespie was there, too, in red crepe fashioned with a train.

I saw the F. W. Edmondsons, father and mother of the charming debutante Martha Edmondson. Mrs. Edmondson was in beige crepe.

Among others I saw during the evening were the John W. Lawrences, Mrs. Albert Horne Burchfield and the Charles Flaccuses with Mrs. Flaccus in brown lace and a mink coat.

And blonde Mrs. Sidney A. Stewart was there looking charming in a white furred cloak. Arriving together, I saw Mrs. George Pearson and Mrs. David Wilson Kuhn. Mrs. D. M. Clemson was in black velvet, trimmed with silver, and I noted Mrs. James G. Pontefract. Others I caught a glimpse of were the Thomas K. Crees and the I. H. Burnetts. Mrs. Burnett was in a silver cloth coat with white fur collar. And Mrs. A. W. Robertson in a black velvet coat with a white fur collar I saw leaving with Mr. Robertson.

Dr. and Mrs. William M. Davidson were entertaining a box party including the Edward O. Tabors. And Roy Wenstrom, inventor of the Westinghouse robot, was there with a box party, too, did you know?

A WEDDING of interest to Pittsburghers was that of Lucy Walton, daughter of the David S. Waltons, Jr., and Dr. Preston D. Geiger, of Providence, R. I., son of the H. P. Geigers, of Falls Creek, Pa. The ceremony took place in the Church of the Redeemer, in New Haven, Conn., on Saturday, with the Rev. Ralph B. Pomeroy, of Orange, N. J., uncle of the bride, officiating. An embankment of cibotium ferns, southern smilax and bronze chrysanthemums, and tall lighted tapers decorated the altar.

* * *

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, in princess fashion, very long and sleeveless, and embroidered with pearls. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms and she carried gardenias and lilies of the valley.

The bride's only attendant was Marian Leonard, who wore a sleeveless gown of Nile green taffeta with a huge coral bow at the waist, and her flowers were Talisman roses. Dr. Albert Seibert, of New Britain, served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held, and the Waltons, assisted by the bridegroom's parents and aunt and sister, received the guests. Mrs. Walton wore a becoming gown of dahlia velvet, and Mrs. Geiger wore pale rose satin. Both wore orchids. Ann Geiger, sister of the bridegroom, wore Nile green velvet, and his aunt, Margaret Geiger, wore orchid velvet.

Later the same day, Dr. and Mrs. Geiger sailed from New York for Bermuda. After January 1 they will be at home to their friends in Angell road, Providence.

The bride attended the Misses Masters' school in Dobbs Ferry and the Finch school in New York. The bridegroom attended the University of Pittsburgh and the Pennsylvania State College. He was formerly associated with the pediatric staff of the New Haven Hospital.

AND at the very beginning of the Thanksgiving week society folks are having dinners and dances more than ever before. Last evening the junior J. Hartwell Hillmans were hosts in their Fifth avenue home at a dinner-dance in honor of Mary Blair Holmes, the debutante daughter of the Joseph Horne Holmeses, of Devonshire street. Large masses of yellow chrysanthemums were used throughout the house and on the tables. There were 100 guests including all this season's buds.

MR. AND MRS. W. J. ZAHNISER, of Roup street, will give the rehearsal dinner this evening in their home for their daughter, Miss Miriam Jane Zahniser, whose marriage to William Price Filbert, son of Mrs. Carrie H. Filbert, of Rosedale street, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the Fourth Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Dr. Walter L. Ritter officiating.

Miss Zahniser has named her cousin, Miss Margaret F. Marshall, of Oakmont, as her only attendant, and John Filbert, brother of the bridegroom, will serve as best man.

After the ceremony a small reception and dinner will be held in the Zahniser home. Mr. and Mrs. Filbert will reside in Chicago.

* * *

MISS MARY KATHERINE REED, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Collins, of Reynolds street, was married to Schley Kelvin Lose, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lose, of North Braddock avenue, in the bride's home on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. W. W. T. Duncan, pastor of the Emory Methodist Church, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of apricot transparent velvet in princess style and matching hat and carried Talisman roses and orchids. Miss Ella English, who was the only attendant, wore Nile green patine velvet with tan hat and carried Johanna Hill roses. Robert Wickersham, of Carnegie place, was best man.

After a motor trip through the East, Mr. and Mrs. Lose will be at home in Hobart street.

* * *

TOWN HALL SITE HEARING SET

Representatives of the Downtown Town Hall Association will give the remainder of their testimony before the County Planning Commission at the final meeting of the commission on the matter of selecting a site for the town hall, December 9. The meeting will be held in the Old City Hall, Smithfield street. The downtown group appeared before the commission last month, and after giving testimony asked for a postponement to gather additional data.

There will be considerable work before the commission before it can submit its recommendations to the County Commissioners. In view of the testimony offered, it is probable that more than one location may be suggested.

Mrs. Hoover Smooths Cornerstone Mortar

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—It is quite natural for the First Lady, an engineer, to demonstrate good workmanship. About to lay a cornerstone, Mrs. Hoover noticed that a workman had not smoothed down the mortar. She took a trowel and made a good job of it.

Fayette County Bar Names Smith Head

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Lee Smith, Uniontown, was elected president of the Fayette County Bar Association at the annual election yesterday afternoon. John M. Core was named vice president, Buel B. Whitehill, secretary and Espey Sherrard, treasurer.

Alumni Announces Pitt Reunion Party

Alumni of the University of Pittsburgh will hold their annual Thanksgiving reunion party on Wednesday evening, November 27, at 8:30 o'clock in the Georgian Room of Webster Hall. There will be bridge and dancing.

CLUB NOTES

MUSIC will be a feature of the entertainment planned for Congress members spending Thanksgiving at Congress House. An orchestra will play from 5:30 to 9 o'clock and the auditorium will be prepared for dancing. Dinner, which is by reservation only, will be served from 1 to 8 o'clock. Tables for bridge will be arranged for the use of members and their guests. The Congress choral will not rehearse today, but will resume rehearsals next Wednesday at 10:30 o'clock in preparation for the annual Congress Christmas party to be held December 20. The choral is to furnish the musical program at the meeting of the educational department on December 11.

THE Fidelity Social Club will hold a eucher party and reception on Thanksgiving night in St. John's Hall, with dancing beginning at 8 o'clock.

Club to Cut December Program

ONLY two lectures are scheduled for next month by the Twentieth Century Club, the holiday recess beginning the middle of December, Leighton Rollins, director of the Surry Playhouse and Workshop and the Try-Out Theater at Wellesley, who is one of the most important Little Theater directors in America, will discuss current plays on Monday and on December 9 Dr. Edward B. Reed, of New Haven, will give his talk on "Old Christmas Carols." Especial interest will attach to this talk because the club choral is to illustrate it.

The one music and art committee activity for December will be the children's party on the twelfth. For the entertainment of the little folk the drama committee will put on a suitable playlet and a magician will mystify with his "black art."

Yesterday morning Edward Davison, the English poet, in addressing the club on "The Approach to Poetry," said poetry is not something written in a book; it is an attitude toward life; it has nothing to do with brains, knowledge or power; it is a cry of the heart, a moving appreciation of beauty which may lie in nature, in children, in a face, rarely in a book. There are two false approaches to poetry, according to Mr. Davison's way of thinking—that of the person who maintains he does not understand poetry and the other, and feminine approach, made by people who read poetry in hushed voice. Poetry is found in whatever moves people deeply, the speaker claimed, reminding his audience of the time when poetry was not recognized categorically, but was an extremely simple thing usually composed, not written, by uneducated persons and based upon the facts of life, tales handed down by word of mouth from generation to generation. These are still the themes that the majority of modern poets write about, Mr. Davison declared. He closed by reading some of his own poems.

MRS. JOSEPH YOUNG CAUGHEY, of Bellefield avenue, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Marjorie Josephine Caughey, to John Kerr Musgrave, Jr., of Maryland avenue, on Saturday evening in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. B. Johnson, of Upsal Place. The Rev. A. R. Robinson, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian Church, officiated. The only attendants were the Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Johnson. After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Musgrave will reside in Maryland avenue.

FOR his talk at the forum supper period in Central Branch Young Women's Christian Association tonight, Tom Skeyhill has chosen one of the most colorful and dazzling figures of the day—Mussolini—as his subject. Skeyhill, who is among the best known lecturers in the platform field, is a brilliant orator and will give to his audience tonight his own impressions of "Mussolini and the Black Shirts." He witnessed an attempt on Mussolini's life and saw the tremendous reaction in favor of "Il Duce." The supper and lecture are open to the public and men as well as women have made reservations to hear Skeyhill, who is regarded as one of the greatest orators of his time.

INTERESTING DETAILS OF THE NEWEST MODES

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The bolero is to the front—at the back! Maybe this does sound cryptic, but a study of some of the afternoon and other frocks just shown reveals some interesting back treatments of the now popular bolero. In many cases the bolero is merely defined at front, but in back it is distinctively treated with draperies, pleats or some other manipulation. The bolero is certainly a change from the princess or closely moulded line that obtained the earlier part of the sartorial season. It lends grace, animation and an air of old world charm to our ultra modern dresses, and so has many cogent reasons to offer for its return.

* * *

BLACK clouds continue to eclipse the sun around which the world of fashion revolves. But everyone seems to be quite content with the black outlook, and so there is no cause for complaint. Black coats, dresses and hats have resolved themselves into something of a uniform that serves to confer individuality rather than similarity. There is nothing like a black frock or coat to bring out the best in us, for it seems to call for a glistening beautifuly coifed head, a bright clear skin, and a lissome figure and carriage. Otherwise black has the unhappy faculty of endowing the wearer with rather a dowdy and stale appearance regardless of the style or opulence of the garment worn.

* * *

ALL the salient virtues of a black frock are neatly expressed in the delightful afternoon dress shown here from Jenny. It is of heavy black georgette crepe and the bolero bodice has the smart back drape, in this case a trifle to the side, the drapery falling in a long slim point. Similar drapery is found in the skirt which is moderately long all around, very slim as to silhouette and very long as to drapery. Both bolero and skirt are finished along the edge with little points of the material, as are the wrists of the close fitting sleeves. The black note is further sustained by a belt and wrist bands of black velvet.

* * *

OUR coats are in tiers and capes, and so we show today a coat from Paquin that features both points. It is among the best of Paquin's newest models. It is of fawn colored broadcloth banded with black astrakan. The cape is also a collar and is quite intricate in cut, as it forms one piece with the wide revers. The natural waistline is marked by a tight, narrow belt, and at the sleeves, it will be observed there is a slight puffing formed by a cluster of darts. It is such seemingly trifling details that contrive to lend interest and distinction to coats and other garments.

For You ... we've searched the world for Gifts.

EACH little item in this International Exhibition of Whatnots has a distinct background—made in dark, Stygian caves or musty Italian ateliers. Each little one in its own way was very anxious to travel—not one of these Cook Tours, of course; they had genuine little flutterings to go important places and be important things.

Whereupon they wandered out to the great open places along the coasts of Europe and spied our little gift ship, rollicking over the bounding main. Then they all clamored to come to America, and forthwith came to Boggs and Buhl, where they form a regular art exhibition for those who like art and something to brag about for those who receive them as gifts.

Imitations of priceless court jewelry go very well with the Parisian gowns, attend the nicest dinners and baffle the most intelligent burglars. Real amethyst and pearl, $40.

If she wears his picture in the back of it, how can any handsome man deny his wife a French onyx and marcasite pendant? To curtail the bracelet and ring would be as mean as Simon Legree! Pendant, $27.50; bracelet, $35; ring, $6.95.

Husbands "unimpressionable" about semi-precious jewelry might become tractable approached in the manner of this young lady who is part of a very preoccupied duet painted on ivory and set in sterling silver. $37.50.

This enterprising little handkerchief of Duchess lace came to America with the idea of meeting up with the regal princess silhouette, and wants to make connections with only the nicest gowns. From France, $6.

This hand-tooled Italian leather diary could very well be made an unexpurgated account of "Five Years of My Life." You supply the copy and the lock will do the necessary suppressing. $10.

Any artistocratic photograph will admit that it is not only pedigree, but it's surroundings that count! Two pictures will make very nice company, and in this gold tooled frame will be contented and optimistic about life. $8.50.

The figurine etched on the stopper of this ravishing perfume bottle comes from Vienna, where men are men, music is gay and perfumes are frivolous. Amber glass with elaborate filigree. $35.

Such a nice way about these Dresden china personalities! When informed of an invitation to a pleasure trip abroad, the nonplussed little lady actually bowed, while her husband gallantly stood by holding her cloak. $8.50 each (from France.)

Perched on the ledge of this Italian pottery are two of a family of inquisitive fowls, who seem very anxious to keep posted on the "goings on" in this vase. $3.

Before actively engaged in policing books, this lion and his wife were subjected to the rigors of sharp German winters. But then, such physiques! Bronze on marble stands, $18 set.

This is a pet from the Venetian glass makers' gathering. The men assembled for solemn purposes, strove as hard as they could, and this prize-winning article was submitted for our exhibition. $6.

This English brass lamp became all brightened up at the prospect of leaving for points west, and in an unguarded moment we actually caught the fish at its base inverting itself for joy! Nautical atmosphere furnished free. Lamps, $45.

Drama of Mechanical Age, Review and Comedy Are New Stage Features

Revolt of the Robots Exterminates Humanity In Drama on Nixon Stage

By GEORGE SEIBEL

WHEN Bunyan wrote "Pilgrim's Progress" he thought he was writing allegory, and today it reads much like satire. When Swift wrote "Gulliver's Travels" he thought he was writing satire, and today it reads much like allegory. Whatever it was that Karel Capek thought he was writing when he produced "R. U. R.," it sounded much like the other thing as it was played at the Nixon Theater last night.

George Seibel.

"Workers of the world, unite," wrote Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels in their famous Communist Manifesto. "Robots of the world, unite," is the manifesto of the creatures in the Capek play. The parallel is obvious.

What happens in the drama is what has happened in history over and over. The revolts of Spartan helots, of Carthaginian slaves, of Roman gladiators were stamped out in blood.

And it produces new masters. Look at Radius, who becomes leader of Robots. He has the Napoleon physiognomy.

Next it produces new artists. Look at Helena and Primus, who are called Adam and Eve in the epilogue. They rejoice in the beauty of the sunrise and that spells the doom of the Robots.

The poor Robots are going to become even as man who created them.

Sting of Satire.

So far it is allegory—but it is allegory with the sting of satire. When the scientist explains that they have left the soul out of the Robots because it increases the cost of the product, he arraigns all the dividend-producing efficiency systems cracked up as the last word in business progress.

Progress—one of the scientists prays against Progress, and raises the thought that Progress is the Evil Principle in the world.

In short, here is a drama—a strange sort of fairy tale by this Bohemian poet—which will make people think. But it will just as infallibly amuse those who can't think or don't want to think. It's as exciting at the climax as Christian's fight with Giant Despair, or the struggle of Gulliver against the Lilliputians.

The thing is played with such deadly earnestness, such scrupulous attention to the details that make the illusion of veracity, that Mr. Wensley, the inventor of Televox, sitting in a box, should

Pleasure

FEATURE IN ACADEMY IS BILLY WATSON

Billy Watson has now become a show and a title, the burlesque in the Academy being called "Sliding Billy Watson." Watson, of course, is featured in the presentation of skits, travesties, specialties and song and dance numbers making up the entertainment program. Eddie Murphy also has a principal part. The Academy's "Whoopee Girls" are prominent in the action.

GRETA GARBO SHOWS EMOTIONAL LURE IN PENN BILL

That Cleopatra of the films, Greta Garbo, is on the screen most of the time during "The Kiss," which is high-tension emotional drama of the old Sardou-Dumas-Bernstein brand. There is a handsome lover, known in Hollywood as Conrad Nagel, and there is a jealous husband, who leaves us long in doubt whether he is going to die of heart-disease or a superfluous revolver. He dies, and there is a court trial which decides that it was suicide. Whereupon the audience in Loew's Penn, having been on the rack for so long, heaves a sigh of relief, and Greta confesses to Conrad how the thing really happened.

A Very Good Picture

"The Kiss" is really a very good picture. Those old Frenchmen knew how to make dramas with weepy climaxes, how to mix sin and remorse in the proper doses, and the result is good theater. What if they do kiss in the Art Gallery—as is their gentle habit in la belle France? What if they do confess in court right after acquittal—that also may be a Gallic fashion? Good acting and good photography make this picture worth while seeing.

Seed Is Comical

Then, on the stage, there is the simian Mr. Seed, of Seed and Austin, who is one of the funniest of funny comedians. He can tell you where to "eat dirt cheap," and he can name a fruit for every letter from A to Z. If he were out of work he could qualify with any organ-grinder.

The Williams Sisters do some of their infectious dancing. Bemis and Brown are also amusing. Nat Nazzaro and Dick Leibert prove as popular as ever, the girls from the ballet show what they can do all by themselves, and Elias Breeskin surpasses himself by putting his symphony orchestra through a seismic Tchaikowsky overture without losing a man.

Emoter

School Presented With Film Machine

The Avalon Civic Club has presented a moving picture machine to the borough high school. Mrs. A. P. Dietz was chairman of the committee which arranged for purchase of the machine.

TUCKER, MISS KROMAN AND 'CHORUS' PUT LAUGHS IN PITT

By CLARENCE E. GRUNDISH

"The Shannons of Broadway," a comedy detailing the experience of two vaudeville performers who become owners of a smalltown hotel, is the current George Sharp presentation in the Pitt. It was written by James Gleason and he certainly put the laughs into it. And Mr. Sharp's emoters certainly get the laughs out of it.

Cold and hungry arrive the Shannons—Mr. and Mrs.—to the Swanzey House away up in Sutton, New England. They are looking for something to eat and a place to sleep and, as it turns out, a place to argue in. But Pa Swanzey doesn't want any actor folks in his establishment. So Mrs. Shannon gets an idea. Why not buy the hotel? So they do, though Mr. Shannon protests he can't see the sense in buying a hotel just to get a sandwich.

Classroom Complexion

Comes next two acts of Shannon hotel management. Out go old pictures and calendars and new ones appear—the kind you see in public school classrooms. (Just why, we don't know, unless it was the best Mr. Sharp's property man could do). And here the plot action flip-flops into many amusing situations, with a splash of sentiment and heartache here and there. Such a splash comes when Mrs. Shannon befriends two young actors. But it, like all the other sob splashes, ends with a comedy gesture. "Say, what did you do, adopt those kids?" Mr. Shannon wants to know. "What," snappily retorts the Missus, "adopt them with nothing better to offer than you as their father?"

Somewhere along here enters a land boom phase and the Shannons get involved. It looks like the hotel and all their money are gone. But Old Man Sunshine and Little Boy Bluebird are hanging around and their presence is much in evidence before the final curtain rolls down.

Meet the "Chorus"

Harland Tucker and Mabel Kroman handle the Shannon roles—handle them with a merry gusto. And there is a large cast, members of which are too numerous for mention here, which deserves a bit of commendation for the style of its support. And what an assortment of smalltown oddities are depicted by this cast. Meet some of them: A wayward son, a money-clutching villain, a seduced maiden, a shyster lawyer and a frail young thing who is the heroine of a rather childish romance. Reads like the cast of a meller drammer, doesn't it?

Well, Mr. Shannon himself thinks so and he gathers from it an inspiration for the ending of a vaudeville act—an inspiration that is incorporated into the play as the grand finale. The characters are all lined up like chorus girls on parade and, as the music strikes up, into the stepping they go. Miss Kroman, Mr. Tucker, Robert Fiske, Hugh Banks, Gus Forbes, Lucette Parker—all of these and more—are part of this comic ensemble. And there is the worth of an admission in just seeing Mr. Forbes, with his tin-type makeup, going through the paces.

No Robot

Earl Larimore has a leading role in "R. U. R.", New York Theater Guild Play in the Nixon but is not one of the robots that are so numerous in the drama.

West View Church Holds Card Party

A card party will be held tonight in St. Athanasius' Catholic Church, West View, the proceeds to go into the church treasury.

Pope Will Appoint Cardinals Dec. 16

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Pope Pius, at the secret consistory December 16, will appoint two or three more cardinals than those already announced, making seven or eight in all. All of the additional ones probably will be Italians.

It is virtually certain that Monsignor Serafini, secretary of the congregation of the council, will be one of those named, while the others most prominently mentioned are Monsignor Pacelli, nuncio at Berlin, and Monsignor Tedeschini, nuncio at Madrid.

Grove City Student Appointed Interne

HAROLD LLOYD FILM REMAINS IN ALDINE

Harold Lloyd and "Welcome Danger" began their second week in the Aldine yesterday, large audiences indicating that word had got around that this is about the most amusing picture in which the goggled comedian has yet appeared. Barring a few draggy scenes, most spectators find it to be as lively and hair-raising and funny as his memorable "Safety First."

SPECIAL FEATURES IN ALDINE BALLROOM

Jack and Tony, Pittsburgh recording and radio artists, are to be a special feature in the Aldine ballroom Wednesday and Thanksgiving nights. There will be prizes for patrons Thanksgiving eve. Jimmy Zummo's Orchestra furnishes music Thursday and Saturday nights and holidays.

'Pleasure Bound,' In Alvin, Fun Piece With Jack Pearl And Phil Baker Prominent

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

"PLEASURE BOUND," rollicking musical entertainment labeled "a verifunny revue," returned last night to the Shubert Alvin, where it was seen in its infancy last season. In the interim it has acquired smoothness, if not mellowness, and in the process has not lost any of the quality that made it popular on its previous visit, to judge by the hearty laughter and plentiful applause that greeted the efforts of the various artists at last night's performance.

Jack Pearl, Phil Baker, Aileen Stanley and Shaw & Lee head the company, and if there were no one else these alone would abundantly repay a visit to the Alvin. But there are numerous others in the large cast and all give a good account of themselves.

Comedy in Dialect

Pearl, inheritor of the Weberfields mantle, is good for laughs all the time he is on the stage. His characterization of the German dialect type is proof that there remains at least one "Dutch" comedian. Baker, too, is funny in a different way and his repartee with a foil in an upper box, although standardized and cut to a precise pattern, fashioned by Baker as a feature of his playing the accordion, is a riot of fun.

Miss Stanley, who makes commonplace songs seem uncommon, wins her share of applause in several appearances, including one with Baker, in which she sings "My Musical Man," to accordion accompaniment. Both vocal and instrumental rendition are effective.

Two Sad-Faced Comics

Shaw and Lee and their funereal comedy are a scream. Baker asks one how much he would charge to haunt a house. If you have seen them, as undoubtedly you have, you know which one. The remark identifies their character sufficiently. They live up to it merrily—and never crack a smile during their jests or funny dancing.

That covers the leads. Honors also are to be accorded to Rosita Moreno, as dainty and pleasing a dancer as ever stepped; to Tito Coral, baritone, for his song in "Spanish Fado," introducing Miss Moreno and the dancing ensemble in an alluring number; John J. and Mary Jennings, for a dashing Spanish dance; June O'Dea, for her pleasing voice and stepping; Ralph Locke, for comedy, and Margot Nelson, who dances prettily. The latter three also play leading parts in the story which holds 21 scenes of the production together.

And those reformers who "go among the people," like the Russian students used to do, may also take thought as to the dangers of educating the proletariat.

Triumph of Acting

So realistic is it all that we had almost forgotten the actors. Yes, it is interpreted by actors—this allegory or satire. They are excellent actors, as the Theater Guild usually has them. Whether it is Earle Larimore and Sylvia Field, as the very pleasant and appealing human hero and heroine, or whether it is Albert Van Dekker as the terrifying Robot giant, here is the art of acting.

And speaking of human qualities, Sydney Greenstreet, well known in Pittsburgh from old stock days, strikes one of the most sympathetic notes of the performance by his portrayal of the philosophic builder who alone survives of the old Adam's doomed race.

Helen Tilden as the nurse Nana also made a powerful impression. But to forget Ernest Cossart, Frederick Roland, Martin Wolfson, Henry Travers, Therese Guerini, Louis Veda, Helen Brown and Philip Foster would be to do less than justice to a perfectly balanced cast.

That cast was projected against a background both vividly impressionistic and subtly realistic. Rouben Mamoulian directed the production, Lee Simonson designed the settings, Kate Drain Lawson was responsible for the costumes. And the thing as a whole is so well rounded, so terrifying, that the audience must have felt like appointing a committee to make sure it is only allegory or satire, and not the real working out of the Marxian manifesto.

GIVES SELF UP AS BOOTLEGGER

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Nov. 26.—Greene County today laid claim to the most honest bootlegger when Tony Durant, 18, of Uniontown, gave himself up to police after escaping when he wrecked an automobile in which he said he had been transporting 54 gallons of moonshine.

State highway patrolmen found the wrecked car along the roadside and confiscated it. Durant then walked in and confessed. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Judge A. H. Sayers to pay a fine of $200.

License plates found on the machine were issued to Mrs. Martha Puskavich, of Uniontown.

BEGIN WORK ON SCHOOL

Excavation work has started for the new Ridgewood school, adjoining the Oakwood public school, West View, by the Miller Construction Company, general contractors.

The new school, of brick and tile, will contain four classrooms, a gymnasium-auditorium and two playrooms. The cost will be approximately $90,000.

De Molay Will Hold Business Meeting

A business meeting of Allegheny Chapter, Order of De Molay, will be held tomorrow evening in the Knights of Malta Temple, North Side. Petitions of new candidates will be voted on and business, including the organization of an orchestra and drill corps, will be discussed. The Rev. J. M. Briceland will address the members.

Majestic RADIO

Licensed under patents and applications of R. C. A. and R. F. L., also by Lektophone, Lowell & Dunmore and Hogan License Associates.

THERE STILL ARE PIONEERS!

. . . and Majestic Has Always Blazed the Way for Doing What Others Said "Couldn't Be Done"!

There still are pioneers. The dreams of yesterday are the accomplished facts of today . . . and the established practices of tomorrow.

When Majestic first announced its intention of producing and selling 6,000 complete quality radio receivers per day at prices heretofore undreamed of, immediately from a thousand throats a chorus swelled: "It Can't Be Done."

Yet Majestic did it . . . and, strange to say, those very ones who said "It Can't Be Done" are today trying to do it.

This is the reward of the Pioneer, the inventive spirit, the genius . . . first doubt and ridicule, and then the mad rush to pay him homage by accepting and emulating, as nearly as possible, the solid accomplishments he has fashioned from his dreams.

As with the individual, so with a business. And Majestic, especially, has paid the price as well as received the rewards of being a pioneer.

When Majestic recently announced price reductions, placing its radio receivers within the reach of the humblest purse, again its pioneering spirit was put to the acid test of detraction and comparison.

Again the critics will tell you "It Can't Be done." Yet Majestic is doing it, because of peculiar facilities and abilities which no other company can equal.

Here, then, the game of "follow the leader" must halt. And halting calls for explanations.

All manufacturers cannot reduce prices, of course. They have not the facilities and tremendous production, the large purchasing power, the ability to manufacture entirely from raw materials, that Majestic has. And hats off to them for their courage and frankness in stating that lower prices are impossible for them!

On the other hand, take with a grain of salt the advertisement which attempts to bolster up the non-reduction of prices by intimating that other companies who can reduce prices are doing so "to get rid of old models". . ."because of overstocked conditions" or for a multitude of other reasons which exist only in some one's imagination.

Majestic has no "over-production" because, manufacturing from raw materials, there is no occasion for guesswork . . . no heavy advance buying of parts . . . which the average manufacturer must contract for and store, perhaps only to "junk" later on as unused surplus.

For the same economic reasons Majestic is never confronted with the spectre of "left-over" models.

Majestic plants are operating daily, and Majestic dealers are receiving daily new Majestics of the same high standard of perfection that Majestic has always maintained, and always will maintain . . . now and forever. Majestic plants will operate because the public will have it so. The public has placed its unqualified stamp of approval on Majestic's ability to make the greatest radio values that the world has ever seen, become still greater values.

WOULD you have the patience to count the letters in the Bible? W. N. Hamilton, a coal miner, of Export, has done just that. We present his findings:

The Bible contains 3,566,480 letters, 773,746 words, 31,173 verses, 1,189 chapters, 66 books.

Mr. Hamilton has been a coal miner for 40 years. You know well enough how he spends his leisure.

"I have read the Bible through 20 times, he tells. Once I read the Bible in 60 hours."

Diligent, we checked up on Mr. Hamilton's report and discovered that the Bible is a very big book.

"Lucky Strike," the Chinese answered.

AS the two most enthusiastic golfers in this district we submit the names of Robert Clark, Sr., and E. P. Sands, of Sewickley.

Mr. Clark took up the game even before they spread that moss-covered joke which ends, "How many did you shoot today?" Both of them play 12 months the year over the Sewickley course but on rainy days they only play nine holes. Neither is a Bobby Jones.

We must add that if all the yardage covered by Mr. Clark and Mr. Sands were laid end to end this would be a better world in which to live.

For some 20 years an unclaimed reward of $1,000 has been gathering dust in the office of Fire Marshal Pfarr (no relation). It is for the arrest and conviction of anybody who starts a fire. If you, for instance, supplied Mr. Pfarr with information which led to the conviction of an arsonist you would be $1,000 richer.

But nobody has ever claimed the reward and Mr. Pfarr will tell you that it is difficult to convict a person of arson. Incidentally, Mr. Pfarr's salary (he has been fire marshal for 17 years) is $1 per annum.

BEFORE Jock Simco became a boxing judge he was a prizefighter. In one fight he was knocked out of the ring and into the lap of a first-row spectator who found his right hand cupped over Jock's elbow.

FUND NEEDS $250,000 MORE

Campaign to Close Tomorrow Night—Prospective Givers Asked to Send Donations

Whether Pittsburgh will raise practically a quarter of a million dollars for 31 of its leading philanthropies within two days is the question that confronts the leaders of the Welfare Fund campaign today.

Hope inspired by the courage and energy shown by the 7,777 workers during the last 10 days and the generosity with which the people of Allegheny County have met the appeal is regarded as the best augury of success of the canvass.

It was apparent yesterday that it would be physically impossible to canvass all the givers personally in order to close the campaign tomorrow night. Many contributors have sent in their subscriptions voluntarily. President Augustus K. Oliver, of the Welfare Fund, in a statement, urged others to follow their example. He said:

"There are tens of thousands of good men and women in Pittsburgh and the county who would like to express their gratitude for the blessings of life, health and reasonable prosperity by sharing with those less fortunate. We have done our best to call on every one but we know that in numerous instances our canvassers have been unable after repeated calls to find their prospective givers either at home or in their places of business.

"We therefore earnestly request all those who have not been seen to bring or mail their subscriptions direct to the Welfare Fund Headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building. If you can do this today your contribution will be included in the grand total which will be announced at the final meeting and dinner Wednesday evening."

COUNCILMEN WILL STUDY FIGURES

Estimates Providing Increase In Tax Await Final Action Of Finance Committeemen

Council's Finance Committee, today, will receive the city's 1930 budget of $27,533,350 that would require a tax levy of 26 mills on land and 13 mills on buildings.

Appropriations for 1929 totaled $25,594,600 and the current levy is 25 mills and 12½ mills.

The predicted 1930 tax levy was based on an estimate that the property valuations next year would total $574,000,000 on land and $580,000,000 on buildings.

Chairman Robert Garland of the Finance Committee will present the budget and probably will arrange for meetings to consider the various department requests.

The tax levy for 1930 should be fixed early in December so that the assessors books may be completed and sent to the treasurer's office for the collection of taxes beginning January 1.

Coupled with the prediction of the city's increase of a mill on land and a half mill on buildings is an announcement last week by the school board of a one-fourth mill increase to pay raises in teachers' salaries and other expenses.

TWO MILLION GAIN

The city's budget for 1930 is $1,938,750 greater than the current year's, the increase including $921,000 for pay raise for policemen and firemen as authorized by the voters at the last election and $421,000 for higher pay for other employes.

The last item would provide a 10 per cent increase in the pay of all employes paid on the per diem basis, excepting those paid the current union scale, and an increase of $120 a year to all employes whose salaries are not fixed by act of Assembly.

Mayor Charles H. Kline, in forwarding the budget to Council yesterday, explained that if the pay raises were eliminated the tax levy could be reduced 24.2 mills on land and 12.1 on buildings.

Other increased appropriations recommended by Mayor Kline were:

Mayview Home and Hospital, $181,000.

Deficit in the 1929 garbage and rubbish account, $125,000.

Increase for the 1930 garbage and rubbish account, $150,000.

FACING DEFICIT

Deficit in the 1929 account with the South Pittsburgh Water Company, $30,000.

Increase in the 1930 account with that company, $60,000.

Bureau of Engineering, $36,000.

Bureau of Bridges and Structures, $21,000.

Bureau of Tests, $32,000.

Water meter tests and repairs, $86,000.

Traffic planning bureau, $59,000.

Carnegie Library, $39,000.

Mayor Kline announced that he had cut from the requests of department heads, $814,000 for 350 additional patrolmen and 78 other employes in the police bureau, $180,000 for 58 additional firemen and 25 other employes in the fire bureau, $29,000 for 12 additional employes in the bureau of building inspection, $53,000 for motor fire equipment, $110,000 for repairs to fire engine houses, $51,000 for motor equipment in the police bureau.

FAVORS BONDS

The Mayor also cut a number of requested appropriations from the tax levy schedule in the belief that they more properly should be financed by short term bond issues. The items:

Bridge repairs, cut from $207,000 to $60,000.

New fire engine houses, relocation of an existing house and the reconstruction of two others, $222,000, all eliminated.

Traffic signal lights, cut from $421,000 to $243,000.

Extension of fire alarm system to Overbrook and parts of Mifflin Township recently annexed to the city and making changes necessitated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's improvements in Penn avenue, $45,000.

Fire alarm box replacement, cut from $20,000 to $10,000.

FAILS TO GET SEIZED WINES

Recovery of what was said to be one of the choicest collections of pre-war wines, cordials, whiskies and brandies in Pittsburgh was unsuccessfully sought by Attorney Kivie Wolf through proceedings in the United States District Court.

The beverages were alleged to be the property of M. N. Shapiro, 5650 Melvin street, who bought them, Wolf said, just before the prohibition act went into effect.

The wet goods were seized recently by Constable John Fiebig, and Shapiro was accused of unlawful possession. The case was dismissed, however, by W. S. Edwards, justice of the peace of Glenfield. The liquor, Wolf said, was turned over to United States prohibition agents, and is stored in the government warehouse.

Judge F. P. Schoonmaker dismissed Shapiro's petition on the ground the United States Court lacks jurisdiction.

Wolf said he would institute replevin proceedings in the state courts.

MINERS OUST UNION HEAD

John J. Watt, of Springfield, Ill., president of the National Miners Union since it was formed in Pittsburgh, September 5, 1928, was removed from office yesterday at a meeting of the national executive board in the union's offices, 119 Federal street.

The Illinois branch of the union at its convention which closed in Belleville, October 27, adopted a resolution demanding that Watt be removed from the presidency of the union and repudiating him as the national president in the Illinois organization.

Charges against Watt included an admission on his part of receiving money from John L Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, an organization against which the National Miners Union is waging bitter war. Other accusations against the deposed president involved his refusal to come to Pittsburgh to function in his official capacity.

ACTION AGAINST JUDGE DELAYED

Whether legal action will be taken against Judge T. C. Jones, alleged to have shot his farmhand employe, Tag Olsen, more than a week ago, depends upon Olsen, District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner declared today.

"In view of the report of County Detective James Reddington," Gardner said, "in which Olsen declared he did not know what happened, there is nothing to do but wait and see if Olsen wants to prosecute."

Olsen told County Detective Reddington he was so drunk, Gardner said, that he did not remember anything of the shooting until he regained consciousness a day or so later in the McKeesport Hospital.

Injured Miner Dies on Way To Aid

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Clark Wood, 49, of Continental No. 3, was found dead in the Maxwell mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, near here, yesterday. Mine attaches believe that Wood's arm was caught in a machine, and that he died from loss of blood before he could reach a mine telephone.

NARCOTIC SALE DENIED

The case of William Whitman, part owner of the Soho Pharmacy, 2200 Fifth avenue, on trial in the United States District Court for alleged violation of the Harrison Narcotic Act, is expected to go to the jury today.

Whitman, on the witness stand late yesterday, flatly contradicted government witnesses who said they bought morphine from him. He intimated that $50 in marked bills, which the government alleged he had accepted in payment for narcotics, had been "planted" on him.

Boy Badly Hurt In Fall From Car

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Falling from a spare tire on the rear of an automobile, on which he was riding, William Killinger, 10, Ambridge, sustained injuries which sent him to the Valley Hospital. The driver was unaware, police believe, the boys was riding on his car.

Disease Campaign Funds Requested

Dr. C. B. Maits, director of the health department, has asked Council to authorize the transfer of $5,000 from various accounts to provide funds to finance the city's pending campaign to prevent diphtheria.

Council Requested To Open Waite St.

F. P. Burr, of 1900 Arlington avenue, has asked Council for legislation opening Waite street, Sixteenth Ward, from Arlington avenue for a distance of 600 feet.

Christian Alliance Arranges Rally

The Christian and Missionary Alliance will hold a young people's rally in Carnegie Hall, Ohio and Federal streets, Thanksgiving Day at 2 and 7 p. m. The speakers will be the Rev. B. Bryan Musselman, of Allentown, Pa., a minister of the Mennonite Brethren in Christ Church and Mrs. Georgie Minter, missionary from China. There will be special singing and music by an orchestra.

North Boroughs 'Y' Speeds Fund Drive

Teams of the North Boroughs branch Y. M. C. A. are making a cleanup drive this week in the annual canvass for maintenance funds. To reach the goal sought these sums are needed in the different boroughs, according to those in charge: Bellevue, $650; Avalon, $86; Ben Avon, $530; Emsworth, $428; a total of $1,694.

Dr. Ewers to Speak At Bakers' Meeting

The Rev. Dr. John Ray Ewers, pastor of the East End Christian Church, was scheduled to address members of the Western Pennsylvania Bakers' Association at their luncheon today in the Fort Pitt Hotel. Horace W. Crider was to preside.

Box Company Asks Permit for Track

The Keystone Box Company has asked Council for permission to build a switch track across Smallman street to connect the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's yards with the company's plant.

'Ticklish,' Says He Killed In Self Defense

"They was ticklin' me, Judge, an' I didn't mean to kill anybody. I just swung that engine bolt in self-defense," William Tyree, Negro, on trial for the murder of W. E. Rose, of Irwin, testified in Criminal Court today.

"I'm very ticklish and Mr. Rose, John P. Haywood and George O'Brien were always after me. I told my boss and he said they'd quit bothering me, but the next day they were after me again.

"They got me cornered near an engine stall and said they were going to kill me. Then I grabbed the engine bolt and started swinging it. I didn't mean to hit anybody, but Rose did get hit. I ran away then, but later gave myself up to the railroad police," he explained.

The men were employed in the Pitcairn shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad at the time of the killing. Rose was struck on the head with the bolt, which was 18 inches long and weighed 20 pounds.

Council Receives Sewer Ordinances

Council has received ordinances for the construction of sewers estimated to cost a total of $3,200.

One measure would authorize a sewer on Breining street from Osakis street to an existing sewer at a cost of $700. Another bill would authorize a sewer on Swan way from Hampton street to an existing sewer at a cost of $1,400. A third ordinance would authorize a sewer on Vilsack street in the vicinity of Chislett street at a cost of $1,100.

The Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's Question: Two Western girls were willed a large sum of money with the stipulation they were to forego rouging, short skirts, movies and plays, bobbed hair and dancing. Would you accept a bequest under similar circumstances?

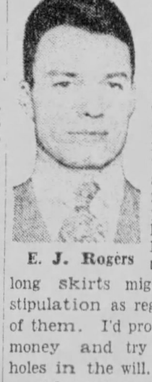
ROSE M. BERGER, East End, stenographer: "A person who is dead has no right to dictate to persons who are living, through clauses in a will, even though they are the recipients of money he leaves behind. Most persons who make wills of this type do so with their tongue in their cheek, thinking they'll get a lot of publicity when the will is read. I think that under the conditions, I'd refuse."

Rose M. Berger

J. R. PURVIS, Bellevue, government supply man: "I'd refuse the money if I was in the place of either of the two young women. I've been reading the story in the papers. Only today I noticed an editorial which said a smart lawyer should be able to find loopholes in the will, which would convince a judge to abrogate the whole thing. If I thought that possible, then I'd take the dough."

J. R. Purvis

E. J. ROGERS, East End, motion picture photographer: "I wouldn't accept. Why, if a girl accepted, she would be without any of the pleasures girls like most, in my opinion. There are very few girls who do not like to rouge up, wear short skirts, go to movies and plays, bob their hair or dance. However, the new fashionable long skirts might remove one stipulation as regards the length of them. I'd probably accept the money and try and find loop holes in the will. If this weren't possible, I'd return the money."

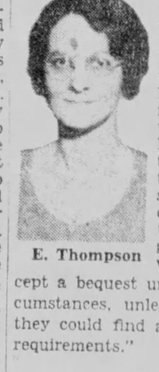


E. J. Rogers

MARY SAKASH, Crafton, typist: "I think it is utterly unreasonable for anyone to will money with such prohibitions in this modern day and age. It sounds silly. Every girl likes the pleasures that particular will prohibits, with very few exceptions. But on the other hand, if the amount of money willed me was sufficient, I'd take it and do my best to live up to the requirements. Nearly every other person would do the same thing."

Mary Sakash

EDITH THOMPSON, Brushton, stenographer: "Absolutely not! What would be the use of accepting a fortune and then have little if any way to enjoy it? Most people nowadays want to live their own lives without interference from the dictates of someone who is dead. I believe there are few girls, if any, who would accept a bequest under similar circumstances, unless they thought they could find a loophole in its requirements."



E. Thompson

EDITH OLSON, East End, typist: "Money received from this or any other source wouldn't be any good to one if such clauses were inserted in the will. Few would want to take money with such silly restrictions put on the individual who is to benefit by it. There's nothing wrong about the modern pleasures the man prohibits in his bequest. No matter how much money a girl would receive, it is doubtful whether she'd accept under those conditions."

Spouse Says Wife Jealous Of Baby Stabbed Him

Ralph G. Hunter, 34 Stowe street, Ingram, granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court by Judge James H. Gray from Mrs. Clara Hunter, 1600 Delrose avenue, Carrick, testified she was jealous of their young son.

Hunter declared that when he came home one night in January last and kissed the boy before kissing his wife, she stabbed him in the ribs with a paring knife.

When he showed her the wound, Hunter testified, Mrs. Hunter said it was "too bad, but she would do better next time. "They were married August 21, 1926. Hunter testified he left her March 5 last when she compelled him to leave his bed when he was sick, accusing him of "stalling" and telling him "to get out of bed and get to work."

Gil Rose's Log

CALEXICO, Cal., Nov. 26.

With a good Mexican pilot flew just now down over the mouth of Colorado River where it empties into the Gulf of Lower California. You know we talk about a water problem between us and Mexico of this Colorado River. Say when the Americans get through taking out water the river don't have any mouth and leaves no problem.

We have few unique spots in our country and this imperial valley is one of them. Below sea level and the most fertile spot outside the valley of the Nile, and that's only good for burial purposes. But this raises real alfalfa and cotton and grape fruit.

PUSH CAMPAIGN TO LOWER BIG LABOR TOLL

2,080 Killed at Work Last Year; Official Tells of Plans in Tarentum Talk

More than 1,500 residents of the Tarentum district last night heard Secretary Peter Glick, of the State Department of Labor and Indutry tell of what the state of Pennsylvania is doing to reduce the number of industrial accidents. The address was made in the auditorium of the Tarentum High School. District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner, a schoolmate of Glick's also spoke.

"The department is doing everything possible to reduce industrial casualties," Glick said. "A campaign of education is being carried on among employers and employes. So far 20,000 employers and 2,500,000 employes have signed safety pledge cards. During 1928 there were 150,000 accidents and 2,080 deaths in Pennsylvania industries. An investigation shows that approximately 90 per cent of the accidents were due to carelessness, negligence and thoughtlessness.

"These accidents not only produce tragic conditions in the homes of the victims, but cost the people of Pennsylvania approximately $76,000,000. The department is concerned most, however, with the humanitarian side of the problem."

Glick pointed out that the increase that has been shown in a report of accidents so far this year is due to the fact that the law requiring a report of all accidents is being strictly enforced. Previously many accidents were not reported.

A short sketch on safety was presented by a group of second grade students under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Mahaffey.

Damages Awarded Both Parties In Crash

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 26.—An unusual verdict was returned by a jury here when damages were awarded both parties in an auto accident case. The principals were John Smith and Charles H. Roecker. Each party claimed the other was at fault and the jury agreed.

Smith was allowed his claim for damages to his car. Roecker received damages for his car and the cost of medical treatment for his wife, who was hurt in the collision.

REFUGE FOUND BY EVICTED FAMILY

Friends Help Mother and Children Move Effects Into Their New Home

Mrs. Joseph Miller and her four sons, who were evicted from their home at Spring Garden avenue and Hazlitt street, Reserve Township, today were establishing themselves in three small rooms which they obtained near their former residence.

The action was taken by Mrs. Miller's sister-in-law, Miss Elfrieda Miller, of 2 Bonvue street, who purchased the house from Mr. Miller's mother, Mrs. Genovefa Miller, of Bonyue street. The mother-in-law bought the house at a sheriff sale September 7 after her son had obtained $5,000 as a loan on the property from her.

FRIENDS AID FAMILY

The furniture of the little family was carried to the street yesterday by two deputy sheriffs, working on the orders of court. The Miller family had occupied the residence for more than 14 years. Joseph Miller, the husband and father, disappeared July 4. His wife, and the children, Joseph, Jr., 14; Regis, 10; Clyde, 8, and Roy, 5, have received no word from the father and husband since that time.

According to the missing husband's mother, Mrs. Miller had refused to pay rent. The mother today said in explaining the action:

EXPLAINS ACTION

"When the sheriff sale was held, no buyers appeared and I was forced to buy the property myself. Then I sold it to my daughter. She was willing for Mrs. Miller and her children to live there and asked she pay $25 a month rent. This she refused to do and even rented out one part of the double house and collected $25 rent from it. My daughter sought to have her move and she refused. So the eviction was the only means to obtain the property.

"We feel sorry for them but the taxes and insurance must be paid and without income from the property, we could do nothing else. Just the other week, I met my grandson, Joseph, Jr., coming from school and I told him that if he ever needed anything that he knew where his grandmother lived."

Needs Fence So He Cuts Posts In Park

"I wanted to build a fence around my house," Venanzio Scenia, 44, of 440 Dupont street, explained to Oakland police following his arrest yesterday for chopping down a tree in Schenley Park, police reported.

Scenia was charged with being a suspicious person after Mounted Patrolman Samuel McCandless found him cutting down a huge locust tree near the bridle path.

Scenia was to be arraigned before Magistrate George England today.

Contracts Awarded For Streets, Sewers

Director of Works Edward G. Lang has announced the awards of contracts for public improvements totaling $29,210.95. Projects, successful bidders and prices were:

Grading, paving and curbing of McNeilly avenue from Pioneer avenue to the city line, A. F. Jordano Company, Inc., $18,404.25; sewer on Fifth avenue from South Highland avenue to College avenue, V. Valerio & Sons, $892.70; sewer on Maraden street from Sylvan avenue to Monongahela street, Le Donne & Casper, $912.90; sewer on Sirius street from Regulus street to Ames street, M. O'Herron Company, $8,901.10.

DUGGAN HEADS SAFETY BOARD

Frank L. Duggan was re-elected president of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council at its annual meeting held yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce. C. B. Auel, of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, was named secretary-treasurer and Frank W. Main was elected auditor.

The directors also elected E. F. Harris vice president in charge of industrial safety; W. M. Dickson, vice president in charge of public safety; R. M. Sherrard, associate superintendent of schools, vice president in charge of school safety and Grafton Duvall, vice president in charge of publicity.

Five new members were elected to the board of directors making the total of 65. The new directors are George R. Hahn, Clyde McDowell, W. M. Owings, Walter Titus, and George E. Clarkson. The first action of the new board was to endorse the codified traffic ordinance expected to be brought before city council in the near future.

MORE PARKING BANS SLATED

Effective next Monday, a 60-day trial period will begin for additional traffic regulations, according to a letter submitted to Council by Safety Director James M. Clark.

Traffic will be permitted to move one way only on Eloise street from Sherman avenue to Federal street.

No parking will be allowed any time on the east side of Fifth avenue extension from Liberty avenue to Penn avenue.

No parking will be allowed on either side of Reddour street from North avenue to Eloise street.

No parking will be allowed on the west side of Reddour street from Eloise street to Sampson street.

Clark also has forwarded to Council an ordinance forbidding parking on either side of Manchester avenue from Ridge avenue to Reedsdale street.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Francis M. Garber, College Hill, is recovering from injuries received when struck by a street car.

St. Luke's Lutheran To Pick Officers

The Council of St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West View, has named committees to nominate officers for the coming year and to prepare the annual budget. The committees follow: Nominating: Edward C. Werner, C. F. Wall and Howard H. Wilt; budget: R. F. Buckman, F. M. Wilson and John G. Reuter.

CHIMES RING IN SEAL SALE

The people of Pittsburgh will hear many of the chimes and bells of Pittsburgh ringing tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to mark the opening of the 1929 Christmas seal sale. The Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh has requested that this be done and the request has received the approval of Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, of the Catholic Church; Bishop Alexander Mann, of the Episcopal Church, and the Rev. Dr. J. William Claudy, executive secretary of the Council of Churches.

With the co-operation of Troop No. 42, Boy Scouts, of Homewood, the seal committee has begun distribution of posters and window cards calling attention to the seal sale. The sale opens tomorrow when more than 25,000,000 of the stamps will be mailed to residents of the city.

POSTAL BRANCH ADVOCATED IN WEST VIEW

Committee Named to Work For Better Mail Service; Road Improvement Asked

The appointment of a committee to work toward obtaining a branch postoffice for West View Borough featured the meeting of the West View Board of Trade last night in the Firemen's Hall. H. N. Hennon was named chairman of the committee.

The members who will serve with Mr. Hennon are Attorney Frank I. Gollmar, Fred S. Brown, Ralph Phelleps and H. C. Galbraith. West View is now served from the Bellevue Postoffice and it is stated by board of trade members that the community has now grown large enough to merit a branch station.

Resolutions also were adopted in which the County Commissioners are asked to reconstruct the Courtney Mill road, extending from the improved Perry highway to the proposed Ohio River boulevard.

The unenlightened woman who still suffers every month, receives little sympathy when she could so easily end those pains with Midol. This merciful medicine is not a narcotic, you know. Nor does it interfere in the slightest with the periodic process peculiar to feminine nature. It does banish the pain—in five to seven minutes. Because it acts directly on organs affected. If taken ahead of time, you may avoid a single uncomfortable moment. Try to realize what a truly wonderful discovery this is; it has made at least one form of suffering quite needless. When every drugstore has these harmless tablets isn't it foolish to be a martyr? Midol costs fifty cents, in metal case.*

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

AN APOLOGY

By

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO

Last Week-end, we offered the housewives of Pittsburgh and vicinity a special price of 39c per pound on Brooks' Pride Country Roll Butter, and the response was so tremendous that the demand for this splendid quality "A. & P. Time Controlled Creamery Butter" far exceeded our calculations with the result that before 6:00 P. M. on Saturday both of our Warehouses and practically all of our stores were entirely sold out.

To those of our customers, who were unable to secure their supply of Brooks' Pride Country Roll Butter, we offer a sincere apology for not having been able to care for their needs.

Carload replacements of fresh, new churned butter have been rushed to our Warehouses and you may be sure that every A. & P. Store will be ready (with entirely new stock) to take care of your requirements for Brooks' Pride Butter for your Thanksgiving Dinner.

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY BUILDINGS downtown are certain of being comfortably heated this winter regardless of the cold . . . Two hundred and fifty buildings will have no congestion of coal and ash trucks in front of their entrances . . . Two hundred and fifty buildings will be helping to give Pittsburgh a more healthful and cleaner atmosphere, by not emitting smoke and soot from their chimneys.

WHY?

Because, these two hundred and fifty buildings discontinued operation of their individual heating plants and are being served from two central stations.

Of inestimable value to industry and to residents is the banishment of smoke brought about through the abandonment of many individual power and heating stations serving buildings and industries in the downtown triangle . . . and, the elimination of more than 50,000 truckloads of coal and ashes during each 9 month heating season, from busy downtown streets. In their places have come the services of the public utilities . . . the central station service piped to the various buildings from two large steam heating plants.

Is Your Building One of the Two Hundred and Fifty?

We will be glad to analyze your heating problems and explain the application of our heating service. Call Grant 4300 . . . Line 237 . . . there is no obligation.

EIGHT HOMESTEAD MEN FREED OF VOTE FRAUD CHARGES

NEGROES ADMIT LYING ABOUT ELECTION

Pair Held After Testifying Story Connecting Group With 'Repeating' Untrue

In a hearing that was full of chuckles, Alderman Thomas A. Flanigan dismissed eight Homesteaders, charged with violating the election laws, and held two Negroes for court on charges of having voted repeatedly in the November election.

The hearing, held yesterday afternoon, was one of the dying rumbles of the annual election storm that sweeps over Homestead. The eight exonerated are Louis Markowitz, Pat Harrington, Marty Delaney, Lawrence Albies, Julius Ivey, Mike Masley and Edward Hertz. The two Negroes held are Joseph Boyd Bennett and Richard Durant. Unable to furnish bond they were re-committed to jail.

REPUDIATE CONFESSIONS

It was on the alleged confessions of Bennett and Durant that the eight were arrested. Both repudiated their confessions at the hearing. Both testified that they lied to District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner because they were not going to tell their stories until the proper time.

"When did you think was the proper time to tell the truth?" asked Assistant District Andrew T. Park.

"Right now, when we all are here together facing each other," answered Durant who was on the stand.

He explained that he made his confession because he was threatened by "Herbert Shanks, Sharpey Lacey and three other men."

"They had blackjacks and guns and they told us they were going to throw us in the river if we didn't," Durant testified.

ADMITS LYING

"You lied to District Attorney Gardner, too, didn't you?" Park asked Bennett.

"Yes, sir. Ab—so—lutely. And if you was in my place you'd have done just what I did," replied Bennett.

Bennett also testified that he did not tell his Attorney Ralph H. Frank the truth until noon yesterday. Frank withdrew from the case.

On cross examination District Attorney Gardner testified that he committed the two Negroes to jail about a week before the informations against them were sworn to. Gardner was called as a commonwealth witness. He testified that they came to his office, told the story of voting repeatedly and named the eight men as those who gave them money and whisky for voting in several election districts.

He said that their sworn statements on which he questioned them and ordered them held were given to him by Attorney B. McNaugher, of the Bar Association Election Fraud Committee, but that he did not know how the confessions were obtained.

CONSPIRACY HINTED

County Detective David Drexler testified, on cross examination by Vann, that he swore to the informations against the men about a week after they were jailed by Gardner.

Attorney Louis A. Little, representing the eight defendants, asked permission to make a statement at the conclusion of the hearing "to exonerate these men in the eyes of the public." He started by saying that "this is a part of a gigantic political conspiracy—" when he was stopped by Alderman Flanigan and Gardner.

"If there is any evidence of conspiracy, bring it to me in my office and we will investigate it," Gardner said.

Little told newspapermen that he would have a statement to issue today on the case after he confers with Gardner.

$50,000 ASKED IN AUTO DEATH

Mrs. Bertha Horvath, formerly of Munhall and now of South Norwalk, Conn., filed suit in Common Pleas Court against the Duquesne Light Company and the Equitable Automobile Company, asking $50,000 damages for the death of her husband, Samuel Horvath.

The suit alleged Horvath was struck by a truck of the defendant corporations while he was attempting to cross Fifth avenue at Sinclair street, McKeesport, January 11, dying the next day in the McKeespart Hospital. He left five minor children.

Man Killed in Fall From Third Floor

James Wilson, 50, was killed last night when he fell from a third-story window of the Island Avenue Hotel, 436 Island avenue, McKees Rocks, according to a morgue report.

Wilson lived at the hotel with a son, who was at a theater at the time of the accident. The victim apparently had lost his balance while opening a window.

EACH shipment of raw cane sugar is tested by government experts and again tested by refining experts before it is accepted and used in the making of Jack Frost Sugars! This is the first of the many continuous tests made every day to guarantee Jack Frost quality—and through it all no human hand touches Jack Frost Sugar until you open the package in your home.

TESTS

Every Day Guarantee to You the Splendid Quality of

JACK FROST SUGARS

It is not merely refined properly—it is tested again and again to make assurance doubly sure, to guarantee to you that each of the millions of pounds made every day conforms to the high standard long since established for all Jack Frost Sugars.

PURITY—QUALITY—SUPERIORITY

JACK FROST SUGAR MELODY MOMENTS — brought to you every Thursday evening over WEAF and NBC Chain, 9:30 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

TODAY'S TID BIT.

A policy has been written to insure a broadcast against failure to get on the air as scheduled in the case of the Bond Bakers program through WEAF Thanksgiving night. Some of the causes that might cost the insurers money are: SOS calls from ships at sea; fire in the studios; sleet storms breaking station antenna with ice; high winds, lightning, bats, rats or mice getting into transformers and causing short circuits; transformers blowing out; powerhouse breakdown, and earthquake.

"Unbridled Passion."
Patsey Delmar, a queen of stage folk and child of the streets, was given her theatrical start by a gifted producer of the dives, dance halls and honky-tonks of the Barbary Coast. She became a top-notcher among the favorites. With the world at her feet and on the brink of lasting fame, Patsey falls madly in love with the producer who made her success possible.
But Victor Dazell, her benefactor, is already married and Patsey finds herself cast in the role of "the other woman." Greenwich Village's colorful atmosphere is excellently reproduced and listeners to this drama will be accorded some terse moments during the drama, for Patsey discovers that she exists only for her lover and that genuine heart-felt love springs from deeper things than the tinsel of life.

9:00 P. M.

KDKA—Johnson-Johnson.
Leaps from Auto.
Beginning with a narrow escape from a speeding automobile driven by the hired thugs of that underworld potentate, "The Chief," Jimmy Otis, hero reporter, has thrill after thrill in the program tonight. "The Chief's" dirty work lies in his attempt to lend a reformed criminal back on the downward path by compelling him to crack a safe. Matching wits with "The Chief" to frustrate such a dastardly deed saves Jimmy, his girl friend, Dorothy, and his pal, Rawson, the funny English reporter, plenty of excitement.

Millions of Safety Symbols

Each year more than 120,000,000 labels of the Underwriters' Laboratories are attached to various articles, devices and materials used by the American people.

Many of your housekeeping utilities—much of the equipment which serves in the homes, stores, factories, offices, schools, theatres and other public buildings—bear the well-known Symbol of Safety—the label of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.—because they have earned that right through severe test and inspection.

Manufacturers Co-operate

In co-operation with many thousands of manufacturers, the Underwriters' Laboratories scientifically establish and safeguard the fire and accident hazards of many thousands of different devices and materials.

In 1928 this work involved nearly 60,000 inspections in 63 cities, hundreds of re-examinations, and approximately 4,800 laboratory tests and examinations by the more than 400 engineers and especially trained employes.

A Public Service

Underwriters' Laboratories, incorporated in 1901, was established and is maintained by The National Board of Fire Underwriters. It is now the largest privately owned testing laboratories devoted to the conservation of life and property.

The principal testing station is in Chicago. It is an exceedingly interesting place to visit. Scientists and engineers from all over the world go there to see the work and examine the methods used. The public is always welcome.

By thus safeguarding life and property the Stock Fire Insurance companies make one of their most substantial contributions to the public welfare.

Miss Pat

by ELENORE MEHERIN

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Mary Patricia Dawn, young and beautiful, is in love with Guy Elliott, handsome aviator. Guy is perfecting a plane which old William Bryce is to manufacture. Pat meets Bryce's widowed daughter-in-law and wonders if Guy is intrigued by Barbara's beauty. Bryce sends Tom Burns, a workman, to jail for attempted robbery. Pat has gay times with Lee Templeton, young college student. Pat's father is stricken with pneumonia.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XVIII.

It rained that afternoon—a soft May shower. Then the sun came flaring out, flinging a gay, audacious farewell.

Pat felt them in her hair. She stood quietly, her hand in Guy's. And her heart full to bursting.

"Don't feel so, Pat dear."

"It's past the time, Guy. He should be better. It's eight days now."

"But he holds on. He's determined to live. That counts."

There was a kind of wildness in the quiet of her voice, a wild ardor that made him now put his arm about her—

"I've not thought for a moment that he won't be better, Guy. I wouldn't dare. It couldn't be."

No! The day would not dawn when Richard should pass. Others may die, but not this one of ours. Death may walk near and beckon. We will not see!

These days would pass and with them the terror, the dark nightmare unreality. They would all be laughing again in the sunny garden.

Pat went back to the house and slowly up the stairs. No matter how often she approached her father's room, she had always to fight this tugging reluctance. Her heart denied that Richard lay in there struggling.

Here, near the threshold, the grating rasp of her father's breath became audible. She didn't grow used to this.

And she didn't grow used to the look in Richard's eyes. Blue, dear eyes, that were always agleam with humor, sandy lashes curling about them youngly. Hardest of all to bear was their pitiful anxiety now as he called for Laura, for the doctor. He clung to them.

Judson Bly was Richard's friend. Twenty years they'd been friends. He came now and fought for her father's life. Every night he was here and every morning. He brought other men with him.

When Pat reached the room, the doctor was sitting at the bed. Her father lay on his back, his face flushed and bearded. The sandy growth made him look fearfully gaunt. His eyes were open and fevered, the pupil of the right greatly dilated. This gave him a frightened air. He was incoherent and seemed fighting off some creature to whom he pointed.

"I won't go! He thinks I'm going. I'm not!"

Moments of fitful sleep. Then his lips moving feverishly.

Oh, if he could but sleep—if he could have that deep rest they awaited. And the fever would leave. Like a miracle the pain would be done. He would smile up at them—the old Richard again. Any moment now this awaited crisis should come, should bring the heavenly relief.

Pat sat there in the shadow and watched the doctor. He had his fingers clasped about her father's wrist and he looked before him with an almost grim intensity.

Finally he rose. He whispered something to her mother and stepped noiselessly from the room.

Pat stole after him.

"Is he better?"

"He's holding his own. Just that."

"Isn't that enough? You said it was wonderful the way he fought—the way he bore the pain."

"Well?"

The doctor spoke as though he hated to make the admission:

"The strain is bitter on his heart."

"You don't think" she pleaded, clinging to him—"you don't think—"

"Pat—I hope. There's danger—the very gravest danger."

"You felt his pulse, didn't you? I did, too. It's not faint."

"His pulse is very, very high."

Pat stood in the path listening to the wheels of the machine crunching over the pebbles. Then she crept along the hedge to the garage. She went and sat in her little car. She put her head against the cushion and tried not to cry. But she remembered the night she told her father how she loved Guy, and how she feared he cared for Barbara Bryce. Oh, the way Richard said with such indignation:

"She can't hold a candle to you, Pat! Not a candle to you!"

Then she was seeing him that morning as he waved her from the train. Why had she not foreseen? Why had she not held him back? Then all this would not have happened. But she had been blind. They were all blind. They had let him go away when he should have been home and in bed and all of them gently serving him.

He would not so have failed in their need!

She cried softly—freely—the strain of the week sweeping over her. But all at once she was quiet. Someone was pushing the door—someone saying softly:

"Pat, gee—what did he say, Pat? Why did you come in here? Why're you staying in here?"

"Gosh, are you crying, Pat?"

"I was—yes. It's because I'm tired. That's all."

"Is he gonna get better?"

"Yes—he is!"

And for two days longer Pat held wildly to this hope. Monday the doctor forced Laura from Richard's room. He called Pat and said to her:

"See that she stays in bed. She's got to rest."

"He needs her," said Pat quietly.

"All that can be done for your father, Pat, has been done."

"What!"

He took her arm and said firmly, pleadingly: "Pat—one of you has GOT to stand up to it. Your mother cannot. She has hoped too much."

"What do you mean? He's not . . . He won't——"

"No," said Pat wildly. "No, it isn't!"

He leaned against the wall. He said, suffering:

"Pat, what do you suppose your father would expect of you? What would he do for you?"

* * *

In that quiet room, Pat watched while the nurse moved in a dim, silent blur. She was afraid whenever her mother was absent. Laura had a power. She was holding Richard to her; she would not let him die.

The nurse came and touched Pat's shoulder. "He wants to talk to you. No, not your mother. To you. Spare him every effort."

Except for a week, fitful casting about of his hand, Richard seemed sunk in oblivion. After a long while, he said, between gasps, and in a tone infinitely terrible to Pat: "I'm not going to make it. Pat, help her—your mother. Understand? Say it for me?"

She kissed him. With a wild, trembling tenderness she closed her eyes against his gaunt cheek. "Help mother? Oh—of course. But we're holding you. Darling, we're winning for you. You will make it."

"Don't cry."

"Why, I'm not," she answered, laughing and wiping tears from her father's face.

He seemed so passive, so remote, so closed off in piteous aloneness. Pat wondered if he listened when she promised to be brave—oh very strong and brave; wondered if he caught that frightened break in her voice.

He looked full into Pat's eyes; He said with a strange quiet, "I count on YOU."

She answered awed and feeling that her heart died: "Count on me!"

The doctor returned. He motioned Pat into the hall.

"Go and call your mother."

"So soon?"

"Yes. Get Dickie, too."

"Oh," said Pat, clutching the doctor's sleeve. "Isn't he better? He hasn't coughed this whole hour."

"He's too exhausted to cough. Call your mother."

But Pat stood clinging to Judson Bly's sleeve. Finally, and fighting to bring out the words: "My father isn't dying?"

Useful Shelf

A little shelf somewhere near your sink is a boon for the bottles and tins you wish to keep handy. Keep here as well a bottle of glycerine and rose-water and half a lemon for your hands. Along the edge of this shelf have a few hooks nailed and on these hang saucepan brushes, soap containers, even a small saucepan that is to be kept handy.

Worry Over What Others Think, Trouble You Needn't Have—Fay King

DON'T WASTE TIME WORRYING ABOUT WHAT OTHERS ARE THINKING OR SAYING ABOUT YOU! NOTHING INTERESTS ANYONE SO MUCH AS HIS OWN AFFAIRS, AND EVERYONE HAS TROUBLES OF HIS OWN!
IF WE COULD ONLY FORGET OUR OWN TROUBLES AS QUICKLY AS OTHERS FORGET OUR TROUBLES, THERE WOULD BE VERY LITTLE WORRY IN THIS WORLD!
FAY-KING

By FAY KING

Why, other folks haven't got time to worry over your troubles. They've got troubles of their own.

No matter how rich or poor or great or small anyone is, they have their troubles of one sort or another. The most shocking incident in any other life is not nearly so important to them as the most trifling trouble in their own.

If they do discuss you, it is only for the moment. You are soon forgotten by both teller and listener!

Gossip is not as malicious as those gossiped about imagine it to be. It is merely the spoken news of the moment and as soon forgotten.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADLLE GARRISON

Dicky, 'Getting Even' With Madge, Uses Schoolboy Tactics

DICKY'S nonchalant proposal to send Edith Fairfax to plan for me the betrothal dinner I meant to give for our royal guests left me breathless with astonishment for an instant. Then indignation surged over me, but my self-respect and a warning little signal from Lillian kept me from betraying it. With a mighty effort of will power I managed to say cheerfully, even enthusiastically:

"Why, that will be splendid But are you sure she can spare the time?"

"I'll see that she does," Dicky said. "It's time she saw something besides that office of ours. I don't believe she's stepped out of it in the day time in months. She hasn't taken her vacation yet, although I'm going to chase her away as soon as I can spend more time at the dump. But she'll love a stunt of this sort. Only—" he hesitated. "It won't look exactly clubby to have her help with the arrangements and not come to the dinner, will it?"

His eyes were fixed on mine, and there was something inscrutable in them. But I was prepared for anything now, and I pumped up my friendliest smile and cheeriest tones.

"Please give me credit for a grain of common sense, also social decency," I said with a laugh. "Of course, I shall invite Edith to the dinner. She will just make our toll complete. We should have been a woman short without her. I only hope she has no previous engagement."

"I'll warrant none that she cannot break," he said hastily. "She's been too busy and too tired to do much social stuff."

"I only hope this won't be a burden to her," I said with careful solicitude.

"Oh, she'll eat something of this sort up," he said. "You know old Ede."

I reflected mentally that I did indeed known Edith Fairfax, perhaps better than he guessed. But aloud I only said quietly.

"I know that she is always most generous with her time, but this seems almost an imposition. However, you probably know best what her reaction will be. Will you telephone her or shall I?"

He looked hard at me again, still with that inscrutable gaze.

"Suppose I telephone her first," he said, "and tell her I wish she'd come over and bring the mail for me. I'll also say that you want to speak to her. How will that do?"

"Splendid!" I approved effusively, but I did not dare look at Lillian for fear I should laugh outright.

For suddenly the inscrutable look in Dicky's eyes had been interpreted to me, and the answer filled me with mirth. He was "getting even" in small boy fashion for my refusal to give up my work with Philip Veritzen unless he dissolved his partnership with Edith. In effect, he was saying: "I'll show you what I can do when I try," and I had hard work to keep my risibles in working order, for I had an unholy sense of triumph over him. Plainly he had expected me to be sulky and unwilling to accept Edith's aid. My prompt falling in with his plans had disconcerted him. I knew that by a sudden letting down of his exalted manner.

He walked to the telephone without further colloquy and asked for his office number. And, though I was filled with glee at his discomfiture, of which I now was sure, I could not help clinching my fingers in my palms at the tone of his voice as he talked to her.

"Lo, Ede, how's the girl. Yes, just got in—that is, only an hour or two ago. This is the first chance I've had to telephone. How's everything? Good! Look here, I don't want you to think I'm asking you to double up as an errand girl, but if you could come over here to the hotel with the mail I'd be eternally obliged. I can't get away or I'd come over. Just leave the office flat, for Madge and Lil and Harry are here, and they'll keep you busy chatting all the afternoon. Here's Madge now. She has an especial favor she wants to ask of you."

I hoped fervently that there was no indication in my face of my primitive desire to hit him over the head with the telephone receiver and then tell Edith to travel as fast and as far as she could within the next hour. Instead I managed quite a creditable smile as I took the receiver from his hand and nally obliged. I can't get away

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A SMART STYLE FOR A DAYTIME DRESS.

Printed velvet is suggested for this pleasing model. The front is mounted on a yoke with diagonal lines and a V-neck opening. A plaited insert forms fullness over the center of the front below the hips. The sleeve is a fitted model, and is finished with a neat cuff. The fullness of the dress is held at slight blousing, with a narrow belt. One could make this style in silk and wool tweed or in canton crepe.

The pattern is cut in five sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 38-inch size will require 4⅛ yards of 39-inch material. For cuffs and belt of contrasting material ¼-yard 39 inches wide is required, cut crosswise. To finish the yoke and cuff edges with bias binding will require 2 yards 1½ inches wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plait fullness extended is two yards.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

To keep sandwiches soft and fresh for hours after making them, dip a cloth in cold water and wring it nearly dry. Wrap it around the sandwiches and place the sandwiches in an earthenware jar. Cover the jar and place the jar in a pan of cold water.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

For the Graduate

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. How should a girl ask a boy to take her to a graduation dance if she has a bid?

2. Should a formal or informal dress be worn at a dinner dance?

3. When coming home late with a boy—too late to invite him in—what should you tell him?

4. How should bouillon soup be eaten?

5. Is it necessary to wear silver slippers at a semi-formal dance?

6. When arriving home with a boy, should a girl offer him her key if he doesn't ask for it?

PROSPECTIVE GRADUATE.

SHE should write him a note of invitation, explaining to him that she has the tickets, and that she would like to have him accompany her.

2. A formal dress.

3. Just graciously extend your hand as you say goodnight.

4. Test the heat of the bouillon with a spoon the first few mouthfuls and then, if you wish, drink the rest as you would drink a cup of tea.

5. No.

6. No. If he does not know that gallantry suggests that he take her key and unlock the door, I guess that she will have to do this herself.

The Seat of Honor

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

RUTH.

I SUGGEST that the hostess make her sister an assistant hostess and ask her to sit opposite her at the table. Then she will be able to direct the conversation at her end of the table and socially "keep the ball rolling." The hostess, if this plan is adopted, will then ask her best friend to have the seat of honor at her right.

Finger-Bowls

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

May fingers be dipped into finger-bowls and applied to lips, especially if food is greasy? (In order not to soil napkin with grease spots.)

2. Should finger-bowls be served after a fish or meat course, if greasy food is served, or before dessert, or after dessert only?

3. Is it the latest method to serve salad before dessert?

K. T.

YES, but very unostentatiously.

2. Finger-bowls would not be served after fish or meat course unless some item of the course must be taken in the fingers. They would be served, for instance, after steamed clams, melon, artichoke, corn on the cob, and after any food that soils the fingers. Then after dessert.

3. It has always been the best kind of service to serve the salad as a separate course, between the meat course and the dessert course. Then, if it is served as a separate course, it can be accompanied by cheese in some form and crackers.

Winter Sports Costumes

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I am to be married Christmas week, and my fiance and I have decided that we are going to spend our honeymoon in the Adirondacks.

Could you please inform me of the proper clothing to take? We intend to take part in all the sports that are offered.

J. J.

TAKE the clothes that are appropriate for wear in winter resorts—woolens, heavy and warm. Your skating suit should have either knickerbockers or a very short skirt. The best thing for you to do is to go to a sports clothes shop or department store and have them show you the things they sell for winter wear.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Golf Widowlogues

"THERE'S a good man gone cynic!" remarked Mrs. Divot, nodding cordially to a well set-up man in tweeds. "Bob Moran vows he's off women and stocks for life!"

* * *

"He WOULD be!" rejoined Mrs. Green. "Just like so many other men who have been speculating too wildly in stocks and love, the past few years. When a man speculates, he should be satisfied with small profits; he shouldn't plunge. But, Bob, like all the rest of them, was looking for miracles!

HELEN ROWLAND

* * *

"He is verging on Indian Summer, even though he doesn't look it. To a woman anywhere near his own age, he would look like God's perfect Gift—Prince Charming in the flesh. But to the baby-faced little doll, I saw him rushing around with before the Wall street panic, he probably looked just like dear old Santa Claus!

* * *

"As long as he kept a good car and could play Kris Kingle, with orchids and dinners and good shows, he probably seemed quite dazzling to her. But, when the slump left him flat, and he had to step out of the role of Santa, he didn't fit her young idea of Prince Charming. Any blobby, red-cheeked boy would have suited better.

* * *

"A woman around his own age would never have noticed the fine little wrinkles around his splendid eyes; and the little gray patches over his ears would have struck her as charmingly distinguished-looking. But the eyes of youth are keener and more critical.

* * *

"There's Alice Darrow, for instance, who'd have made him a gorgeous wife-and-mother. And, what a man in the forties needs, when he marries, is a mother to look after him—not a babe to keep him from stepping and worrying. He needs companionship—not thrills and whoopee.

* * *

"When he looks for love, he should find a woman who speaks his own language; who played the same games in school that he played, and sang the same songs that he sang; who has the same tastes, the same meal-hours, the same bed-hours and the same outlook on life. The violin age simply can't keep step with the saxophone age!

* * *

"Besides, when a man invests in stocks, he should pick something that he knows all about—something solid and staple and steady. And, when he invests in love, he should pick somebody he understands—someone solid and stable and companionable. Wildcat stocks and wild love-affairs always lead to a lot of smashed hopes and dreams and illusions."

* * *

"Well," suggested Mrs. Divot cheerfully, "perhaps Bob will turn back to Alice, now, for consolation."

* * *

"No," sighed Mrs. Green, shaking her head dubiously, "he'll probably go right on through life just being a sad, embittered misogynist and a confirmed woman hater, thinking that life and fate have cheated him.

* * *

"Once a man has had an Indian Summer fling—a taste of false youth or false fortune, he is never anything but a cynic. Speculating in stocks is dangerous enough—but speculating in love and women is positively foolhardy! Especially, after 35!"

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Guard Infant From Usual Mouth Ills

MANY times I have said that the mouth of a baby is like a magnet. It attracts everything within reach. It is even more compelling because it draws other things besides those that are magnetic.

DR. COPELAND

All of us find it amusing to interest a young baby at play. It reaches for everything, thrusts its fist into the mouth and tries even to get its foot into that yawning cavity.

The wonder is that the delicate tissues of the mouth are not wounded and infected far more frequently than usual. As a matter of fact, a delicate baby is apt to suffer from some variety of sore mouth.

During a fever, inflammation is not uncommon. Indigestion may have this as one of its painful symptoms. Infection from some unclean articles thrust into the mouth, or from contaminated food, may set up trouble here.

If the tissues do become inflamed, the mouth will be hot and extremely sensitive. In consequence nursing is almost impossible. The parts are so sore that the child cannot bear to hold the nipple. On attempting to nurse, the baby will drop the breast and begin to cry.

When the mouth is sore the tissues become very red. The lining of the cheeks, the covering of the gums and the throat will be almost scarlet in color.

At first the mouth is extremely dry. Pretty soon the saliva begins to appear, and within a short time it fairly pours from the mouth.

These symptoms are regarded by many as signs of "teeth." As a matter of fact, they are not from this cause at all, but are produced as I have suggested.

There is a well-defined disease of the mouth known as "thrush." It is met in weak, feeble children, particularly those that are bottle fed.

This ailment, too, may be traced to lack of cleanliness. Unless the bottles and nipples are kept absolutely clean this form of infection is likely to occur.

What has been said is enough, I am sure, to indicate the necessity for cleanliness. Only clean things should enter the baby's mouth. That cavity should be cleansed frequently. Prevention is far better than cure.

Answers to Health Queries

E. L. Q.—What can be done for oily hair?

A.—Careful shampooing and rinsing and the use of a good hair tonic about twice weekly should bring about results.

* * *

MRS. F. L. B. Q.—What can be done to cure pimples?

A.—Correct the diet by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. Eat simple food. Constipation should be avoided.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Wednesday, November 27

WHILE the solar configuration on this day is assisted by Mars to incite to much initiative and enterprise, yet the lunar aspects to the planets make for agitation, dispute, vexation and complications. There is hint of trouble with documents or writings and some losses may be entangled with litigation.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a lively and exciting year, with enterprise and initiative, but there may be annoyance or loss through law or documents. Sign all contracts cautiously.

A child born on this day may be clever and enterprising, but may have difficulties and annoyances to surmount.

When Babies CRY

Babies will cry, often for no apparent reason. You may not know what's wrong, but you can always give Castoria. This soon has your little one comforted; if not, you should call a doctor. Don't experiment with medicines intended for the stronger systems of adults! Most of those little upsets are soon soothed away by a little of this pleasant-tasting, gentle-acting children's remedy that children like.

It may be the stomach, or may be the little bowels. Or in the case of older children, a sluggish, constipated condition. Castoria is still the thing to give. It is almost certain to clear up any minor ailment, and could by no possibility do the youngest child the slightest harm. So it's the first thing to think of when a child has a coated tongue; won't play, can't sleep, is fretful or out of sorts. Get the genuine; it always has Chas. H. ILL LUCK DOGS NITTANY CAPTAINS

THE Penn State football team that will appear at The Stadium on Thursday, to wind up the Pittsburgh college football season with the annual battle against the unbeaten Panthers, has been the victim of the same peculiar jinx that has followed other Mt. Nittany elevens in recent years. That is, the same ill luck that has dogged Penn State captains for several seasons is still hanging on the heels of Jack Martin, the Sharon boy, who was chosen to lead the Lions this fall.

Jack Martin

Martin was shifted from the line to the backfield for the present season, and as a result of the shift he has spent most of his time on the bench. He played in the backfield for several games, but when Tommy Evans rounded into condition it was decreed by the coaches that Tommy was "too good to be kept out of the lineup." In consequence, Martin was displaced.

LAST year's captain, Don Greenshields, never got into a uniform, and Johnny Roepke and Ken Weston, who preceded him in 1927 and 1926, respectively, were the victims of repeated injuries that hampered their effectiveness, though Roepke managed to surmount his obstacles.

Speaking of captains, this year's Penn State eleven is well supplied, even when Martin is out, as in addition to the Sharon leader of the grid forces there are three other varsity captains on the football squad. Neil Stahley, right end, is basketball captain; Marty McAndrews, center, is captain of the boxing team, and Tony Panaccion, right tackle, is golf captain. All three are seniors at Penn State and will be playing their third football game against Pitt on Thursday.

WHILE there are a few more boys from the Philadelphia district than from the Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania section on the Penn State squad this fall, this region is well represented. Besides Captain Martin, Coach Hugo Bezdek's forces include George Lasich and Chuck Gillard, of Clairton; Earl Edwards, of Greensburg; Stan Stempeck, of Turtle Creek; Red Duvall, of Monessen; Bill Lohr, of Pitcairn, and Johnny Wahl, of Beaver Falls.

Only Lasich and Edwards have started in every game, but all except Lohr have been in various contests. Lohr missed the training season, but came out after classes opened, and has worked his way up to the second team backfield. He was regular quarterback for the freshmen last fall.

George Lasich

IF the Tournament of Roses committee is in a quandary as to what coast team to pick for the New Year's Day football game at Pasadena, since Stanford defeated California so decisively last Saturday, and in view of the fact that national public opinion is divided as to whether Pitt or Notre Dame ought to receive the other invitation, would it not be a popular solution of the whole problem to invite the Panthers and the Irish to play against each other in the annual classic? That would at once provide a way out of the coast muddle, give both Pitt and Notre Dame the recognition they have earned, and furnish one of the greatest football tests ever staged. It won't be done, of course, as Californians will insist on native sons for one end of the contest, but if they were looking only for a real football game, the best that could be arranged, and one that the whole country would like to see put on, a Pitt-Notre Dame battle would be the answer.

FROM C. O. L. comes the following: "I cannot understand how Judge Steffen makes out that Elder, of Notre Dame, is superior to Uansa, of Pitt, as a ball carrier, when Uansa carried the ball farther against Carnegie Tech than did Elder and the entire Notre Dame team, even though Toby did not play through the entire game. True, Parkinson, the greatest fullback in the game, is a great aid to Uansa, nevertheless it is hard to see where Elder is the better ball carrier."

On the same subject, "Football Fan" writes: "I wonder what Judge Steffen bases his opinion on. Elder may be faster than Uansa, but the Pitt flash did more damage to Wally's team in five minutes than Elder could do all afternoon. As for Pitt's defensive power not being as great as Notre Dame's, it is not customary for a team with a lead of 21 points to put up an airtight defense. The Judge must not forget that his Tartans scored those two touchdowns against a patched-up team."

MOST football men believe that with Joe Nash taking the place of the disabled Tim Moynihan at center, Notre Dame will be able to present a strong enough line next Saturday to defeat Army. They consider that wall too powerful to be broken up by the loss of even so good a man as Moynihan.

Joe Nash

Tom Leib, coach of the South Bend forwards, says it is the line that gives the team the title of "Fighting Irish," despite the Carideos, Savoldis, Kaplans and Schwartzes in the backfield. "It's Irish from end to end," he says, naming off Collins, Twomey, Cannon, Moynihan, Law, Leahy and Conley. "Give us the Irish line, a couple of Italians and some other nationalities behind us, and we're on our way."

MOST defeated fighters nowadays are ready with alibis within a few minutes after their unsuccessful bouts, but it took Jim Jeffries more than 19 years to unload one. After thinking it over since that memorable Fourth of July in 1910, at Reno, Jeff has finally come up with his own explanation of the 15-round knockout he suffered at the hands of Jack Johnson in their heavyweight championship battle. The former titleholder says he had no business in the ring with Johnson and never had a chance to beat the Negro.

NO one will contradict him on either of those points. But here's the new stuff: "It was only my friendship for Tex Rickard that made me take that fight," Jeffries adds.

'I was a sick man when I fought Johnson and even before I took the match. When I was in my prime I could have beaten Johnson. I am not making any excuses for myself at this late day, but I think I ought to state my case."

JEFF says he could not longer refrain from breaking his lengthy silence after looking around at some of the socalled heavyweight fighters of the present day who aspire to wear his old mantle. He

YORK GETS SHORTSTOP

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—The purchase of Erwin (Dutch) Krehmyer, shortstop, from the Bloomington, Ill., club of the Three-I League, was announced last night by J. H. Schmuck, president of the York club of the New York-Pennsylvania League.

PENN POLISHES UP

SPARKY ADAMS GOES TO CARDS FOR CASH

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

Earl (Sparky) Adams, second baseman and shortstop of the Pirates the past two seasons, today was sold to the St. Louis club of the National League. In making the announcement, the Pittsburgh club officials did not divulge the amount of money received for the services of the infielder. It was not a waiver transaction they said.

Sparky Adams

Adams, with Outfielder Floyd (Pete) Scott, came to the Buccos from the Cubs in exchange for Outfielder Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler after the close of the 1927 season. The local officials decided to trade Cuyler after a long controversy with the player and in time a deal was completed with the Chicago directors.

Sparky Adams' Record in Baseball

SPARKY ADAMS, sold today by the Pirates to the Cardinals, has been in professional baseball 10 years. He is aged 33, Pottsville, Pa., being his birthplace. He always has been a resident of Eastern Pennsylvania. He began his diamond career with Danville, N. C., of the Piedmont League. The Cardinals owned his services on two previous occasions. He was purchased by St. Louis from Danville and then optioned to Syracuse. The Cardinals later sold him to Wichita, from which team the Cubs purchased him. He came to the Pirates from the Cubs.

Year.	Club.	Games.	Batting Ave.
1920—	Danville	119	.326
1921—	Syracuse	164	.266
1922—	Wichita Falls	156	.340
1923—	Chicago	11	.250
1923—	Chicago	95	.289
1924—	Chicago	117	.280
1925—	Chicago	149	.287
1926—	Chicago	154	.309
1927—	Chicago	146	.292
1928—	Pittsburgh	135	.276
1929—	Pittsburgh	73	.260

STARS HERE FOR A TIME

Sparky's first season with the Buccos was fairly successful; he scored almost 100 runs and batted .276 in 135 games. His second base play was not up to his Chicago standard, but he moved over to the shortfield in an emergency and was a big sensation for more than a month. He played more than 30 games without an error after taking Glenn Wright's role.

Adams was injured in an exhibition game last spring, but he was able to get into the opening lineup. His efforts were not up to expectations and he soon was benched. At intervals during the season he was used, but he could not find his stride and finished the year with a batting mark of only .260 and participation in 73 games.

MAY SUCCEED FRISCH

Sparky may get a chance to play regularly for the Cardinals. It is highly probable that he will get a chance to perform at second base, with Frankie Frisch moving over to the hot corner.

Elaborating on the Adams deal, Pirate officials stated that an effort was made to secure a St Louis player, but the Cardinal management would not do business on the athlete wanted, so a straight sale was arranged.

JACKET COACH BADLY BURNED

Frank Wolf

Due to nasal trouble, Wolf could not smell the burning cloth when his sleeping garment ignited from a small stove in his bedroom, and by the time he discovered the garment was afire, it had gained such headway that he was burned badly in extinguishing it. His left leg above and below the knee was burned, as were both hands. He was ordered to bed today by attending physicians.

BATTLING GIZZY VICTOR OVER COLLINS

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Battling Gizzy, of Washington, won a decision in 10 rounds over Ray Collins, of Erie in a feature bout here last night. They weighed in at 133 pounds.

Harry Spencer, Washington, won the decision over Nick Polis, Aliquippa, in six rounds. They weighed 162.

Ross Fields, Weirton, W. Va., won the decision over Jimmy Thomas, Pittsburgh, 115, in six rounds, and Young Thomas, Washington, fought a four-round draw with Joe Clark, Canonsburg, at 132 pounds.

McFADDEN STOPPED

Jimmy Kirkpatrick, 137, New Castle, and Johnny Simpson, 137, Jamestown, N. Y., fought a six-round draw.

Mickey Solmen, 152½, New Castle, knocked out Jack Schoendorf, 155, Jamestown, N. Y., in the fifth round, and Indian Tiger West, 161, of Cleveland, won a decision over Harry Fuller, 164, Niagara Falls, in 10 rounds.

EDDIE SHEA WINS

Eddie Anderson, of Moline, won all the way from Mike Dundee, of Rock Island.

FRIEDMAN VICTOR

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Al Friedman, Boston heavyweight, gained a decision over Bud Gorman, of Wisconsin, last night in a listless 10-round bout which the more experienced and heavier Gorman refused to take seriously. Friedman sought to make a fight of the affair, but Gorman, 25 pounds heavier than the Boston-

Dreyfuss Speaks At Dinner of Amen Corner

Baseball was the topic on which a merry evening was spent last night by the members of the Amen Club at the monthly dinner held in their rooms in the William Penn Hotel.

The principal address of the night was given by Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pirates. The affair was held in honor of the local baseball officials, Treasurer Sam Dreyfuss and Secretary Sam Watters also making addresses during the evening.

The Pittsburgh magnates painted a nice picture so far as baseball for next summer is concerned. All held the opinion that the Pirates will be a winning ball team. Manager Jewel Ens was highly commended by his employer.

Luke Barnett provided the fireworks of the evening.

IOWA TO MAKE NEW PLEA

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—With its second petition for reinstatement into the good graces of the Western Conference ready for presentation to the faculty committee on athletics December 7, the University of Iowa may find the committee unprepared for action.

Prof. James Paige, of Minnesota, appointed last June to head a special committee to investigate not only the Iowa case but athletic conditions in other Big Ten schools, last night said his group, which included Prof. Thomas E. French, of Ohio State University, and the late Prof. George Goodenough, of the University of Illinois, had not met and would not have a report ready when the faculty committee meets in Chicago.

Iowa athletic officials showed no surprise when they learned of Prof. Paige's statement and said they would go ahead with plans to present the petition asking reinstatement to competition with other schools. They planned to send a brief of their case to each member school before the December 7 meeting.

RANDALL BEATS JACK ZIVIC AT GARDEN

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Jack Zivic, of Dormont, the erstwhile Lawrenceville Bearcat, demonstrated two things last night when he lost a 10-round decision to Tiger Joe Randall, Negro rival, of Elizabeth, Pa., in the main bout at Motor Square Garden. One is that his best fighting days are well behind him and the other that he still appeals to the imagination of the fans, for he drew one of the largest gates of the unusually good season at the Garden, the arena being comfortably filled.

Three knockouts in short order marked the preliminaries, setting a new record of seven consecutive knockouts in the Garden ring, all of last week's four bouts having ended in technical knockouts.

RODGERS STOPS ADELMAN

Jackie Rodgers, Negro bantamweight, of the North Side, turned in his third consecutive knockout in the scheduled eight-round semi-final, when he punched Davy Adelman, of Philadelphia, dizzy in the first round and continued the assault until he sent him down for the count in the second. Adelman was counted out as he got up and reeled into a neutral corner. He apparently could have beaten the count, but didn't want to, having taken enough punishment for one evening. In his two most recent starts at the Moose Temple, Rodgers, who is fighting his way back to main bout estate in no uncertain manner, stopped Carl Cavelli and Pete Mazzeo in three rounds each. The once formidable Adelman was merely a punching bag for him last night. The second round lasted 1 minute, 37 seconds.

The second bout, between Johnny Haggerty, of Lawrenceville, and Sammy Paris, of the Hill, was stopped by Referee Al Grayber at the end of the second round because of a bad cut over Paris' left eye. Paris protested the action, but was overruled.

James J. Braddock Loses Ground As Fighter

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—James J. Braddock, who only a short time ago fought Tommy Loughran for the world light-heavyweight title, has come down the fistic ladder so far that he has agreed to headline the weekly boxing program at the Ridgewood Grove Club one week from next Saturday night. His opponent will be selected later.

TARTANS OFF TONIGHT FOR N. Y. U. TILT

By JESS CARVER

Wally Steffen

The final sortie of the Tartans, beginning tonight, will be a rugged one for the Plaid. New York U. is laying back with a club in each mitt, awaiting the appearance of the Scotchmen in Manhattan, and you can bet your final mortgage that Southern Cal isn't going to make the afternoon an enjoyable one on the fourteenth.

TECH PARTY LARGE

There will be 43 persons in the Tech party entraining tonight, including 31 athletes and a dozen other guys, necessary adjuncts to a football team. This odd dozen includes trainers, managers, coaches, newspapermen and a couple water buckets.

The Skibo party will strike New York tomorrow morning and is to be quartered at the Pennsylvania Hotel. A workout will be staged by the ambitious athletes in the afternoon at the Polo Grounds. There will be other workouts staged later in the day, which will probably be non-athletic in character.

PITT AT WORK

Dr. Sutherland gave his Pitt Panthers a workout yesterday afternoon, starting preparation for the game with Penn State. It looks as though this contest would be the last for Pitt, as the athletic council has put the kibosh on the proposed post-season game in New York for the Milk Fund and as reports from California indicate that Pitt will NOT be invited out for the Tournament of Roses game.

The Panthers are not losing sleep over Penn State, but they are not taking the Lions any too lightly, either. The stage certainly is set for an upset, what with the locals riding along unbeaten and Penn State struggling to keep its nose above the 50-50 mark. And besides, it has been so long since Penn State beat Pitt that you have a heck of a time convincing anyone that they actually ever did.

LOOK OUT, JACKETS!

The close 7-6 victory scored by the Dukes over Haskell Saturday simply went to make it tough for Waynesburg. The Jackets meet the local Irish here Wednesday evening in the finale of the year for Elmer Layden's boys.

I imagine that Duquesne's line will receive some special attention this week, for it certainly looked as though it needed some

JACKETS HERE TONIGHT

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Nov. 26—An invitation extended by Duquesne University authorities to the Waynesburg College football team practice at Forbes Field tonight has been accepted by Yellow Jacket authorities who have made arrangements to take the team to Pittsburgh late this afternoon as the final preparation for the Duquesne-Waynesburg game there tomorrow night.

Inasmuch as the Duke contest will be the first night football game for members of the Waynesburg team, Coach Frank Wolf is especially anxious to have his men work out under the actual conditions before engaging in an actual combat in artificial light. The practice at Forbes Field today will be only a light drill for the Jackets and will consist for the most part of kicking, receiving punts and passes and other work of this nature.

MAXIE LOSES

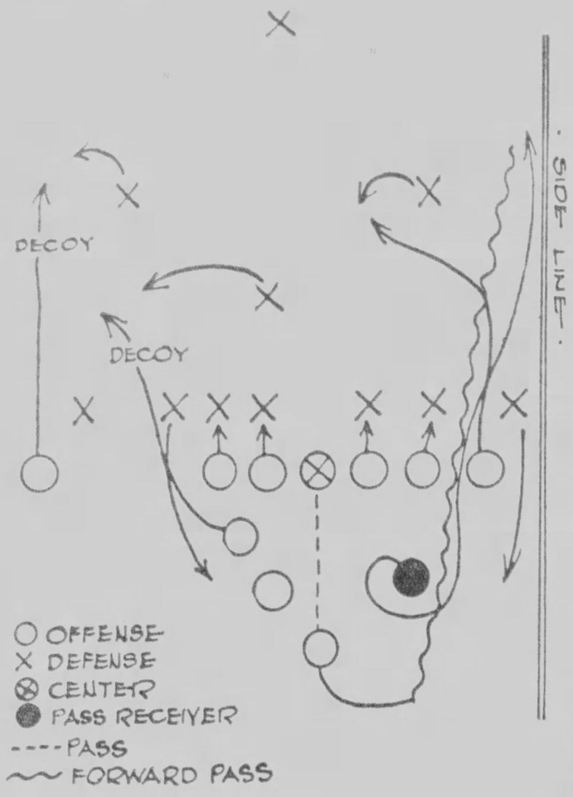
Football Strategy

By Howard Harpster

All-America Quarterback, 1928

(Note.—Harpster, as the quarterback of the Carnegie Tech eleven last fall, gained national recognition as one of the most brilliant leaders of all time in the football realm. Experts hailed him as "the player with the mind of a coach." He captained the All-East team that defeated the All-West team in California at the end of the season and was generally picked as captain of the mythical all-America selections.)



NO. 25—GOOD SIDELINE PASS PLAY

THE left end has laid out wide from the preceding play, and, if he is not detected, the pass is thrown to him. If he is seen, however, he runs down the field as a decoy. Right end goes down and draws the halfback in. Halfback hesitates and then runs down the sideline for the pass. Left half also acts as a decoy and it is because of these decoy players that the pass is so effective.

GOODMAN BEATS REED

TOLEDO, Nov. 26. — (AP.) — Joey Goodman, Cleveland lightweight, won a newspaper decision over Jimmy Reed, Tampa, Fla., in 10 rounds here last night. Reed was floored for the count of nine in the first round.

K. O. Morgan, 119, Toledo, won in six rounds from Frankie Ferris, 124½, Detroit, and Tony Lombardo, 150½, Toledo, outscored Joe Tarzan, 159, Columbus, in eight rounds.

WRIGHT STOPS SAYERS

OMAHA, Nov. 26 — (AP.) — Bearcat Wright, Omaha Negro, knocked out Tom Sayers, Detroit heavyweight, in the second stanza of a scheduled 10 round bout here last night, with Jack Dempsey, former champion, the third man in the ring. The crouching Negro sent Sayers down twice before the latter stayed floored for the count.

JACK MALONE KAYOED

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Lou Terry, St. Louis, lightweight, knocked out Jack Malone, of Augusta, Ga., in the third round of a scheduled 10 round boxing contest here last night. Malone substituted for Tony Pellegrino, of New York, who declined to box, it was announced, because of the small attendance.

Moan Baumgartner, Fort Wayne, Ind., welterweight, knocked out Al McCoy, of St. Louis, in the second round.

COHEN FOULED

A. A. OWNERS MAY ADOPT CARD TODAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—American Association club owners took a recess last night from their annual meeting without having been able to agree upon the 1930 schedule question, and went back into session this morning.

President Thomas J. Hickey indicated the league again would adopt the 168-game schedule, although several owners held out for 154 games.

The 1929 championship officially was awarded to Kansas City, and a resolution congratulating the club on its victory over Rochester, of the International League, in the Little World Series was adopted.

State Grads Hold Smoker Tomorrow

The greatest gathering of former Penn State football stars in Pittsburgh will be held at the annual smoker and reunion tomorrow evening, when the Pittsburgh Penn State Club will act as host to the alumni and friends of Penn State.

Harry Robb, a former Peabody High School graduate and later one of the outstanding quarterbacks of Penn State, together with Casey Jones, both members of the Penn State team, which defeated Pitt in 1919, have been appointed as a committee by H. C. (Irish) McElvaine, chairman of the general committee in charge of the smoker, to get in touch with all former letter men of Penn State in the Western Pennsylvania district.

has a budding young heavyweight of his own, by the way, whom he intends to introduce to the public in about six months.

The protege of the old champion is Al Morrow, of Burbank, Cal., where Jim owns a ranch. He is of Italian extraction, 21 years old, stands 6 feet 1½ inches and weighs 195 pounds. Jeff himself is training the boy on the ranch according to old-school methods, one feature of which is to make him do from 10 to 15 miles a day on the road.

Jim Jeffries

DISCUSSING the fighters of his own day, Jeffries hands the palm to the late Bob Fitzsimmons. "Fitzsimmons was the greatest fighter that ever lived," he says. "Bob could have knocked out Gene Tunney in four rounds, and he could have knocked out Jack Dempsey the first time he hit him. Tom Sharkey was the most courageous battler I ever encountered in the ring. As for the middleweights, I think Tommy Ryan could have licked Mickey Walker and Ace Hudkins easily." Asked what he thought of the fighters of today as compared with the old-timers, Jeff replied: "They're like the beer—and that's near."

THE announcement today of the release of Sparky Adams by the Pirates to the Cardinals caused no surprise in local baseball circles, as it had been known for some time that the little infielder would not be retained here. As a matter of fact the dickering dated back to September, when, after Pittsburgh had refused to waive on Watty Holm, and St. Louis had declined to waive on Adams, Bill McKechnie and Branch Rickey came here to try to arrange a trade to be put through at the end of the season.

When the Pittsburgh club obtained Shortstop Engel by draft last month the management decided it would have no use for Holm. It was found impossible to get any player of quality in exchange for Adams, so as St. Louis still refused to waive on him his sale to the Cardinals was finally arranged. Sparky played good ball here for a time, but was a disappointment last season. His release, following that of Pete Scott a year ago, leaves the Pittsburgh club without either of the two players obtained in the trade with the Cubs for Kiki Cuyler after the 1927 race.

Erie Academy Team To Meet Southerners

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Refreshed by more than a week's rest, Academy High gridders are on their way to Augusta, Ga., where they will tackle Richmond High in an intersectional contest. The Blue and Gold delegation, about 25 strong, will arrive in the southern city late tonight, and will have all of tomorrow to recuperate from the long journey and for some practice.

Intersectional competition is not new for the Lions. They have played three games with Atlanta Technical High and are scheduled for a game in Atlanta next year.

HARVARD GRID STAR OUT OF DANGER

Infirmary officials said he was "still comfortable" and "out of danger."

Harding, whose home is in Hubbardwood, Ill., was injured shortly after he had entered the game in the fourth period. It was not until several hours later, however, that the seriousness of the injury was learned and an operation performed.

KNICKERS MEET FALCONS

By JULIUS LEVIN

The South Side Falcons will seek undisputed possession of first place in the West Penn League tonight when they invade Forresters Hall, Lawrenceville, to engage the revamped Knickerbockers in the Strippers' opening battle.

The Falcons last night opened the season by defeating the Young Men's Hebrew Association quintet, 36-30, while the Ray Schneiders, of the North Side, were winning from Kingsley House, 32-18. As a result, the two teams are tied for the lead.

Only one game is scheduled tonight, but it should prove a thriller from start to finish. The Falcons have one of the best clubs in the loop, and they will be out to get revenge for some of the defeats handed them last year by the Knickers. The Knickers won the league championship in 1928.

W. C. Kennedy, manager of the Knickers, has made preparations to handle a large crowd at the home inaugural.

CELTICS TRIP ROSIES, 17-13

By Special Correspondent.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26.—In the American Pro League basketball lid-lifter here last night, the New York Celtics, former world champions, nosed out the Rosenblums, last year's champion, 17 to 13, in a game where the defense sparkled throughout. More than 5,000 fans witnessed the thrilling contest prior to which the members of the Rosenblum five were given diamond studded watch charms in lieu of their victory last season.

Henry (Dutch) Dehnert, of Cleveland, recognized as the outstanding player in the game, played throughout with a sprained ankle, and the Rosies were unable to progress.

Holman and Banks, each dribbled into the basket in the last two minutes and registered field goals after Dickerson had tied the count at 13. Skurnick, who was disqualified before the game had passed the half-way mark, featured with the best play of the game when he took Dehnert's perfect pass, cut around and shot the goal with his opponent hanging all over him. Other high spots were brilliant shots by Banks, Barry and Lapchick. The lineup:

Rosenblums.		Celtics
Dehnert	R. F.	Banks
Skurnick	L. F.	Beckman
Lapchick	C.	Meehan
Barry	R. G.	McIlvain
Husta	L. G.	Holman

Substitutions—Dickerson for Skurnick, Crimmins for Meehan, Ricenda for Holman. Field goals—Skurnick 2, Dickerson 1, Lapchick 1, Barry 1, Banks 2, Beckman 1, Holman 2. Fouls—Rosenblums 3 out of 9, Celtics 6 out of 10. Outstanding player—Banks. Disqualified—Skurnick, Meehan, Holman. First half score—Rosenblums 8, Celtics 9. Professional rules, 20 minute halves. Referee—Pete Sinnott.

Kid Chocolate, In Love, to Wed Cuban Girl

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Kid Chocolate is in love, and in that state one sometimes does queer things. He intends to be married as soon as he returns to his native Havana in December, and he is thinking about breaking the old friendly and business ties that bind him to Luis Guiterrez, his Cuban manager.

It was this rebellious spirit, not eased by a heavy cold, which prompted him to seek an out from his fight schedule for last night with Eddie O'Dowd. But after a heart-to-heart chat with his manager he consented to meet O'Dowd tonight, cold or no cold.

"Well, I'll fight O'Dowd," said the kid after yielding to Guiterrez, "but that will be all. I go home after this fight. I get married to the best girl in Cuba, then—well, I dunno. She will be the boss and I do what she say."

Camels have made smoking a national pleasure!

The increasing popularity of smoking in the United States exactly parallels the growth of Camel Cigarettes. Camel has given smokers a cigarette of genuine quality . . . a marvelous blend of choicest tobaccos . . . mild, fragrant, satisfying. This is the quality that smokers depend upon, and they can rest assured it will never be sacrificed. Taste in smoking, as the real pleasure of smoking is experienced, leads directly to Camel quality.

WITTENBERG QUITS BUCKEYE LOOP

RESIGNATION UNANIMOUSLY ACCEPTED

COLUMBUS, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Wittenberg College, of Springfield, O., withdrew from the Buckeye Intercollegiate Athletic Association at its annual meeting last night because of alleged unjustified attacks made by other members of the association.

The withdrawal was accepted unanimously by the other schools and the Big Six was reduced to the Big Five.

The action came as the result of a storm that has been brewing for more than a year following the publication of confidential criticism of certain athletic practices within the association made by O. C. Bird, athletic director at Ohio University. Although no particular school was mentioned, Wittenberg and others generally assumed that it was directed against the Springfield college. The most weighty charge was that of subsidizing football players.

Wittemberg officials vehemently denied the charges and declared that the standard of athletics at their institution was on a par with any other school in the association. But the controversy smouldered and broke out in a fresh attack against Wittenberg a few weeks ago.

The consequence was a recommendation from the Wittenberg Athletic Board to the faculty that immediate steps be taken for withdrawal from the association. The Springfield delegate came to the B. A. A. meeting prepared to fight it out, but the only announcement forthcoming after the meeting was that Wittenberg had quit the association and that their withdrawal had been unanimously accepted.

Officials of the other five schools, Ohio University, Ohio Wesleyan, Dennison, Miami and Cincinnati drew up their football schedules for 1930 and went home. They announced that no other school would be sought for Wittenberg's place and that the association would continue to function with five members.

TECH LEAVES FOR EAST

Speaking of all-Americans, Chick Saunders, who comes close to being one himself, tells me that Harry Goldstein, the well known fiddler, is the champ deuces wild player of the burg.

"But," says Mr. Saunders, "Goldy better dig up a new racket if they ever take the deuces out of the deck. He'll be sunk."

Some of the edge will be taken off the Army-Notre Dame game Saturday by the absence from the sidelines of Knute Rockne. The Irish coach did not go to Chicago last week to see his Ramblers play Northwestern, and his physicians do not intend to allow him to make the trip to New York.

The ticket situation for this game is so tough that they are selling standing room in Times Square.

Fight Results

At Motor Square Garden—Tiger Joe Randall defeated Jack Zivic, 10 rounds; Jackie Rodgers knocked out Davy Adelman, 2 rounds; Johnny Haggerty won by technical knockout over Sammy Paris (bout stopped by referee because of cut eye), 3 rounds; Tiny O'Neil knocked out Ken Harley, 3 rounds.

At Buffalo—Jimmy Slattery defeated Maxie Rosenbloom, 10 rounds.

At Philadelphia—Johnny Jadick knocked out (technical) King Tut, 8 rounds; Eddie Caesar knocked out Charley Daly, 1 round; Al Rowe defeated Joe Miller, 6 rounds; Hy Diamond won on foul from Henri De Wancker, 9 rounds; Vidal Gregorio lost on foul to Pablo Blanco, 10 rounds.

At Washington, Pa.—Battling Gizzy defeated Ray Collins, 10 rounds; Harry Spencer defeated Nick Pohs, 6 rounds; Joe Walcott and Roger Brooks drew, 6 rounds; Ross Fields defeated Jimmy Thomas, 6 rounds; Young Thomas and Joe Clark drew, 4 rounds.

PIRATES MEET CANADIENS TONIGHT

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—The Pittsburgh Pirates, whose scoring average is higher than that of any other club in the National League, arrived here today to make their 1929-30 season bow to local ice fans, in a game with Les Canadiens at the Forum tonight.

In four games with the local Flying Frenchmen last season the Pittsburghers scored only one goal and failed to win a game, but the records indicate that Frank Frederickson, the Bucs' new pilot, has given the visitors real scoring power, and Les Canadiens are primed for a real battle.

BUCS FAVORED

Statistics on recond games indicate that the Pirates should be regarded as slight favorites. The Maroons beat the Pirates, 5-2, and downed Les Canadiens, 5-1. Against Toronto, the Pittsburgh skaters scored 10 goals and the locals were extended to win by 3-2.

A recent injury to one of the Pirate stars may work to the advantage of the locals tonight, for Herb Drury, veteran center who sustained a badly sprained wrist in the clash with the Rangers in Pittsburgh Saturday, did not accompany the Bucs here. Bud Jarvis, who won great renown here as an amateur, will be at left wing and Jerry Lowrey will be moved to Drury's position at center, Manager Frederickson announced. The lineup:

Canadiens.	Pos.	Pirates.
Hainsworth	G.	Miller
S. Mantha	R. D.	McCaffrey
Burke	L. D.	MacKinnon
Morenz	C.	Frederikkson
Wasnie	R. W.	Darragh

Spares—Canadiens: Mondou, Leduc, Lepine, Larochelle, Fraser, G. Mantha. Pirates: White, Jarvis, Lowrey, Briden, Barton, Smith.

Haggerty, who had a lot of height and reach on his opponent, easily carried the two rounds that were fought, despite the fact that Paris got away with a lot of unnecessary and deliberate mugging.

The opening bout, between Tiny O'Neil, Steubenville heavyweight, and Ken Harley, Negro, of Wilmerding, both knockout victims of George Panka, was a riot of longshoreman fighting while it lasted, which was until Harley, badly fatigued, went down under a light left jab in the third round and curled up for the count. Up to the time he dropped, he appeared to be in even better shape than O'Neil and had a shade the better of the going. The final round lasted 1 minute 59 seconds.

RANDALL HURTS HAND

Zivic won only two rounds, the sixth and ninth, and held his own in the eighth, against Randall, who injured his right hand, with which he does his best punching, as early as the fourth round and was forced to handle that maulie with care thereafter. He rarely sent it home anywhere except to the soft part of the body. It was an earnest, hard-fought battle, though, with both men doing their best throughout, and a relief from the stalling tactics of out-of-towners who come here to bilk the fans.

Zivic lacked his old punch and speed, but displayed his old ability to take a punching and gameness in carrying the fight to his opponent. He never quit giving the fans a run for their money and at times offered them a flash or two of his old form. He had them standing up and cheering madly with a wild rally starting the final round, but he couldn't keep it up and Randall came from behind to carry the frame. There were no knockdowns, but Zivic fell back off balance to go down in a sitting position in the first round. The decision in favor of Randall was unanimous.

RAY SECONDS ZIVIC

Zivic, who was seconded by Johnny Ray and Bill Heckman, weighed 145 pounds and Randall 145½ at 3 p. m. Rodgers scaled 121 and Adelman 119½; Haggerty 123 and Paris 122½, and O'Neil 202 and Harley 196.

Al Grayber and Red Robinson alternated as referees, with Grayber handling the windup and the second bout. The judges were Frank Brown and Jim McLaughlin, the timer A. C. Couch and the announcer Bill Schuster. Tommy Freeman, of Erie, was introduced with the announcement that he would meet a worthy opponent in the main bout next Monday night.

Between Rounds

Maxie Strub, Erie lightweight, makes his Eastern debut against Al Hadjoff at the Philadelphia A. A. tonight. Bobby Gene Moretti and Tommy Grissom are on the same card.

Dan Bibby, Dundee featherweight, is back home from a rest sojourn on a farm near Cleveland and plans to leave for New York after Thanksgiving Day. He may establish himself with a new manager in the big town.

Moe Grossman, local featherweight boxer who has been campaigning around Detroit recently, is home for a visit with his folk on the Hill and may show here shortly.

Chicago has three boxing shows listed this week. Eddie Shea and Babe Feleo headed a card last night. Les Mariner and George Hoffman top a show for Jack Dempsey in the Coliseum tonight, and Tuffy Griffiths and Paulino Uzcudun do their stuff at the Stadium Friday night. Herman Weiner, Baltimore heavyweight, boxes Paul Pantaleo, of Chicago, in a four-rounder on tonight's card.

There is talk of matching Roger Bernard of Paris, Me., conqueror of Phil Goldstein here and Tony Herrera at Flint with Kid Chocolate in Detroit, where Bernard defeated Al Greenfield last Friday night. Although he has been boxing lightweights as a regular thing, Bernard can come in under 130 pounds.

Willie Davies and Gene Hiat, the French star, both eliminated by Black Bill in the New York flyweight tournament, will meet in the Canadian eliminations in Toronto, next Monday night.

Young Corsey, of Carton, O., and Ken Harbraves, of New Kensington, have been matched to box the semi-final to the Tom Maico-Hans Roberts bout at the Moose Temple Friday night.

Ted Morgan, junior lightweight champion, meets Eddie Mack for the third time at Los Angeles tonight. It will be a non-title match. Mack won a decision and a draw in the first two meetings of the pair.

BASKETBALL RULES QUIZ

(This is the second of a daily feature which will take the basketball fans and players through a series of 24 problems such as may come up in any of the big games this winter. A better understanding of the great indoor game will be gained by following this series.)

PLAY NO. 2.

The Nebraska coach sends in Fisher and Jensen as substitutes at the same time in a game against Kansas. Before a play starts, Fisher talks to Jensen and the Kansas captain calls the attention of the referee and claims a foul.

What is the correct ruling?

ANSWER.

The referee rules that no foul has been committed. One would have been called had either of the incoming substitutes communicated with a player already in the game.

PENN HARRIERS CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Harry Richardson and Francis Lindsay, teammates and seniors at the University of Maine, ran home ahead of a big field yesterday to finish in a voluntary dead heat for the Eastern Intercollegiate cross country championship and set a new record for the Van Cortlandt Park course.

MICHIGANDERS SECOND

The University of Pennsylvania, placing five men in the first 27, captured team honors with a point score of 62. Michigan State was second with 81 and Bates College third with 98. Syracuse was fourth, Maine fifth and Penn State, the defending champion, sixth, in a record turnout of 19 full teams.

Never before in the 21-year history of the event did the six-mile varsity chase result in a tie. The winner's time was 30 minutes 6 seconds.

Nearly 100 yards behind the Maine pair as they crossed the line hand in hand came Lauren Brown, of Michigan State, followed closely by a teammate, Clark Chamberlain. Joe Hagen, of Columbia was fifth, while in sixth and seventh positions were Bill McKniff and Carl Coan, members of the Pennsylvania freshman team of last year.

FROSH SET RECORD

Another course record was shattered in the three-mile freshman chase when Joseph McCluskey of New Britain, Conn., running for Fordham, finished in 14 minutes 47 seconds—24 seconds faster than the winning time of last year.

The 10 leading varsity finishers:

Position.	Name and College.	Time.
1—Frances C. Lindsay, Maine		30:06
2—Harry L. Richardson, Maine		30:06
3—Lauren Brown, Michigan State		30:25
4—Clark S. Chamberlain, Mich. State		30:53
5—Joseph W. Hagen, Columbia		30:55
6—William McKniff, Pennsylvania		30:43
7—Carl A. Coan, Pennsylvania		30:44

10—J. L. Montgomery, Pennsylvania		30:51

GUS REINSTATED

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Gus Sonnenberg announced here yesterday he had complied with the order of the Illinois Athletic Commission to post a $2,500 forfeit to give any grappler that body named a chance to wrestle for his heavyweight mat title. The Illinois Commission, Sonnenberg said, intends to supervise a wrestling tournament in that state and compel the champion to wrestle the winner. The Illinois body has reinstated him in that state as a result of posting the forfeit, he asserted.

Marsters to Act As Coach in Last Game

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 26.—(AP.)—Al Marsters, still the East's highest football scorer, yesterday rejoined the Dartmouth varsity football squad as it prepared to leave for Atlantic City to complete its training for Saturday's clash with the Navy at Philadelphia.

Marsters, however, will have less chance of playing against the Midshipmen than any of the 27 subs who will accompany the regular players. His back, injured in the Yale game, is encased in a metal brace. He was accorded the trip by the Dartmouth athletic council, to enable him to end his college football career sitting as one of the Green's coaching staff.

FREDERICKSON TOPS HOCKEY SCORERS

MONTREAL, Nov. 26. (AP.)—The first official scoring figures issued this year by the National Hockey League give an indication of the power of goal-getting in this season's style of play. The individual leader is the Canadian section plays for the group leader Ottawa, while three members of the Boston Bruins, leaders of the American Group, are near the top of that section.

Hector Kilrea, Ottawa left winger, has shot 10 goals and assisted in two to head both divisions. Behind him come Aurel Joliat, of Montreal Canadiens, and Kilrea's able assistant from the Ottawa defense, Frank (King) Clancy with eight points each. Dave Trotter, former Olympic star, is third with seven points.

The American Group leader is Frank Frederickson, player-manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He has scored three goals and aided in six more for a nine-point total. Dutch Gainor and Cooney Weiland of Boston trail him with one point. Gainor with five goals and three assists and Weiland with four of each. Another Bruin, Dit Clapper, is in a six-way tie for third place with six points. Others are Art Somers, of Chicago, the only recruit to gain a place among the leaders. Bill Cook, New York Rangers, George Hay, Detroit, and Vic Ripley and Mush March, Chicago.

Marty Burke, the Irishman who leads the defense for Les Canadiens, tops the penalty list with 19 minutes spent on the bench. Happy Day, of Toronto, and Alex Smith, Ottawa, each have been in the "cooler" for 16 minutes. Eddie Shore, the Boston bad man, and Fred (Bun) Cook, left-winger of the New York Rangers, leads the American Group in penalties with 16 minutes each. The leaders in the offensive section follow:

Golfers' Expense Payments Banned

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—The executive committee of the United States Golf Association by unanimous vote has declined to approve payment of expenses of players representing state or sectional teams. This decision was made public unexpectedly today following a hearing on the issue recently.

Under the policy of the U. S. G. A., expenses of amateur golfers may be paid or contributed to in connection with only three competitors, Walker Cup matches, public links championship and college golf teams.

"The committee believes that the best interests of the game require strict enforcement of the present amateur rules and not the creation of further exceptions," said a statement issued by Prescott S. Bush, secretary, in the form of a letter to member clubs of the U. S. G. A.

Dixie Gas Reports Big Gain in Profit

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

DIXIE Gas and Utilities Company continues to show profits far in excess of a year ago. The addition of new customers and the expansion of lines into new territories are becoming more apparent in both gross and net income.

In the 12 months ended September 30, the company reported net profits after expenses and interest, but before reserves for taxes, depreciation and depletion of $681,535. This was equivalent to $2.08 a share on the common stock. It compares with $210,724 or 37 cents a share in the 12 months ended September 30, 1928. Earnings per share have been computed on the basis of the present capitalization.

The detailed income accounts for the 12 month periods ending with September of this year and last year offer an impressive comparison. While total gross revenue increased 92 per cent, operating expenses increased only 65 per cent. This improvement in the operating ratio resulted in a gain of 130 per cent in net earnings from operations. After deducting interest charges and preferred dividends the amount available for the common stock showed a gain of 454 per cent.

Heavy Months Coming

SOME of the most recent expansion work will be reflected to a marked extent in the final months of this year and the early part of 1930. Seasonal demand for gas for domestic heating will then be at its peak.

Recent weeks have seen a marked increase in the installation of new meters. On November 16 the company had 3,450 more meters in service than on the corresponding day a year ago.

The company through its wholly owned subsidiary, the Richland Production Company, recently began to deliver gas under its contract with the Moody-Seagraves Gas Company, Inc., which will in turn deliver the gas to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, the Southern Natural Gas Corporation and the Dixie Gulf Gas Company.

St. Louis Line Finished

THE Mississippi River Fuel Corporation represents one of most important outlets for the Richland output of gas. This organization has practically completed a gas line to St. Louis at a cost of $30,000,000. Under the Moody-Seagraves contract Dixie's revenue will show a sharp increase when shipments to St. Louis are fully under way this winter.

Under the contract it has been estimated that Dixie Gas and Utilities will receive $1,179,000 over a period of two and a half years. This gain in revenue will be in addition to the growth in profits from Dixie's own distributing system.

Formed in 1927

DIXIE GAS and Utilities Company was formed May 19, 1927, to act as a holding company. Through its subsidiaries it furnishes the domestic gas requirements of 28 cities and towns in Eastern Texas, serving a population of about 195,000.

Within the past two months service has been started in six new towns. About three years are usually required to fully develop distribution of gas in a new territory so that Dixie's earnings can be expected to show continuous expansion for some time to come.

Dixie recently increased its common stock from 201,550 shares to 272,900 shares by offering stockholders of record August 31 rights to subscribe for one new share of common at $12.50 a share for every three shares held.

The company has a funded debt of $4,105,000 and 7 per cent preferred stock of $1,835,000 outstanding.

Vanadium-Alloys Orders $1 Dividend

The Vanadium-Alloys Steel Company declared a dividend of $1 a share, payable December 31 to stock of record December 20. In June the company paid a dividend of 75 cents and in July an extra of $1 was paid.

Roy C. McKenna, president, stated that the increase in the dividend was justified by surplus funds which the company had invested and by the earnings for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929. Estimated earnings for first four months of the current fiscal year are somewhat higher than those of the preceding year. "A moderate falling off of volume of sales may come," Mr. McKenna said, "but we are confident that any recession will not be severe or of long duration."

Weekly Loan Report Is Due on Friday

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The weekly meeting of the New York Federal Reserve Bank will be held tomorrow because of Thanksgiving holiday. The weekly figures on brokers' loans and Federal Reserve Board condition statement will be issued Friday.

EVENING SUN-TELEGRAPH MARKETS

Stock Prices Slip — Local Market Quiet

MARKET RUNS INTO HEAVY LIQUIDATION

Long List of Issues Sag 1 to 2 Points—Trading Volume Only Moderate

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—The stock market ran into a steady stream of selling today which carried a long list of issues down 1 to 12 points. Only a few stocks were able to move against the general trend, and these had difficulty in maintaining their gains. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume.

In the absence of any adverse news developments Wall street was inclined to attribute the selling to a resumption of "bear" attacks following the abandonment of the New York Stock Exchange's daily questionnaire demanding the name and amounts of stocks borrowed to cover short sales and the identity of the sellers. While this questionnaire was in effect, "bear" operations were rather restricted in character because of the possibility of some restrictive regulations to govern this selling.

COPPERS HEAVY

Coppers were heavy from the start on persistent but unconfirmed reports that producers were having difficulty in maintaining the 18 cents a pound price for the red metal, and that any reduction in the price might endanger the dividends of some producers. Wall Street heard a report that an order had been placed for 30,000 shares of Anaconda Copper at 75, and the stock held fairly well just above that level. National Lead dropped 6¼ points, Cerro de Pasco 4¼ and Calumet and Arizona 4.

Several more favorable dividend announcements were made during the day. Directors of the New Haven Railroad raised the annual rate from $5 to $6, a 5 per cent stock dividend was declared on Allied Chemical, an extra dividend of 25 cents was authorized on American Chicle common, and the annual rate on International Business Machines was raised from $5 to $6.

STEEL SUPPORTED

U. S. Steel was well supported around yesterday's closing price in the early trading, but the offerings became so large that the stock quickly dropped 5 points to 162⅛ or nearly 10 points below last week's high. Western Union dropped 12 points, Jersey Central 8, General Electric 7½ and Eastman Kodak, Auburn Auto, Allied Chemical, Southern Railway, Midland Steel Products preferred, A. M. Byers, Johns Manville, American and Foreign Power and Brooklyn Union Gas were among the many issues to sell down 4 to 5½ points.

Call money renewed at 4½ per cent and held steady at that figure. Heavy holiday demands for funds created a firmer undertone, however, loans in the outside market being quoted at 4 per cent as against a rate as low as 3 in the past few days.

BLAW KNOX CO. PAYS EXTRA

Blaw Knox Company has declared an extra dividend of 30 cents a share, payable December 23 to stock of record December 13.

Net profit after all charges for 1929 has been officially estimated at $3,700,000, which would be equivalent to $2.81 a share.

J. H. Louchheim, president of the Keystone Construction Company, of Philadelphia, has been elected a director, filling a vacancy on the board.

The company has an extensive expansion program under way at several of its plants. At Blaw Knox about $250,000 will be spent. The output of the Lewis Foundry and Machine Company is sold for the next four months and its plant is to be expanded. The business of the Union Steel Casting Company has been doubled in the past two months. Both of these companies were recently consolidated with Blaw Knox.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Fresh downturns in wheat values took place during the late dealings today, with rallies more than wiped ut. Much of the late pressure on the market came from wheat holders who were desirous of avoiding any ill effects of possible heavy deliveries on December contracts here. Relative slowness of export demand today for wheat from North America tended also to promote selling.

Will President Hoover Hasten Rail Rulings?

By B. C. FORBES

WILL President Hoover please prod the Interstate Commerce Commission into taking action on the important railway consolidation plans which have been before it far too long?

"The Interstate Commerce Commission has had up for the last six years the matter of a four trunk line system, and has spent millions of dollars in making a complete survey which, I understand, has been completed by a Mr. Porter and which has since been very carefully guarded and kept from the public.

"The proposed Baltimore and Ohio merger was scheduled to be heard in October of this year, and next the Chesapeake and Ohio were to have their hearing. All of this has been delayed for some unknown reason—probably politics.

"I believe that confidence could be instilled in the minds of investors in railroad shares and bonds by some definite and drastic move by the government to force action on the commission to carry out the intent of the transportation act."

ANOTHER interesting letter, from a lawyer:

"'I must be a piker,' a client remarked one day last July. 'At least my wife seems to think so, and I have felt for a couple of years that my children thought so.' Now, Bill, the vice president of an old-established concern, was far from being a piker, as I well knew from 20 years' association with him.

"'Why do you feel that your wife thinks you are a piker?' I asked.

"'Well, it's because she is always telling me how much money her friends' husbands are making in the stock market, and suggesting that I try it. My wife belongs to a couple of clubs, a bridge club and a charity club, and they seem to have a fine line of prosperity talk, all of which my wife swallows.

"'So this morning, when I told her that I was going to your office to close this real estate deal, she tells me that if I would quit fooling around with real estate and play the stock market, like her friends' husbands, that I would make big money and be somebody. That made me sore and I spoke my mind about the stories she was swallowing.'

"Many times since I have thought of what Bill said, and have come to the conclusion that Bill's case was not an isolated one. The idea of getting some easy money without work had assumed epidemic proportions and was extremely catching. I believe that the crash in the stock market will prove to be a real blessing. It was time for the people to get back to earth and to hard work."

FROM another reader, A. Wineburgh, comes this novel reasoning:

"Within a year you are going to hear people from all sides say: 'Like a fool, I disposed of my holdings and now they have shown their real worth, on which I based my judgment in the first instance, when I made my investment, and I did not know enough to hold on.'

Of course, there are some who did not have the money with which to hold on, and these are the ones that suffered.

"Admittedly, if you sold your stocks when they were at the peak, you would have realized a sum far greater than you could today—and if you had, what would you have done with the money? You would have bought some other stocks, perhaps not as good as those you have now, and the depreciation would have been as much as, or more than, in the stocks which you would have sold.

"Some people were smart enough to sell their stocks at the very highest, and bought them again at the very lowest—but I admit I never thought I was smart enough to do that. If I was smart enough to have sold out at the peak, I am sure I would have reinvested the money on the first 'break.'

"The market may still have a dip, perhaps two or three of them, but there is no question that it will come back."

CRYING over spilled milk is futile. If, as this reader points out, stocks had been sold at the top, the chances all are that the money would have been reinvested in other stocks.

The thing to do now is to cease profitless whining, accept what fate has decreed, roll up sleeves and go to work with redoubled energy.

New York Standard Unit in Merger

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 26.—Merger of White Eagle Oil and Refining Company with Magnolia Petroleum Corporation, latter a wholly owned subsidiary of Standard Oil Company of New York, is reaching the point where an announcement can be expected shortly. It is understood merger will be consummated on a share exchange basis through which stockholders of White Eagle will finally receive 8½ shares of Standard Oil of New York stock for every 10 shares of White Eagle held.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP.)—The curb market failed to shake off its lethargy today, largely induced by the four-day closing beginning Thursday, and leading shares again drifted moderately lower.

The market remained a professional affair, and traders were not disposed to accumulate stocks until after the holiday. The action of the curb governors, along with those of the "big board," in discontinuing the questionnaire regarding short positions, was regarded as indicating confidence in the renewed stability, but failed to inspire action.

The selling appeared to be largely the lightening of accounts in preparation for the holiday. The unsettlement in this market was aggravated by the reactionary tendencies on the "big board."

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list.)

Another link added to our Pittsburgh chain of company-owned stations--Second Ave. and Elizabeth Street, Hazlewood. Here you can get AMOCO-GAS and ORANGE AMERICAN GAS. And here you will get American Oil Company service--so popular with Pittsburgh motorists. Now under American Oil Company control, this station has been enlarged and its facilities improved so as to conform with the standards of our other stations throughout the city. All driveways have been concreted and widened, making it easy to drive in and equally easy to drive out. A hydraulic lift has been installed, giving complete lubricating service. To the motorists who live in this neighborhood and to the thousands that pass Second Ave. and Elizabeth Street every day, we extend an invitation to come in and get acquainted.

This Town of Ours

OF course, it will be vigorously denied, but the Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh's (Anne Morrow) anticipate a blessed event!!! . . . Alexander P. Moore, the former Ambassador to Spain, and Beth Levy, who has a mess of coin, are Keeping Company . . . The Robert (William) Glecklers (Norma Phillips) were secretly wed several months ago in Baltimore a tortuit ago, with Adelaide Kendall being the new heart . . . The reason Noel Coward, the 30 year old genius, is touring the world alone, is that he feared he was becoming conceited, he said, and wanted to broaden his mind . . . It's a boy at the Crane Walker's.

PARTED NOT APART

THE Ted Brees—Mae Clarke the new Mrs. Walker, who have parted as a result of the same Edward G. Robinson Claire Windsor—Lloyd Hughes pedicure—and we don't mean Jack Warburton . . . Rita Kaufman, of the Zukor tribe, has gone back to her husband . . . Macy's sold $7,000 worth of ladies' underwear in one day in these alleged hard-times . . . Morrow's Almanack for 1930 forecast the recent market break on page XIII . . . The Bobby Georges (Osth Band) Bonnets are trouble at the local Judge with Inez Good News" Courtney started as the new squaw . . . Which it was all predicted here six months ago. Mrs. Borzoi demanded a retraction . . . They always do.

The Chas. Schwartz' (he's the polo player) and she was Claire Mackay of Pittsburgh, anticipate a blessed event . . . Ditto the Sam Raphaelsons . . . Dorothy Ziegfeld Wegman and the D. Wittes' (Bernice Harris) . . . Peggy Joyce's most frequent orchid-purchaser is Sailing Bard B. Jr. . . . Jerry Kern, the ace of the true preparers, is being baited by Samuel Goldwyn . . . Helen Ford, the star, breaking into a new act in Brklyn, was treated abominably by the audience . . . All the Western Union branches in the financial sector have changed the combinations on their safes because of a recent robbery.

RUDE TO RUDY

HERB CRUIKSHANK shosted that Screen Book article signed by Rudy Vallee, which is why I. Hoffman calls the latter a "megaphoney" . . . Ben Bernie is on the seas homebound, sad as anything . . . Alex A. Aarons, the Dirty-Look Giver, begins work for the Paramount phirm, show business being what it is . . . Ring Lardner, one of our funnier clowns, has written a very sentimental ditty with the music from Harry Rosenthal's piano . . . Meyer Solmson, ex-managing editor of a New York newspaper, is now selling raincoats—which you wear when it rains . . . Frances Crossey, who has gone around with a lot of saps, is now going with "The Sap From Syracuse" . . . The Fred Bakers have a girl.

Recommended to diversion seekers: James W. Cain's "Citizenship" in the December Americanmerk . . . The tune "My Fate is in Your Hands" . . . Norman Angell's tome, "The Money Game" (it has a game in it, destined for popularity) . . . Ethel Water's canned version of "West End Blues" . . . Huneker's "Painted Veils," a grand thing . . . H. Liveright . . . Stuart Chase in the December Harpers . . . O. Soglow's sewer drawing in the New Yorker on page 32 . . . John Anderson's "Box Office" (Cape-Smith) . . . Grace Hayes at the Club Richman.

LOVE IN A FLAME

COL. HAYWARD'S little boy, Lee, and Dorothy Dickson, the former Mrs. Carl Hyson, are romancing in the blazing manner . . . Her Imperial Highness Grand Duchess Marie witnessed several unreleased films featuring stars at the Para stewdios and liked "Krazy Kat" best . . . Frank Morgan, the actor, whose white hair gave him that Distinguished Look, has dyed it black for his new show . . . The Benj. Glazers (he adapted "7th Heaven" for the screen) Are On The Verge . . . Walter Wanger, the Phamous Player exec got $50 from Harvard for making a speech there, but sent it back the dope! . . . Leopold Godowsky's son and Geo. Gershwin's sister, Frances, Go For Each Other.

Al E. Smith luncheons daily with strangers at the 35th and 5th Avenoo Childs . . . The Allan Saalburghs (Muriel King) are babybound . . . Have you autographed Lois ("Lipstick") Long's crutches yet? Preston Sturges, the author, says before he wrote the hit, "Strictly Dishonorable" he couldn't buy a suit of clothes . . . Now he is so busy writing his next, he still can't buy it . . . G. Pihodna avers that investors calling up their brokers these days do not say "Hello" but "How Low"

NOT SO NOSEY NOW

LEYLA GEORGIE, the original Charmaine in "What Price Glory," has had her nose clipped. The Princess Faucigny-Lucinge is a nice girl, and all that, but she wears her hats on the back of her head . . . Capt. Frank Hawks, and not Roger Q. Williams got into the mess at Roosevelt Field for flying too low . . . Chester Erskin's real name is Eckstein . . . The man who presides at the Wilton (Conn.) town meetings is Thomas H. Beck, prez of Colliers . . . Abe Martin argues that it doesn't pay to be a gentleman any more, with the cavemen getting all the breaks.

The cops stopped Tashamara, the naked dancer, from torsing her torso at the Music Box Sunday night, reminding the management that it is against the law to dance peeled on the Sabbath . . . Any other day in the week is perfectly kosher . . . The Col. Aments (Lucy Cotton Thomas), who owned the N. Y. Morning Telegraph, have phfft! The Kip Rhinelanders are arm-in-arming it, under cover . . . Wonder why B. Mantle's book, "Best Plays of '29," snubbed "Three," which tottered at the Totten? . . . In his forthcoming Plain Talk Magazine book reviews, Burton Rascoe will reveal the prominent name of the heroine in Max Lief's Broadway novel.

UNSCRAMBLE THESE ANAGRAMBLES
DAILY ANAGRAM PUZZLES

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate" by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate". The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e".

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d," to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

Be rid of Dandruff
This easy way

YOU, too, can say goodbye to hair-worries, if you'll learn this simple method of caring for the hair. It is known to hundreds of stage and screen stars, used by thousands of women and girls, who haven't time for laborious methods.

Sprinkle a little Danderine on your brush tonight. Then as you brush your hair you'll feel the soothing, toning effects.

For over 30 years, specialists have recommended Danderine, to dissolve the crust of dandruff, stop falling hair, tone the scalp, encourage the hair to grow long, silky and abundant.

The first application gives your hair new life and lustre; makes it softer, easier to manage; holds it like you arrange it. Evidence beyond doubt proves the benefits of its regular use.

STOMACH TROUBLE?
"DIASTATIC DEFICIENCY" (failure to digest starches), causes more than one-half the cases of stomach trouble. Because of this deficiency, starchy foods remain in a semi-solid condition and refuse to move on as they should. This stoppage causes INDIGESTION, GAS, FERMENTATION, SOURNESS, SICK HEADACHE and other common troubles.
"TOO MUCH ACID" is the cause of almost all the remaining half of our stomach troubles.
ACIDINE is the FIRST COMPLETE REMEDY for STOMACH TROUBLE—an ANTI-ACID, STARCH DIGESTANT, MEAT DIGESTANT. Sold by your druggist under a money-back guarantee to help in YOUR case.

Peerless Crusader Sets Off Literary Skyrocket!

Today 'Colonel' Maple, author of 'Palaces of Sin' dashes off one of the most graceful sentences that ever dripped from a righteous pen. We present this jewel for your approval—

NOT many, in fact only a score or two, know how ruthlessly Ruth Willmore, of Michigan, was enticed by the glitter and glamour of society, up, up, up to the dizzy heights of this seemingly white and innocent marble shaft of society, which rears itself aloft, and by its treacherous light beguiles innocent girlhood of our fair land to mount to its heights, there to lose her virtue, honor, good name, in fact all that goes to make "woman" the emblem of innocence.

BROKEN-HEARTED GIRL FINDS HEALTH AND HAPPINESS AGAIN

"Before we came to America," writes Miss Julia Kachala, "I was always well and happy. We all lived together back in Roumania on a little farm outside the village. It was a 'rose farm,' where we grew the kind of roses used in making perfume. My father and brothers did most of the work but I helped, and so did my sisters. It was beautiful there, and in the spring the roses were so sweet you could smell them a long way off. Everything was pretty and people said I was pretty, too. I know I was plump and healthy. And sometimes crazy boys would say I looked just like one of our own big roses.

"After we came here I could not seem to get used to American ways, climate and food. I had to work indoors in the factory and the smoke and dirt and bad air soon broke down my health. I got catarrh. I coughed night and day, and my breath reeked with the bad catarrhal odor. My stomach was so poisoned with the catarrh that I could hardly eat. I grew thinner and paler all the time. Deep lines formed in my face. I was so lonesome I was broken-hearted. I took physics every night and other medicines, but none of them seemed to do me much good. Then a girl friend persuaded me to get a bottle of World's Tonic. This valuable new medicine brought me good results from the first dose. My system was thoroughly cleansed and I felt refreshed and strengthened. Soon the catarrhal sores healed. My stomach got well again and I had a hearty appetite. In a few weeks I was plump and rosy again like I used to be back on the rose farm in Roumania.

"Later I learned from the World's Tonic representative that World's Tonic is made from plants brought from different parts of the world. And it helps put back into the systems of European people, as well as Americans, the elements our bodies need, and which American life or American medicines don't seem to furnish. It's so wonderful for native born Americans, too."

World's Tonic is on sale at Dow's (formerly McCulloch's), also May's, and Mayflower stores and other modern drug stores. (B-30.)

FREE PROOF that you can relieve Acid Stomach with a Tasty Tablet

An upset stomach is often due to an excess of acid. There is a simple way to neutralize all this excess acid, and everyone who ever experiences any after-eating distress, any gas, or whose stomach ever pains or is sore, should know about Pape's Diapepsin.

These tablets neutralize the acid so quickly and completely! And they do nothing else. They do not affect the entire contents of the stomach, but they do dispose of the acid—the cause of nine-tenths of all "stomach trouble." Plans for Terminal Ready fter Long Preparation

At last a promise of action on the proposed river terminal for Pittsburgh! The plans are said to have been practically completed under the direction of Edward G. Lang, director of public works, and Charles M. Reppert, chief engineer of the department.

It is announced that Maj. Gen. Thomas Q. Ashburn, head of the Federal Inland Waterways Corporation, which operates the federal barge line, will arrive here tomorrow to look over the plans, which have taken more months—and years—to complete than anybody thought would be necessary, when the project first was announced.

There was hope that the long delayed details would be ready for announcement as a feature of the celebration of the completion of the canalization of the Ohio, but that event passed without information to the public on the matter.

Gen. Ashburn comes tomorrow at the invitation of Messrs. Lang and Reppert. He is expected to meet with shippers and to give advice relative to the proposed terminal, plans for which developed from a request by the Flood Commission of Pittsburgh and to Mayor Kline and Council three years ago for a wharf that would serve both rail and river interests and act as protection against floods.

$7,600,000 Bell Budget Is Answer to Pessimism

The announcement that the Bell Telephone Company is to spend $7,600,000 in Pittsburgh in 1930, including $3,000,000 for an addition to its central building, downtown, is good news but not unusual. Still it ought to cheer those who think the world is going to stand still because gamblers in stocks met the usual fate of gamblers.

Business cannot stand still, except in isolated cases, and for temporary adjustment. Every baby that is born means another future patron for the telephone company. It is because of the birth of babies who have reached maturity and now demand telephones that the company is expanding its plant. And because of those who will be born tomorrow it is trying to prepare a little for the future.

The telephone business is like any other—it cannot stand still. It must not be content to prepare merely for today only. You grow—your surroundings grow—all things grow. That means that business always goes on about as usual and that anything having a retarding effect can be only temporary.

Christmas Seal Drive Will Begin Wednesday

At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning bells of churches and schools throughout the city will symbolize the traditional chimes of yuletide as more than 25,000,000 Christmas seals are put into the mails by the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh. This annual appeal for funds for fighting "the white plague" will go to recipients of 128,760 letters containing 200 seals each.

The cheery Christmas seal has become definitely established as part of the institution over which Santa Claus presides. It costs but a penny, but the aggregate returns from this source are sufficient to carry on a great work, since the sales are in quantities instead of singly. In addition to the disposal of seals by mail there also will be direct sales from stands in public places.

Almost everybody can afford to spend a couple of dollars for Christmas seals, but those who cannot may buy smaller quantities and participate in a noble activity.

Drive Carefully

Live Longer.

Motor traffic is more dangerous than flying.

You think twice before you step into a plane. You think not at all when you step into a car.

To be killed in an airplane accident is still something of a novelty, whereas to be killed in an auto is merely a habit.

The careless driver can be punished after the smash, but that does not help his victim.

Once it was said that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

That saying should be amended to read "eternal vigilance is the price of LIFE."

But your chances of coming to grief are just ONE-HALF what they are when you are careless.

This Woman's World

"Leap Week" at Antioch College.

A further note on the emancipation of women comes from Antioch College, where an experiment called "leap week" has been tried with great success. During this week the co-eds not only took the initiative in making all social engagements, but paid the bills as well. Everybody seemed to enjoy the innovation, and dear old Antioch promises to have more leap weeks at intervals during the year.

This and kindred movements of the newer woman are inclined to inspire cheers from serious thinkers. But some of the rest of us cannot quite see why, in a woman's world, they should insist upon paying the bills. That is a tribute that the victors imposed, ages ago—an indemnity. If the women are not careful they will unwittingly emancipate man.

The tournament of financial hysteria has breezed over and the ostrich is all set to grow a new bouquet of pin feathers.

He has crocheted this list of questions and answers for future capers in the street:

Q. What is Wall street?

A. A stampede up a blind alley.

Q. What is a broker?

A. A man on the right end of the telephone.

Q. Does a joint account mean credit in a speakeasy?

A. No. But it's all the same in the morning.

Q. I have saved up another hundred dollars. What do you advise?

A. Silence.

Q. What do you mean by a bear?

A. After a bear gets through, faith, hope and charity are paupers picking each other's pockets.

Q. What do they mean by buying on margin?

A. That's the same thing as buying a coyote on the run. He's yours if you catch him.

Q. After I buy on margin, who takes the next step?

A. Your widow.

Q. What is selling short?

A. A broker, who hasn't got the stock, sells it to a customer who doesn't want it.

Q. What supports the market?

A. The public.

Q. What supports the public?

A. Crutches.

Q. What is a paper profit?

A. A paper profit is a bag without the peanuts.

Isn't It So?

Your efforts to please others will invariably afford you pleasure.

SNEERS, JEERS AND CHEERS

By Herbert Kaufman

AN army, fired with confidence, marches to the fray better than an enemy with outranging artillery—and HEAVIER hearts.

Zeal is far more potent than steel. A sword loses half its length when swung by doubt.

Caution is a greater danger than recklessness—if its price is inaction. Over-eagerness MAY send venture off at half-cock, to stall in mid-thoroughfare—but that's fifty per cent FARTHER than it will get, if over-conservatism holds the situation at a standstill.

Generals are recalled, managers are replaced, statesmen are retired as they fail crises and emergency. When they lose faith in their own judgments, they've gone bankrupt.

From that moment, they cease to be creative—they remember too much and dream too little; exaggerate obstacles and neglect to note exits; begin to acknowledge impossibilities and dull their outlooks on the sort of difficulties which ONCE honed their enthusiasms.

Hope is the yeast of courage—the only compass in the wilderness of hesitation. Determination demands no paths—it MAKES them.

Patience and pertinacity are twin forces against which no circumstance or opposition can lastingly stand. Cowards alone CONTINUE to be failures.

The sailors who reach lands beyond the charted seas, seldom ranked among the first navigators of the period.

Triumphs over common despairs have been oftenest consummated by die-hards, who preceded to establish the needed precedent when tradition could guide them no farther.

THEY looked upon contemporary rules simply as the expression of PRIOR, and therefore LIMITED, experience, and refused to accept them as final authority.

The majority mind is an incompetent agent of progress. Most of us are prone to measure values by our own short yardsticks, and dismiss as impractical, such theories and plans as superficially appear unreasonable or infeasable.

Humanity is slow to adopt revised habits of thought or work. The comforts, simplifications and visions to which civilization owes most were FORCED into reluctant acceptance.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

MODERN life makes Mrs. Hortense Rogers terribly uncomfortable. It's hard to realize that when you look at her. She's still fairly young—47—fashionably dressed, pretty, good-natured, but her pleasant smile covers a constant, secret misery.

The times are too swift for Hortense Rogers. They leave her panting.

When Hortense was a girl you could take your time about things. It was a slower world, physically and mentally. The streets weren't full of automobiles nor the sky of airplanes. You went to places in a buggy, and it took a long time. Just going seven miles to the next village meant something. And when you went 30 miles to the city for a week, it was a real event. Nowadays people do things so casually. Why, they scoot off to Russia or Africa as carelessly as though they were just stepping across the street.

Yes, folks moved slowly when Hortense was a girl—AND THEIR MINDS MOVED AS SLOWLY AS THEIR BODIES.

Minds, then, weren't used to quick changes or a flood of new notions and experiences. They jogged along, slowly, taking things in little by little. It was a serious business. Making Up Your Mind.

But nowadays you have to step lively, mentally and physically, or you're left out of the procession. And it's terribly hard, if you were born back in '82.

That's something Mrs. Hortense Rogers' children can't understand. There are three of them, all working, all in their early twenties, all Live Wires. And the amount of ground those youngsters cover in a day leaves their mother breathless. They think nothing of racing home from the office, leaping into evening clothes and dashing off to some party, 60 miles away. They tackle everything in that same spirit. . . .

It terrifies their mother. She can't keep up with them. She has the constant feeling that Something Awful's Going to Happen. This dashing about . . . without any preliminary planning or discussion . . . . this business of being always on the move . . . . She just HAS to think about things . . . get everything Just So . . . before she'll budge.

It drives her youngsters frantic. "F'r heavinsake, ma," they rave, "whatsa big fuss all about? You'd think you were making your last will 'n' testament. Why, you're just going for a week-end. Throw something in your bag and come along——"

But Mrs. Rogers can't, for the life of her, get the knack of just "throwing something into a bag and coming along." Life was a heavy, solemn performance in her youth. She can't see that the swift, easy movement of modern life really means progress. She views her children with fear. They view her with irritations.

That's why mothers who were born back in the 80's are having such a hard time now.

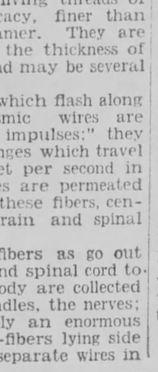
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

IN MAN and mouse the central nervous system has a close resemblance, but the brain of the man is far larger, more powerful, and intricate in its working. There centers the behavior of the creature as a whole. Whatever is least mechanical and anything there may be that is not mechanical in life, has its seat there. There it is we must face the problems of consciousness and the freedom of initiative.

We have already made use of a well-known comparison that of the nervous system with a telephone system—and it is important at the outset to see how far the analogy is true and how far it is misleading. What in the nervous system corresponds to the telephone wire? What exactly are the channels along which part communicates with part? To answer that question we must look into certain details of microscopic structure.



H. G. Wells

The cells of the nervous system differ from other cells in an important respect—their surfaces project into long, slender fibers of living substance.

A nerve-cell of the spinal cord has an irregular, star-shaped body, which is unusually large for a cell, and radiating away from this centre are a number of delicate protoplasmic arms (nerve-fibres) that spread and branch in the spinal cord.

One of these arms is longer than the rest; it leaves the spinal cord and runs along a nerve to some organ in a distant part of the body. The soft, pinkish tissue of the central nervous system consists entirely of such nerve-cells and their fibers, except for a little connective tissue to support them and bind them together, and these hundreds of millions of cells are the units—the clerks, so to speak, of the organization.

The telephone wires of the body, then, are living threads of astounding delicacy, finer than the finest gossamer. They are about one-tenth the thickness of a human hair and may be several feet long.

The messages which flash along these protoplasmic wires are called "nervous impulses;" they are physical changes which travel at about 400 feet per second in man. Our bodies are permeated by a network of these fibers, centering in the brain and spinal cord.

Such of the fibers as go out from the brain and spinal cord to the rest of the body are collected together into bundles, the nerves; a nerve is simply an enormous number of nerve-fibers lying side by side like the separate wires in a telephone cable, and bound together by a little connective tissue. As the nerve runs away from its root it branches, and the fibers begin to part company and disperse to their various destinations.

It is difficult to realize the full complexity of the nervous system. We will try by considering the control of the muscles as one only of the many sides of its activity.

The muscles that cause the wilful movements of man or mouse work under the direct impulsion of the central nervous system. To every muscle-fiber in a well-controlled muscle goes a nerve-fiber from a nerve-cell in that system and spreads out at last in a palm-like cluster of branches against its sides.

Every movement made by that muscle-fiber is due to an impulse coming from the associated cell in the brain or spinal cord. Every movement made by a muscle depends upon a nerve made up of innumerable fibers. But there is hardly a movement of the body that is not the outcome of the co-ordinated action of a number of muscles and hardly a moment of our waking life when we are not in movement.

But the activities of the central nervous system extend further than this; they include a supervision of resting muscles. When a muscle is passive it is not allowed to hang limp from its attachment, but is kept braced and ready for immediate action when called upon. In the language of the physiologist, it is in a state of slight partial contraction or tone.

This tone is due to impulses from the central nervous system, and if its nerve is cut the muscle loses its tautness and becomes slack and flabby Further, besides keeping the muscles keyed up, the central nervous system seems to exert an influence on their general health, for cutting the nerve causes a slow shrinking of the muscle, which, in the course of months or years, may even disappear and give place to a mass of connective tissue.

Sec 5. SENSATION AND THE SENSES.

If you could see the whole living web of the nervous system laid out before us, and if a nervous impulse was a visible thing, we should get a picture of continual thrilling and rippling activity.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—NewYork is shortly to be visited by the best known "man-about-town" of Paris. He is the spectacular Henri Letellier, publisher, sportsman, erstwhile Mayor of Deauxville, connoisseur of beautiful women and one of the leading financiers of France.

Much romantic mystery has been written about Letellier. He suggests the eagle with brooding hawk like expression, burning eyes and "sharp beak." His enormous nose has long been the delight of maligning caricaturists. He constantly surrounds himself with wits but rarely smiles.

Erskine Gwynne, the bubbling young American and so-called playboy of Paris, was Letellier's secretary and confidant until he launched his weekly magazine of American life in Paris—The Boulevardier. He perhaps knows him better than any one in France.

Letellier is nightly host at Ciro's and various leading cafes yet rarely drinks more than a sip of wine to respond to a toast. Once a month he entertains in his castle in the rue Spontini where, while most of his guests grow "vin triste," he sits glumly in the background.

He has married three spectacularly beautiful women. One moved in the exclusive circles of the Faubourg Saint Germaine. Another he married on her death bed in an isolated Swiss chalet. The third is the girl all Paris knows as Yola. The full name is Yola Henriquet.

She suggests the frothy gush of bubbling wine in contrast to her dourvisaged spouse. Her origin is the sort Paris discusses in whispers. Lorgnettes appraise her haughtily at the opera but she is the love of Letellier's life. He goes no place without her and is her worshipful slave.

Letellier is 55 and the son of a distinguished sire. He is the most noted authority in France on foods and wine. Slightly stooped and foppishly dressed, he resembles a withered marquis. He is said to spend two hours each morning in sartorial embellishments.

A certain gentleman recently decided the Manhattan aloofness that so irked him was largely his fault. He decided to remedy the situation by being all merry and bright and smiling and bowing to any person who gave him more than a passing glance. After two days, a corner policeman, who knew him, confided that two ladies had reported him as "getting fresh." So he has snapped back into his customary scowl.

The most friendly spot I ever found in the greater city was in front of a wide perched brick house along a boulevard in Brooklyn. After passing by several days in succession a group of ladies in rockers began bowing. The house is a retreat for aged people. And Verne Porter thinks they merely mistook me for one of the gang.

Several big establishments in New York, after experimenting with the five-day a week schedule for workers last summer, are convinced of its soundness and plan to make it permanent. A careful tabulation showed that greater efficiency and a larger output resulted.

One of the most successful sellers of short jokes in New York is a fellow who does not really need the money but enjoys the diversion. It is not a highly profitable calling but he has made as high as $60 a week. He is an executive with a firm of construction engineers and gives his punster profits to a worthy charity.

"I can understand," writes St. Louisan, "why an ex-Missouri scribuster such as you might go to the city and fall for a walking stick or even a sawed-off vest. But what in the world are the spats for?"

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

AS a village or small city resident, do you feel nervous and ill at ease when you are in a large city?

Are you so self-conscious that you imagine all eyes center on you?

Then do you make an effort to appear sophisticated? And in consequence attract attention to yourself and create the opposite impression to the one you wish to establish?

Unless you are very peculiar and dress in an unusual manner you will not be given any particular notice.

In your home town a new person is noticed right away. But in a city a stranger is merely a pebble among so many larger ones that he or she can escape notice.

You think yourself inferior to the city bred man. But if you show this you are likely to be victimized by those who are looking for just such individuals.

Forget yourself, be yourself and forget the other fellow!

You need not be a Smart Alec to act as if you were perfectly at home. That sort causes much amusement and you merely want to be unobserved.
